CONNOLLY DECLARES COHALAN CONFESSES

Justice's Reply Called a "Plea in Avoidance" and Breach of Legal Confidence.

DID NOT RETURN HIS FEES

These Amounted to Only $355 and Were Paid by Check—"Graft" Payments Made in Cash.

John A. Connolly, former close friend and associate of Supreme Court Justice Daniel F. Cohalan, replied last night in greater detail to the statement issued on Saturday by the Justice. Connolly denies that the $3,940 paid by him to Cohalan was for legal services. He asserts that he found Justice Cohalan too high-priced a lawyer, and that, after employing him in two cases, he engaged other lawyers, who charged him less.

Cohalan's fees for legal services, Connolly asserts, totaled $305. The $3,940 which he paid Cohalan, he reiterates, was the price of Cohalan's political influence in obtaining city contracts for the Victor Heating Company, in which Connolly was interested.

Touching upon Justice Cohalan's knowledge of the fact that he was at one time in a sanitarium, Connolly says that information was obtained by Cohalan when the latter was acting as his counsel for the first time and in a private matter, and he criticises him for using it in his defense.

Calls It "Plea in Avoidance."

"I had no intention of saying anything further until I heard of Justice Cohalan's statement in which he reviewed the story of my illness of some years back—a story he learned in the sacred relation between counsel and client," Connolly said. "Apart from his vituperation against me, his long explanation is, in my opinion, largely a confession. It is a plea in avoidance, not a wholesome denial. It shows typically the character of a lawyer who would in a public discussion of his own affairs, such as this, disclose a matter relating to the affairs of a former client.

"Justice Cohalan, in his long statement, says that he was retained by me under a continuing retainer as counsel for the Victor Heating Company. This is not true.

"The only time I ever engaged Cohalan as counsel for the Victor Heating Company was in 1904, when my partner, George O'Hanlon, wanted to get out of the Victor Heating Company because of my 55 per cent. agreement with Cohalan, an agreement that O'Hanlon didn't like. In fact, Mr. O'Hanlon had sued to dissolve the partnership. It was then that I retained Cohalan. Mr. O'Hanlon wanted to get out, as I said, and he wanted to go into another firm in the same line. The matter never reached a head, for it was settled out of court by my buying Mr. O'Hanlon's stock.

Paid Him as Counsel with Checks.

"That was the second time I engaged Cohalan. The first time was in 1898, when I wanted some family affairs attended to. Cohalan charged me $105 for the first service he performed for me as a lawyer, and I promptly paid it. For the second legal service he also rendered me a bill, and I promptly paid him by check. In the second case I have in my possession a receipted bill, and a canceled check, showing Cohalan's indorsement.

"The reason I did not engage Cohalan to do the legal work for the Victor Heating Company—and there was considerable to be done, for I engaged some five or six or seven lawyers in all—was because he was too high-priced. I considered $250 too high, in view of the fact that he had a personal interest in the company.

"On Aug. 1, 1905, I gave a $1,000 gold bill to Cohalan as his share of the profits of the Victor Heating Company, his share being 55 per cent. I asked him why he had not sent in a bill for services rendered a year back. He said that he did not want to press me too hard, and I told him to send in the bill right away. He did, and I paid him promptly, and I have the check with his indorsement and the stamp of the National Shoe and Leather Bank showing that it was paid on Aug. 30, 1905.

"Now, these are the facts concerning our relations as lawyer and client. Cohalan never returned to me that $250 or that $105. There was no reason. It was money I paid to him for services as my counsel. I never asked him to return either or both of these sums.

"Graft Money" Paid in Cash.

"What I did ask him to return was money I paid to him as tribute, or graft, on work he got for the Victor Heating Company. I never would have done that but for his shabby treatment of me.

"I might add that this tribute or graft money was paid to him in cash. You will observe that when I engaged him as counsel I paid him with a check. Clients don't usually pay their lawyers' fees in cash, as I paid him in the matter of the 55 per cent. arrangement with the Victor Heating Company.

"I will ask Justice Cohalan to produce the original of the statement of April 21, 1905, which set forth the business done by the Victor Heating Company for the year ending March 31, 1905, and where I calculated for the year then ending that he was entitled to $1,514.41 in addition to the $940.15 paid to him during the course of the fiscal year ending March 31, 1905."

Mr. Connolly added that if Justice Cohalan were a careful lawyer he would be able to produce a copy of this statement from his file.

Aid of Gov. Sulzer Enlisted in a State-Wide Movement.

Special to The New York Times.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., June 1.—A State-wide movement against Sunday baseball has been started by the Binghamton Ministrial Association, which has enlisted the aid of the Sabbath Observance Association of New York and of Gov. Sulzer. The Governor, in a letter to Dr. Clausen, representing the Binghamton opponents of Sunday baseball, has promised to see that the Sheriffs enforce the law throughout the State or remove the Sheriffs.

The movement originated here when an attempt was made to play Sunday ball at Lestershire. Prior to the first game, as the result of an agreement between Lestershire ministers and Owner Johnson, a referendum vote was taken in the village, both sides agreeing to abide by the decision. The supporters of Sunday ball won. Then the Binghamton opponents demanded that Sunday ball be suppressed not only here but in other cities in the State.

The supporters of the game will petition Gov. Sulzer to send a special message to the Legislature at the special session recommending an amendment to the law allowing cities to decide the question by local option.

MIDDLETON TURNS AGAIN.

Quits Catholic Church a Second Time to Rejoin Episcopalians.

Edmund S. Middleton, who twice resigned his ministry in the Episcopal Church to become a layman in the Roman Catholic Church, has again withdrawn from the latter and has applied for readmission to the Episcopalian faith. At his home, 12 Randolph Street, Yonkers, he said yesterday that his application had been accepted, admitting him as a layman only. He formerly was Master of Greek in Trinity School in West Ninety-first Street.

Mr. Middleton is a clergyman, teacher, and writer. He was born here in 1862, was educated in Harvard University, class of '85, graduated from the General Theological Seminary in 1889, and was ordained in the Episcopal Church in 1890.

In 1891 he resigned his ministry, joined the Catholic Church and took a special course of study in St. Francis Xavier College, where he obtained the degree of A. M. in 1893. In the same year he married Miss Sara Belle Kent. The following year he withdrew from the Catholic Church, and eleven years later Bishop Henry C. Potter restored him to ministerial orders.

He took two more years of study in the General Theological Seminary, obtaining the degree of B. D. in 1906. From 1904 to 1912 he was master in Trinity School for Boys. Last October he again withdrew from the Episcopalian faith, rejoined the Catholic Church and was formally deposed from the ministry by Bishop Greer at the Diocesan House at 416 Lafayette Street on Oct. 25, 1912.

Last year when he withdrew from the Episcopalians he was accompanied into the Catholic Church by the Rev. William H. Jurney, curate of a Brooklyn church. Both were admitted to the Catholic Church by the Very Rev. John J. Hughes, rector of the Church of St. Paul the Apostle. The Rev. Mr. Jurney afterward went to Baltimore and studied for the priesthood under the personal direction of Cardinal Gibbons.

BISHOP CAME IN STEERAGE.

Head of Philippine Diocese Wanted to Mix with Real People, He Said.

The Rev. Charles H. Brent, Episcopal Bishop of the Philippines, returned from his diocese yesterday in the steerage of the Cunard liner Caronia. He said that was the place to met the real people on an Atlantic steamer, and not in the saloon or the second cabin. The Bishop wore his clerical attire and purple tie, and appeared to be on the best of terms with the immigrants. He wished to go right through Ellis Island with them, but, being an American, he was put ashore at the pier like other citizens. Before leaving the ship he shook hands all around with his fellow steerage travelers, who had to remain on board last night, as the ship arrived too late to send them to Ellis Island.

Bishop Brent said he had been twelve years in the Philippines and that the islands were in a flourishing condition. There was no war scare there, he added, as the inhabitants did not believe the Japanese wanted the islands. Of his experience in the steerage the Bishop said:

"I enjoyed it very much. The food was good, and I was pleased to meet the Scandinavian and British immigrants on board. They were all fine, manly men, and if they are a sample of the aliens we are receiving from Europe the United States should be proud of them. The only luxury I accepted was a cabin to myself. The immigrants, with the exception of some of those from Southern Europe, were neat and cleanly in their habits. I had an idea at first that the saloon passengers might not like to see a Bishop in the steerage or that they might think that it was being done for effect, but I soon found it was a matter in which they had no interest."

Bishop Brent traveled from China to Moscow over the Trans-Siberian Railroad, and then through Germany and France to London and Liverpool. He left last night for Washington, to call on the President, after which he will go to his family in Boston.

NATHAN STRAUS HOME ILL.

Physician Says That Rest Will Restore Him to Health.

Nathan Straus arrived yesterday from Liverpool on the Cunard liner Caronia, accompanied by his wife. He was suffering from a nervous attack, which began at Liverpool before the liner sailed. During the voyage Mr. Straus kept to his cabin and was attended by Dr. Carl Stieglitz of Vienna, who went to him at Liverpool on receipt of a telegram.

When Mr. Straus left New York on May 10 on the Caronia he was feeling a little run down and thought that a transatlantic voyage might do him good. He seemed better until a short time before the liner was due to sail from Liverpool, and then had the nervous attack, which left him very weak.

His two sons went down the bay yesterday on the revenue cutter to meet Mr. Straus, and an automobile was sent to the pier to convey him to Justice Lehman's house in Port Chester, where he will remain three weeks to get a thorough rest. Justice Lehman is Mr. Straus's son-in-law. As a precaution and in order that the patient should not suffer any unnecessary fatigue the lower deck port of the Caronia was opened after the passengers had gone ashore, and Mr. Straus was carried to the automobile which was waiting outside the pier.

His son, Nathan Straus, Jr., said that Dr. Stieglitz had told him his father was not seriously ill, and that two or three weeks of rest and quiet would restore him to health.

STUCK IN TELEPHONE BOOTH

Friends Had to Chop 300-Pound Doctor from Narrow Doorway.

In Joseph Burger's café at 20 Avenue C, a group of men who call themselves "The Midnight Students of Burger College," were feasting early yesterday morning, when a telephone call came for Dr. Isidore Zippert of 351 East Fourth Street, one of the students. Dr. Zippert, who weighs 305 pounds, hurried to the telephone booth and managed to squeeze inside.

The call was from one of Dr. Zippert's patients, and the physician told him that he would visit him at once. When he tried to get out through the narrow door of the booth, Dr. Zippert discovered that it was much harder to get out than it had been to get in, and after several minutes of frantic effort his body was wedged fast in the door frame.

Dr. Zippert's cries brought several of his friends to his aid, who after a vain attempt to pull him through, got an axe and chopped the frame out, nearly half an hour after he entered the booth. The physician was faint from his exertions, but hastened to his patient.

COUNTESS'S AUTO HITS MOTOR CYCLE

MOTOR INJURES A BOY

Owner Hit Him in Avoiding a Vehicle—Man Killed by Fall from Motor Truck in Dobbs Ferry.

An automobile owned by the Countess de Valmont, who lives in the Belnord apartment house at Eigty-sixth Street and Broadway, in which six men and women were riding, one of whom was said to be the Countess, collided with a motorcycle, ridden by Leonard Jendrick of 519 West 182d Street, at Broadway and 100th Street yesterday afternoon. Jendrick was thrown and suffered a dislocated shoulder, and his motorcycle was wrecked. The women in the automobile were overcome by the accident, but they recovered and continued their trip after they were assured by Policeman Delancey of the West 100th Street Station that Jendrick was not seriously injured.

The automobile was going north in Broadway and Jendrick was riding east in 100th Street. He crossed Broadway directly in front of the automobile, and could not turn out in time to save himself. The chauffeur of the automobile, William Schlepp of 460 East 184th Street, put on his brakes, but he was unable to avoid the accident. After his dislocated shoulder was set by an ambulance surgeon Jendrick went home.

To avoid running into a wagon at Rockaway Beach Boulevard and Wave Crest Avenue at Far Rockaway, yesterday afternoon, Morris Hirschberg of 430 Riverside Drive, Manhattan, turned his automobile quickly to one side, and in doing so knocked down thirteen-year-old Milton Schwartz, who was coming up the boulevard on a bicycle.

Hirschberg took the injured boy to the Rockaway Beach Hospital. He was suffering from a broken right shoulder and wrist, and several cuts on the head. Mr. Hirschberg then informed the police of the accident, and gave them his address.

John Buckley, Jr., 22 years old, son of John Buckley, a hotel proprietor of Dobbs Ferry, was killed at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night when he was thrown from the running board of a motor truck in front of the Bellevue Hotel in Ashford Avenue, Ardsley. An examination made by Dr. G. S. Johnson of Ardsley and Dr. Robert Dennison of Dobbs Ferry showed that his neck had been broken.

The truck was owned and driven by John Fallows, who has the contract for transporting cement from Dobbs Ferry to work that is being done on the Catskill Aqueduct. He was returning to his home when Buckley, who had been visiting friends in Ardsley, jumped on the running board, intending to ride with Fallows to Dobbs Ferry. The front wheels of the truck struck a rut in the road and Buckley was thrown to the street.

Two automobiles collided at 115th Street and Riverside Drive last night. Kenneth Burns of 601 West 115th Street, driving his own motor, containing Miss Alice Bolet and her brother, Nisaner Bolet, Jr., both of 3 West Ninety-second Street, and two other young women, was coming south into the drive. He started to turn east, when an auto owned by Albert Flarsheim of 130 West Fifty-seventh Street, which was coming north, ran into his motor. Mr. Flarsheim's car was driven by Louis Mann of 26 West 152d Street. It carried Mr. Flarsheim, George Schwab of 404 Riverside Drive, and two other men.

Miss Bolet, who was sitting beside Mr. Burns, was thrown forward and her face was cut by the windshield, but the others escaped unhurt. Miss Bolet was taken home in a taxicab.

CRASH AT ATLANTIC CITY.

Autoist Badly Hurt After Running Into Motor Cycle.

Special to The New York Times.

MAYS LANDING, N. J., June 1—Loriner Wyld, employed at a garage in this city, had a narrow escape from death here this afternoon. The young man had just finished repairing an automobile, which was stalled on the State road some four miles out of town, and on returning home at high speed ran into a motor cycle ridden by Edward and John Gardner of West Philadelphia. Wyld's auto after a crash rebounded across the road and ran into a tree, throwing Wyld out with great force. He was picked up unconscious and carried to his home. He was injured seriously.

Edward Gardner, who was riding in the front of the motor cycle, suffered a broken wrist and several painful bruises, but his brother, who was on the rear seat, escaped with a few scratches.

FINES 25 CAR ROWDIES.

Magistrate Levy Warns Them of Prison Sentences to Follow.

Magistrate Levy, sitting in the Men's Night Court last night, issued a warning to all car rowdies that they need expect no leniency when brought before him for acting in a disorderly manner on cars or bridge approaches.

Twenty-five men, ranging in age from 17 to 35 years, were arraigned before him charged with disorderly conduct. They had been arrested on surface, elevated, and Subway cars and on the Brooklyn, Williamsburg, and Queensboro Bridges.

As each case was called a fine of $5 was imposed, with the warning that prison sentences would follow if the nuisance was not abated. In the majority of cases the prisoners paid their fines.

Five small boys were arrested on a southbound local subway train last night and taken from the Times Square station to the Children's Society, where they were held until bailed out by the parents on charges of juvenile delinquency.

Detective Riedel of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company made the arrests. He said the boys, by singing, shouting, and running around the cars had disturbed the other passengers on the train. The boys described themselves as Jack Orban, 14 years old, of 867 First Avenue; Alexander Rochetti, 14, of 131 East Forty-eighth Street; Philip Bellino, 14, of 230 East Ninety-sixth Street; Frank Stessio, 13, of 341 East Ninety-eighth Street, and Frank Doroso, 13, of 230 East Ninety-sixth Street.

Riedel said that he and three other detectives entered the train at the Fiftieth Street station, and that the guards at once complained to them. The noise continued despite warnings, said the detective, until Times Square was reached. There the detectives herded the boys in one end of a car and held them until a patrol wagon arrived from the West Thirtieth Street Station.

GLACIER THEIR HOME FOR ALL WINTER

First News of Second Mawson Party from the Arctic—What They Accomplished.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, June 1.—The first account has reached England of the experiences of Frank Wild and his seven companions, who, forming the second base of Dr. Mawson's antarctic expedition, lived on a glacier for a Winter and discovered a great tract of land with 350 miles of coast line. This land, which probably extends to the pole itself, has been named Queen Mary's Land.

Speaking to a newspaper representative, Mr. Wild said:

"We prepared for the Winter in our glacier home. We dug a tunnel with caves to hold our stores, and entered by means of a trapdoor on top, raised above the snow. We had a regular routine of work in the morning, with the afternoon off. We amused ourselves with hockey, football, and skiing in fine weather, with chess, checkers, and cards when unable to venture out.

"In August we again made preparations for sledging, one party of three going eastward and another to the west. The latter surveyed all the coast line to the point reached by the German expedition of 1902. On one trip it did 510 miles at an altitude of 2,000 to 3,000 feet. This party discovered the largest Emperor penguin rookery ever recorded. It was on an island sixty-five miles west of Glacier Hut, and here were congregated some 7,000 young Emperor birds, in addition to innumerable ordinary penguins.

"Falling down crevasses was more or less common. We all got grazed and bruised, while once Mr. Watson was down a crevasse for twenty minutes before he was hauled out.

"Our worst experience was in October, when the western party was laid up for seventeen days in a blizzard, the longest on record. I never before experienced one of more than nine days. It is difficult to imagine what it meant for three men to be imprisoned in a tent six feet across, which got gradually smaller with piled-up snow outside, no room to lie straight, and nothing to read. Sixteen hours out of twenty-four we spent in sleep. At the end of the blizzard we were weak as kittens; but it is extraordinary how soon one picks up. I have known cases where a man would gain five or six pounds weight after one meal."

DROWNS HIMSELF AT 74.

Sufferer from Insomnia Ends Life in Prospect Park Lake.

Suffering from insomnia for several years, Victor Chameroy, a retired pawnbroker, despaired of ever being cured and yesterday committed suicide by drowning himself in the lake of Prospect Park, Brooklyn. He left his home at 1,469 Forty-first Street, in the Fort Hamilton section of Brooklyn, at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, and an hour later his body was discovered in the park lake not far from the Park Circle entrance.

It was his custom to go to the bakery every morning about 6 o'clock to get rolls for breakfast. His family supposed he had gone on this errand. When his daughter was setting the table for the morning meal she found a note written by her father. In it he declared his intention to commit suicide. He said he was tired of life, as he believed no physician could cure him of his illness, and he thought he would be better off dead. His son Frank notified the police.

Mr. Chameroy was 74 years old. He retired from business several years ago. Since then he has traveled to consult specialists in the hope of finding a cure for his malady. In recent months he became melancholy, and his family believe that this is responsible for his suicide.

WALKED OFF PIER ASLEEP.

Somnambulist Traveled a Mile in Nightclothes to the Hudson.

HASTINGS-ON-HUDSON, N. Y., June 1.—Melville Haynes of Uniontown, about a mile from here, owes his life to the fact that he is a good swimmer. Clad only in his night clothing he walked from his home in Uniontown to a pier at this place, while asleep. Without awakening he walked off the pier. Needless to say he woke up when he struck the water. Then he swam ashore.

Haynes, who had walked in his sleep before, got out of the house shortly before midnight without any of his family missing him. Just how he got to the pier here without being seen is a puzzle.

After he got ashore he yelled for help. A policeman went to his assistance and got him a suit of clothes.

DROWNS FROM MOTOR BOAT

Gildermeister Falls Overboard While Weighing the Anchor.

Coney Island had the first drowning accident of the season yesterday afternoon when August Gildermeister of 456 Forty-first Street, Brooklyn, was drowned off the foot of West Thirty-first Street from a motorboat in which he had taken out a party of four Brooklyn friends for a day's fishing. The party had been fishing all the afternoon at the spot where the accident occurred, and at 3 o'clock decided to change its position. Gildermeister, who weighed some 250 pounds, started to pull the anchor up when he lost his balance and fell overboard. He could not swim and floundered helplessly about in the water until he sank.

'PRINCESS' DUPES YOUNG PARISIANS

Engages Her Mythical Millions to Two and Vanishes with $6,000 Engagement Rings.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, June 1.—A prominent young member of a Paris club was visited recently by a handsome woman who represented herself as the Princess Salm and presented a letter of introduction purporting to be signed by Mgr. Journe, Canon of Caracas, whom the young man had met in society. The introduction said that the bearer was an illustrious widowed foreigner of great wealth, who desired to enter Paris society, and requested the recipient of the note to assist her.

The visitor claimed membership in the Salm-Kyrbourg family, and said she was a Princess of the Holy Roman Empire. She had married, she said, a nobleman connected with the imperial family, who had left her an immense fortune, while in addition her private fortune amounted to $60,000,000.

The young man offered to do all he could for the Princess. He met her frequently, and at last he proposed marriage and was accepted. He placed on her finger an engagement ring which cost $6,000. A few days later the Princess departed for Madrid, ostensibly to settle family matters and have an interview with King Alfonso; but meantime she had related the same story to another man, a friend of the first, who also gave her a $6,000 engagement ring.

After her departure one of her fiancés discovered that his friend and himself had been duped. The police informed him that the self-styled Princess was an adventuress named Adelaide Julia Madeleine Jelle, who was born in Paris in 1874. Eleven years ago the police learned that she had obtained jewelry under a similar pretext, and in 1905 they were again called upon to investigate her identity in connection with a case of blackmailing.

ORIENTAL LIMITED WRECK.

Engine and Three Cars Derailed—Engineer Killed, Seven Hurt.

MOORHEAD, Minn., June 1.—Engineer Frank French was killed, his fireman was seriously injured, and six passengers were badly cut and bruised when the Oriental Limited on the Great Northern Road was wrecked at a crossing here to-night.

The engine, baggage car, smoking car, and mail car left the rails and turned over. The passengers in the dining car were thrown to the floor by the impact. Among those injured were Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Wootten of New York.

BOSTON, June 1.—A score of passengers in two Pullman cars of a New York-bound train on the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad were severely shaken and bumped to-day in a collision just outside the South Station. The engine of a local train from Providence struck the third car of the New York train, overturning it, and then plunged into the fourth car.

Daniel M. Morrison, a leather merchant, was the only passenger in the third car, the Stoughton, who was severely injured, although there were fifteen in that car, all of whom were thrown heavily from their seats when it tipped over. Mr. Morrison suffered a scalp wound and abrasions of the face and body. He was taken to a hospital and later went to his home.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., June 1.—Two unidentified men were killed and five badly injured when a broken axle wrecked a Big Four freight train near Stockwell to-day. Twelve cars, five of them loaded steel coal cars, were demolished. The seven men were stealing their way on the train. The five injured are in a hospital here, and the two dead are at Clarks Hill.

BAR PRODUCTS OF DEATH.

These Women Wear Cloth Gloves and Shoes and Eat No Meat.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, June 1.—To wear no kid gloves, no leather shoes, slippers, or belts, no aigrettes, wings or quills, no tortoise shell or ivory, nothing in fact that is produced by torture or death of a living thing—these are the fundamental principles of the Millennium Guild, a new Boston organization devoted to spreading the principle of universal love. The members wear silk or cotton gloves, cloth shoes, ribbons or artifical flowers on their hats, and celluloid, rubber or amber combs. They eat no meat.

Mrs. Maud R. L. Sharpe of 79 Commonwealth Avenue is leader of the guild. It meets at her home in a room where the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill," hangs upon the wall. There are scores of women members, according to Mrs. Sharpe.

"If we are to change the moral side of life we are not simply to get into a higher way of thinking, but likewise into a change of diet," she said. "Women can get their rights in this world if they make their power and influence evident in the children around their own houses. There is really nothing that a mother cannot do, or any woman who is touched with the higher sense of moral guidance in the world."

ARRANGE $77,000,000 IN MEXICAN LOANS

Announcement To-day — $50,000,000 for Government, $27,000,000 for Railways.

$10,000,000 NOTES TO PAY

J. P. Morgan & Co., Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and Speyer & Co. Taking Part in the Financing.

It was made known last night by bankers interested in the negotiations that the financial arrangements for the issue of a two-year loan of about $27,000,000 by the National Railways of Mexico and for the Mexican Government loan of $50,000,000 had been completed, and that official announcement in regard to both these loans would be made to-day. It is said that the issue of $10,000,000 of National Railways of Mexico maturing to-day will be paid.

The announcement had been expected for several days, and there was some uneasiness among holders of the 4½ per cent. gold notes of the National Railways of Mexico, due June 1, because of the delay.

It became known last week that the railway company's financing was being held up by the delay in floating the Government of Mexico loan of $50,000,000, negotiations for which had been going on in Paris. A part of the Government loan, if successful, it was said, would be taken in this country. J. P. Morgan & Co. have been mentioned as among the firms which would participate. The financing of the National Railways is in the hands of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Speyer & Co., and Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co.

These two-year notes which matured yesterday are secured by the deposit of $6,400,000 prior lien and $7,000,000 general mortgage bonds. The National Railways, besides this debt, has a loan of $13,000,000 which will fall due on Nov. 15, and which is secured by $12,500,000 of the prior lien bonds and $6,000,000 general mortgage bonds. Plans were made to sell $27,500,000 of notes secured by collateral to take care of these obligations. These proposed notes have been allotted mostly to banking houses in Europe.

The Huerta Government was trying to arrange a Mexican loan of $50,000,000 gold when arrangements for the sale of these notes were begun. The relations of the National Railways, a Government-owned line, with the Government are so close that bankers realized that the railroad's financing would not be completed until it was learned that the Government loan had been placed. Some $115,049,000 of the railroad's $230,000,000 worth of stock is owned by the Government, which guarantees the principal and interest on the new general mortgage bonds.

EUROPE TO LEND ALSO.

English, French, and German Bankers in Agreement.

By Marconi Transatlantic Wireless Telegraph to The New York Times.

PARIS, June 1.—The following account is given here of the negotiations for the Mexican loan, which comes to a head to-morrow:

A loan of $10,000,000 at 5 per cent. had been almost arranged for in March; but since then new negotiations have been carried on, which ended in the following basis being discussed: $100,000,000 were asked for, and a group comprising German, English, and French bankers on Thursday last signed with the Mexican Government's representatives an agreement to take $70,000,000 worth of ten-year bonds of $100 each, of which $30,000,000 will be issued in Paris at the rate of 6 per cent., the net prices to the Mexican Government being 89. The issue here will be made at 97 or thereabout, including the 2 per cent. French stamp tax, leaving a handsome margin to the French group, which is headed by the Société Générale.

It is said that José Limantour, former Finance Minister of Mexico, has had a hand in arranging matters.

Negotiations were being carried on in London among the German, English, and French groups of bankers Saturday evening, and it is understood that to-morrow the news of a definite arrangement is likely to be given out. Banking circles here feel sure that Finance Minister Dumont will approve the issuing and listing of the bonds on the Paris Bourse, although the formal application has not yet been presented to him.

WORRIED OVER MORGAN ART.

Controller Wants to Know Destination of the Collection.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, June 1.—The placing in temporary custody of the Metropolitan Museum of Art of the great collection of J. Pierpont Morgan has caused some question in the minds of the appraisers of the Transfer Tax Bureau of the State Controller's office. These art treasures, books, pictures, and antiques, to be exempted from taxation under the collateral inheritance law, as provided for by the Ormrod act of this year, must be transferred absolutely to the State or a municipal corporation within two years from the date of Mr. Morgan's death. Failure to do so will result in their being appraised and taxed.

The Controller's appraisers are anxious to know what disposition is to be made of these treasures, for they would like to appraise them, if it should be necessary, before they complete the appraisal of the estate, which they expect to do soon.

WOMAN AT SEA IN A CANOE.

Mrs. Olga M. Housman Missing Since Saturday Night.

Three police boats were searching the waters of Rockaway Inlet and other parts of Jamaica Bay last night for some trace of Mrs. Olga M. Housman, who was reported to the police as having been lost to sight since last Saturday evening, when she set off alone in a canoe from the residence of Capt. Greenwood on Plum Island.

Her husband, Alonzo Housman of 972 Pacific Street, said that when his wife left she said she was going for a short paddle. But she did not return, nor has any trace of her or the empty canoe been found. The following description of the missing woman was given to the police: Five feet 4 inches in height, weighed 110 pounds, light complexion, wore green tailor-made suit and green waist, patent leather shoes, and black stockings.

MILBURN ABLE TO PLAY.

Injured Polo Back Better and May Be in the Big Game.

Deveroux Milburn, "back" on the American polo team which is to defend the international cup next week against a British team, had recovered somewhat yesterday from the injuries he received in the game at Meadow Brook on Saturday when his pony fell upon and kicked him during a practice game.

At the home of Harry Payne Whitney, at Westbury, to which Mr. Milburn was taken after the accident, it was said that he had arisen from bed and was walking about his room.

Whether Mr. Milburn will be able to take part in the cup games, the first of which will be played June 10, cannot yet be stated. No other player, however, has definitely been chosen to take his position at back.

One report had it that Milburn had been seen outdoors and that the Saturday mishap had resulted in nothing more than a bad fall. It was even said that he would be able to get into a saddle to-morrow. These reports did much to dispel the gloom which descended over the American polo situation, when it was learned that the most reliable player, from some points of view, was down and out of the game for good, as far as the international match was concerned.

MRS. LEEDS NOT ENGAGED.

Denies the Report That She Is to Marry Count Talleyrand-Perigord.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, June 1.—Mrs. William B. Leeds said to-night that there was not the slightest foundation for the report published in the United States of an engagement between herself and Comte Talleyrand-Perigord.

Friends of Mrs. Leeds say that they have never heard even the suggestion of such an engagement.

CANADA OWNS WOLFE HOME.

Recent Purchase of Quebec House Made in Its Interest.

By Marconi Transatlantic Wireless Telegraph to The New York Times.

LONDON, June 1.—Quebec House, in Westerham, Kent, the former home of Gen. James Wolfe, conqueror of Quebec, is understood to have been bought privately in the interest of the Canadian Government.

The house will be used as a residence for the Canadian Archivist.

LASSOES BOY IN THE RIVER.

Former Cowboy's Dexterity Saves Youngster from Drowning.

It was a fortunate thing for John Finan, 6 years old, of 6 Dover Street, that John Lopez of 168 South Street, was once a cowboy in New Mexico, for it was his dexterity with an improvised lasso that saved the boy from drowning yesterday afternoon when he fell into the East River at the foot of Roosevelt Street.

The boy was playing with companions on the pier at the foot of Roosevelt Street when he slipped at the edge of the pier and fell overboard. The cries of his playmates brought Lopez with 300 other persons to the pier. Lopez, who now works as a longshoreman, obtained a rope and, making a noose in it, threw it over the head of the boy as he rose to the surface after going down twice. Then towing the lad to shore, others lifted him out before he was choked seriously by the noose.

Dr. Crane was called from the Hudson Street Hospital, but he found the boy with Lopez the centre of an admiring throng. He took the lad home instead of to the hospital.

MASONS HONOR A BABY.

Little Girl Baptized as Ward of Order in Buffalo Temple.

BUFFALO, June 1.—With ceremonies used in this country for the first time since 1771, Ruth Katharine Daggett, baby daughter of Byron B. Daggett, was baptized at the Scottish Rite Cathedral here to-day. The ceremony made the baby a ward of the Lodge of Perfection, and entitled her to the guardianship and protection of the Masonic fraternity in every part of the world.

DROPS FROM PALISADES.

Edward Heimer and William McVicker of Union Hill, returning from a dance at 3 o'clock yesterday morning in Weehawken, N. J., heard a man moaning. They traced the sound to the Palisades, but it was too dark to see anything. After borrowing a light from a passing automobile, they returned to the spot, and, looking over the embankment, saw the body of a man fifty feet below, lying on a narrow ledge of rock. They ran to the Clifton Hose Company, three blocks away, and firemen, with an extension ladder, rescued the man.

He was removed in an ambulance to the North Hudson Hospital, where it was found he had both arms broken and internal injuries, and will probably die. In his pockets were found cards with the name Robert Marks, 881 East 170th Street, New York, and five bichloride of mercury tablets. The police do not know whether the man fell from the Palisades or attempted suicide. They are inclined to the latter theory, since his coat and hat were found ten feet away from where he was lying.

HIS YACHTS BURN UP, ALSO HIS AUTOMOBLE

HIS THRILLING CAREER TOLD

Recovered on the First Yacht Burned and on the Auto—Varied Experiences in War and Matrimony.

When a verdict for the defendant was returned before Justice John R. Davies in the Eighth District Muncipal Court last week, in a suit of John Albert Fish to recover on a $15,000 policy for the loss of the auxiliary schooner yacht Senta, from Douglas F. Cox of Higgins & Cox, representing United States Lloyds, it seemed, at first glance, merely that another vessel had gone to Davy Jones's Locker, and that the owner was to recover neither salvage nor prize money. As a matter of fact, a story of accident and adventure strange even in the fantastic annals of the Seven Seas, had been unfolded by McLean & Hayward, attorneys for the defendant.

John Albert Fish, member of the New York Yacht Club, it appeared from the biography which they unfolded in court, had had a career which would have done credit to lurid melodrama. He had collected $18,367.62 from insurance companies for the burning of another yacht and an automobile before the loss of the craft in question: he had left the United States Army without the consent of the Government; he had served in the Boer war, and played in the "Boer War" exhibition at Brighton Beach; he had been a floor-walker in a New York department store; had sailed before the mast; been twice convicted of assault, and had lost his wife by chloroform poisoning.

It was in April, 1910, that Mr. Fish took out a policy of insurance on the yacht Senta—formerly the Gevalla—the second vessel of his ownership to bear that name and to be lost by fire. This second yacht, according to the testimony, he purchased from T. O'Conor Sloane for $1,500, paying $100 down and the balance when he collected insurance from the first yacht, and put repairs to the extent of about $4,500 on her. He insured first for the sum of $10,000, and then had this amount raised to $15,000. It may be noted that Mr. Cox in passing the policy did so "subject to survey." Fish, however, told an inspector of the company that he had spent $12,000 in repairing the vessel, and had practically rebuilt her from stem to stern, and the policy was allowed.

On May 10, 1910, Fish was elected to the New York Yacht Club and became member 2,074. His name still appears in the club's last year book.

The name of the yacht had meanwhile been changed from Gevalla to Senta, Fish making affidavit, filed with the Department of Commerce and Labor, that $10,000 had been the purchase price and that he had spent $7,000 on her. On Oct. 25 the yacht was destroyed by fire off Edgartown, Mass. The owner's account of the occurrence was that he had smelled smoke and had gone into the cabin to get two women guests out on deck; had thrown a blanket over an oil stove which was burning in the cabin and, after getting the women and the crew into boats, had gone back himself to the cabin. Then occurred an explosion, he said, which knocked down part of the partition, and the vessel was soon in flames. He entered one of the boats and the party went ashore. Testimony was introduced to show that it was not until sometime after the explosion that any one, either of the yacht's company or on shore, saw any flames.

The arguments of the defense were threefold in this case; First, that the fire was of an incendiary character; second, that the value of the yacht had been misrepresented, and, third, that the policy had been voided by the giving of a bill of sale for the yacht by Fish to Miss Catherine S. Barnes. As already said, the jury found for the defendant. Light was shed on the case, chiefly, perhaps, by the biography of the yacht owner, which came out in his cross-examination.

From this it appeared that John Albert Fish was born in Groton, Conn., in 1874. In 1893-94 he shipped before the mast with Capt. Robert Wilbour of Mystic. After his return he enlisted in the Engineer Corps of the United States Army as a private at Willetts Point. He had served two years and nine months, when he left before the expiration of his enlistment. On a previous trial he said that he deserted because he had been "bullyragged" by his officers. At the recent trial he said he simply quit, giving as excuse that his enlistment had been illegal. At the time of leaving the army he was a first class private. After this he resided in New York City for about two years, during which period his occupation did not appear. In 1898 he went to South Africa and was at Beira, Mozambique, for six or eight months. There he shot a negro and left on the train the next day, going to Otelli, across the border. He then entered the service of the South African Company. He was a gold miner, also.

As the next step in his adventurous career he enlisted in the Colonial Cavalry for the Boer war. He was wounded in that conflict and was invalided to England in 1902. On Sept. 2 he was married to Alverta C. Suggett at Edinburgh, Scotland. They lived for a time at a hotel and then traveled through Ireland. She testified in a previous action that she paid the expenses. On Oct. 2 she came to the United States and lived at a hotel with her maid. Fish did not live with her at this time. On Oct. 22, she had testified, so Fish admitted in his cross-examination, she had returned to London, and two or three nights later he broke open her trunks and took her letters. She began proceedings in London to annul her marriage, but the proceedings were withdrawn. On Dec. 5 Fish was convicted of assault on Dr. F. J. Hicks at Buckingham Gate, London, and was sentenced to one month in prison. This sentence was remitted on appeal and a small fine imposed. Mrs. Fish returned to New York alone before Christmas. On Feb. 22 Fish and his wife were remarried here and lived together for a few weeks. On July 7 he was retired from the Colonial Cavalry for wounds received in action. Up to that time he had received full pay of $150 a month. He derived $600 or $700 for his services when he retired, and had received $1,800 "blood money" for his injuries.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Fish had assigned to her husband all her jewelry and personal property. On March 30, 1904, Mrs. Fish died from chloroform poisoning at 521 West Eleventh Street, New York. The Coroner's inquest gave the cause of death as accidental poisoning. Three days afterward Fish placed a mortgage on some of her property for $1,500.

On April 29 Fish was convicted of assult on Hugh O. Pentecost and fined $50 in the Court of Special Sessions. On June 13, a copy of a bill of sale of all of Mrs. Fish's personal property was filed in New York County under date of Aug. 7, 1903. About six months later Fish met Catherine S. Barnes from whom he later borrowed a good deal of money. Meantime he had disposed of practically all of the property he had received from his wife.

During the Summer of 1905 he appeared in the production known as the "Boer War" at Brighton Beach. In November he became a tracer for Wanamaker's and was also employed there as aisle manager. In May he became a floor walker at Saks's. During parts of 1907 and 1908 he continued to be a floor walker and then, on May 2, 1908, came the purchase of the first Senta.

This vessel had already been damaged by fire, and Fish acquired her for $300. He had her repaired and insured her with Lloyds of London for $10,000. The following Summer this policy was increased to $15,000. Meanwhile he had purchased an automobile, paying for it with some pictures and bric-à-brac which remained from his wife's property. Off Groton Long Point, Conn., on Oct. 1 the first Senta was destroyed by fire under very similar circumstances, according to his account, that surrounded the destruction of the second Senta, which he bought under the name of Gevalia on Nov. 23, paying $1,400 of the $1,500 purchase price out of the insurance collected on the other boat.

At the time of the burning of the first yacht, Fish had a bank balance here of $4.55 and an English balance of 18s. 10d.

The automobile he registered in New Jersey on Jan. 20, 1910, giving an address at which he did not live. In March he insured the machine for $3,000, and within ten days increased the policy to $3,500. He kept the automobile in a barn at Noank, Conn., belonging to his cousin, George Fish. In August the cousin got a permit from the insurance company to continue this practice. On Sept. 3 the barn and automobile were burned.

At this time Fish had an American bank balance of $1.77 and an English balance of £2 11s. 9d. He also owed Miss Barnes about $15,000. He collected the full insurance on the automobile, $3,500, on Sept. 22.

Meantime he had offered the Gevalia for sale for $6,000 "and a little more." It was on April 1 that he filed the affidavit for the change of name of the craft, giving the purchase price as $10,000 and the repairs as $7,000. Another affidavit giving the purchase price at its true figure, $1,500, was preserved and produced at the trial, however. This document had been altered, making the figure read $1,600. Moreover, it had been scorched. This scorching, Fish stated, occurred when he was destroying some papers, among which this document fell into the fire, but was pulled out before it was destroyed. According to the testimony of Mr. Carvalho, handwriting expert, the burning was intended to obliterate the figures.

It was on Oct. 25 that the second Senta was destroyed, as has been described. On this date Fish had a bank balance here of $42.58 and an English balance of £3 6s. 2d.

10,000 BOYS IN ATHLETICS.

Great Demonstration in Central Park Next Friday Afternoon.

Ten thousand boys, composing 200 teams of 50 boys each, selected from 100 public schools in all the boroughs, will participate in a great athletic and hygienic demonstration in Central Park at 2:45 o'clock next Friday afternoon under the auspices of the Public Schools Athletic League in co-operation with the Departments of Education and of Parks.

The purpose of the demonstration will be to show the public how the League's system of applied athletics and large group contests encourages the boys to observe wise rules of eating, sleeping, bathing, and exercising generally, which increases their disease-resisting stamina. Incidentally the League will also attempt to show how such a host of boys can be transported around the city and taken into the parks without damage to property or disorder or annoyance to others.

The 10,000 boys will be dressed uniformly in white shirtwaists and dark knickerbockers. They will drill, standing in lines, which, it is estimated, will fill 242,000 square feet of park space. Facing the reviewing stand, their movements will be directed by flag signals from the rear of the reviewing stand. The boys will exhibit such movements as are designed to increase their physical development.

Invitations to this event have been sent out to the President of the United States and his Cabinet, the Governor of New York, the Mayor, Board of Estimate, Board of Aldermen, heads of the various city departments, and the Governors of adjoining States and Mayors of neighboring cities. Delegates are to be present from States as far away as Nebraska.

The committee of the Public Schools Athletic League which has arranged for the demonstration is composed of Gustavus T. Kirby, President of the Amateur Athletic Union, Chairman; Gen. George T. Wingate, President of the League; Dr. Edward W. Stitt, Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick, Vincent Astor, S. R. Guggenheim, Treasurer of the League, and Dr. Edward Crampton, Director of physical training and Secretary of the League.

SEES HER BABY KILLED.

Child Falls from Window to Porch, Where Mother Is Sitting.

Mrs. John Reticky sat on the porch of her home at 3 Suydam Place, Yonkers, yesterday afternoon, while upstairs, in her apartment, her baby, Margaret, was sitting alone before an open window.

Mrs. Reticky was startled by a thud on the porch near her, and turning about saw a small child roll from the porch and fall head first upon a picket fence. Mrs. Reticky did not know to whom it belonged, for there are several families at 3 Suydam Place, but she ran to the child's aid, and with the help of Mrs. Annie Waska, a neighbor, succeeded in dislodging it. When the mother realized that it was her own daughter she collapsed. Dr. Ward of St. John's Hospital said that the child had been killed instantly.

POLICE SEEK MISSING GIRL.

Miss Goedel Disappears After Leaving Home to Seek Work.

Friends of the family appealed to the police of the Alexander Avenue Station last night to send out a general alarm for Miss Elizabeth Goedel, 18 years old, who has been missing since Saturday morning. Mrs. Eva Goedel, the young woman's mother, is a paralytic, and the father, Adam Goedel, janitor of 797 East 142d Street, where the family lives, is partially paralyzed, and barely able to do his work.

According to her friends, the young woman started from her home to go to the office of a drug firm in West Seventeenth Street, where she hoped to get work. Her parents have since learned that she did not go to this place.

Miss Goedel is 5 feet 3 inches in height, weighs 115 pounds, and when she disappeared she wore a black skirt, black shoes, a black cloth hat, with a black plume, and a white shirtwaist.

DOG ATTACKS A LITTLE GIRL.

Among the hundreds of promenaders on the board walk at Far Rockaway yesterday afternoon was Lilac Lee, the two-year-old daughter of Mrs. Margaret Lee of 20 South Bond Avenue. The child was walking along a few feet in advance of her mother, when a collie dog sprang at her and bit the child in the right cheek. The mother screamed and boys pulled the dog away. It belonged, they said, to William Holland of Far Rockaway.

When Dr. Lanes had come from the Rockaway Beach Hospital and had cauterized the wound, Patrolman Farley set out for the Holland home at 17 South Bayview Avenue. Here he was told that the collie belonged there and that, although it was not mad, it had an aversion for children.

TO CUT IMMIGRATION ON 10 PER CENT RULE

WOULD HIT SOUTH EUROPE

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Senator Dillingham of Vermont will introduce tomorrow a bill by which he hopes to reduce immigration from Southern and Eastern Europe and Asia in a more effective way than was provided in the Dillingham-Burnett bill, which President Taft vetoed in the closing days of the last session. Mr. Dillingham, who was Chairman of the Committee on Immigration last session and is now its ranking Republican member, has abandoned the literacy test to which Mr. Taft objected and substituted a provision that immigration from a country in one year should be limited to 10 per cent. of the number of natives of that country already domiciled in the United States.

This provision would apply to all the world except the Western Hemisphere. The census returns show that countries of Northern Europe, whose citizens are considered particularly desirable as immigrants, have already such heavy representation in the United States that the 10 per cent. limit would largely increase the yearly inflow from most of those countries. On the other hand, Mr. Dillingham quotes figures to show that the bill would reduce the immigration of Austro-Hungarians by almost one-third, Greeks one-half, Italians one-third, Portuguese one-seventh, European Turks one-half, and Asiatic Turks three-eighths.

While Mr. Dillingham admits that his bill is drafted for the express purpose of reducing undesirable immigration, he has sought to provide for the liberal operation of its provisions. Transient visitors are not counted in fixing the limit, nor are those aliens who return to this country after visiting their homes, nor aliens coming, even for the first time, if their near relatives are already in America. The professional and business classes are altogether exempt from the provisions of the bill, and the Secretary of Labor is authorized to admit aliens in excess of the 10 per cent. limit for humanitarian reasons.

"The average annual immigration from Austria-Hungary during the last ten years," said Mr. Dillingham, "has been approximately 220,000, but under the bill immigration from that country would be limited to 167,000 annually, at least until the census of 1920 afforded a new basis for computation. Immigration from Italy has averaged 207,000 annually, but future immigration from that country would be limited to about 134,500, while Greece would be limited to 10,000, as compared with an average of about 20,000 in recent years. Apparently immigration from Turkey would be cut down about one-half. Of all the principal sources of Southern and Eastern Europe immigration Russia alone would seem to be little affected, as under the proposed law 173,500 immigrants could be admitted from that country annually, as compared with an average annual immigration of 172,500 during the past ten years.

"On the other hand, Germany has furnished an average of 35,000 immigrants in recent years, and under the proposed law could send 250,000. The United Kingdom could send about 258,000, but has sent an average of 96,000 in the last ten years. In the cases of France, Belgium, Switzerland, the Netherlands, and the Scandinavian countries the margin is not so large, but it is not believed that the law would in any way affect immigration from such countries.

It is not expected that Mr. Dillingham's bill will receive consideration at the present session, but he hopes for non-partisan support for it next Winter.

FOR NATURALIZATION REFORM.

Murdock Wants Inquiry — 4,000,000 Denied Citizenship, Is Charge.

Representative Victor Murdock of Kansas will introduce in Congress today a bill asking for the creation of a Federal Naturalization Commission to make an investigation of conditions in various States, the commission to consist of five members, appointed by President Wilson with the advice and consent of the Senate. The Murdock bill will call for a report on the part of the commission and recommendations for naturalization reforms not later than January, 1914.

The measure is the result of an investigation into naturalization conditions which immigrant welfare organizations have been conducting for the last two years, and is largely based upon suggestions made by Miss Frances A. Kellor, formerly head of the New York State Bureau of Industry and Immigration, but now Chairman of the Immigration Committee of the Department of Social and Industrial Justice of the Progressive National Service. One of the chief purposes of the bill is to finally dispose of the question of admitting Asiatic and Oriental races to citizenship. Even more important, however, in the eyes of the advocates of the measure is the necessity of eliminating abuses in the present naturalization laws.

Among those who urge the adoption of the bill are Oscar S. Straus, ex-Ambassador to Turkey; former Secretary of State Robert Bacon, Miss Grace Abbott, Secretary of the Immigrants' Protective League of Chicago; Prof. Emily Balch of Wellesley College; M. Francolini, President of the Italian Savings Bank of New York; Miss Helen Hartley Jenkins, donor of Hartley House; Prof. Edward Steiner of Grinnell College, Prof. Walter F. Willcox of Cornell University, Mrs. James Cushman of the Immigration Committee of the Y. W. C. A., Miss Mary Antin, author of "The Promised Land," and Meyer Lissner of Los Angeles.

Most of those named are connected with the Federal Immigration Investigating Commission of 1905. A statement issued yesterday by the Immigration Committee of the Progressive National Service says:

"No less than 4,000,000 adult male residents of the United States who could take out first citizens' papers have failed to do so, according to the last census. These 4,000,000 non-citizen residents are equal in number to one-fourth of the entire number of votes cast in the last Presidential election, and to one-seventh of the total number of adult male residents of the United States. Their collective vote would practically carry any Presidential election which this country has ever held.

"The vast majority of these 4,000,000 non-citizen residents seem to have become discouraged from becoming citizens, not through the educational test, which involves merely an ability to speak English and a slight knowledge of American Government, but through various hardships and inconveniences connected with our present naturalization laws.

"Many seem to have become discouraged through that feature in the present law which obliges the would-be citizen to make at least three visits, accompanied by two witnesses, either to the nearest Federal Court or to the nearest County Clerk's office. In some cases these visits involve trips of more than 100 miles, with loss of wages, expensive railroad fares and the danger of losing employment.

The statement contends that the present laws encourage aliens to become citizens from unworthy motives. Here in New York State, for example, foreigners must declare their intention of becoming citizens before they can be employed on public contracts. The result is that many aliens file petitions with no idea of becoming citizens. In 1911, in Oswego County, during the Barge Canal work, 242 declarations of intention were filed and only 18 final petitions for citizenship.

The commission, if appointed under the Murdock bill, will make a special study of land-owning laws affecting aliens and will seek to obtain the passage of a more complete Federal naturalization law, which will harmonize the present widely contrasting State laws. Under the proposed bill, an appropriation of $50,000 is allowed the commission for the expenses of its investigation.

WILSON AT MEMORIAL RITES.

Attends Services in Memory of Spanish War Heroes.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—President Wilson and members of his Cabinet, accompanied by army and navy officers, were in a great throng which attended to-day the annual memorial services at Cathedral Close, Mount St. Alban, for those who lost their lives in the Spanish-American war.

ROAD INSPECTION TOUR.

Carlisle and Engineers Visit Northern Counties, Then Long Island.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, June 1.—To determine the types of roads needed for the different parts of the State, Commissioner John N. Carlisle of the Highway Department, and Col. William De H. Washington, Harold Parker and George C. Diehl, the Committee of Advisory Engineers, will begin their first inspection trip to-morrow. The party will tour the northern counties first.

Arrangements have been made to have the members of the Legislature, the local highway officials, good roads committees of the Boards of Supervisors, and all others interested in highways meet the investigators. The engineers next will visit Long Island. Mr. Carlisle has been told by experts that the conditions there may be the most troublesome, owing to the soil and heavy automobile traffic.

Pending a report, roads in need of immediate repair will be improved.

OUTING FOR JOHNSON.

"Buffs" and Fire Officials Give Commissioner a Diamond Ring.

About all the well-known fire "buffs" in the city and most of the officials of the Fire Department kidnapped Fire Commissioner Johnson yesterday and took him on a picnic up to Croton Point-on-the-Hudson. An excursion boat hired for the occasion and named after the Commissioner took the crowd of over sixty from the foot of West Ninety-seventh Street at 10 A. M. and landed them back there late last night.

There was a shore dinner at Croton Point and baseball and other games, the Commissioner developing unsuspected ability as a pitcher. His batting average as a speaker was boosted considerably when the crowd presented him with a diamond ring. The Commissioner told about how lucky he had been to escape the criticism which had befallen other city departments, but the other speakers insisted that his ability alone was responsible. Dr. Harry M. Archer of the department was Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, and saw to it that no one went thirsty or hungry.

Among the well-known "Buffs" were Robert H. Mainzer, who has run to more fires than any other; James M. Leopold, the broker, of 7 Wall Street; "Bob" Davis of Munsey's, Henry H. Michaelson of Brooklyn, who won the 100-yard dash to the dinner table; Joseph Schenk of the Palisade Amusement Park; William Fox, the moving-picture theatre man, and James Le Baron Johnson, former Fire Chaplain. Some from the Fire Department were Deputy Chief George W. Olvany, Fire Chief John Kenlon, William Guerin of the Fire Prevention Bureau, Battalion Chiefs John P. Howe, William Clark, Charles S. Demarest, Joseph Crawley, and Patrick Graham; Fire Marshal John P. Prial, Fireman James Horan, Dr. Herman L. Reis, Lloyd D. Willis, secretary to the Commissioner; City Supervisor David Fergueson, George W. Floyd of New Rochelle, W. R. Sheehan, secretary to Police Commissioner Waldo; Joseph J. O'Reilly, editor of The Chief; Isaac D. White, William Waddell, M. E. Jordan, Frederick Smythe of the Museum of Natural History, Sol Bloom, Sol Manheimer, John Arrons, Louis La Roche of the Park Department, M. F. Loughman, and Edward Loughman.

PUGILIST FINED WITH OTHERS

"One-Round Hogan," Disorderly Gave Occupation as Laborer.

Four well-dressed young men appeared before Magistrate Appleton in the West Side Court yesterday morning when intoxication and disorderly conduct cases were called. Patrolman Egan of the West Sixty-eighth Street Station was the complainant. Three of the prisoners gave their names as, respectively, Martin Darry, a bank clerk, of 240 West Sixty-seventh Street; Joseph Smith, chauffeur, of 24 West Sixty-fourth Street, and Joseph Cartright, a clerk, of 232 West Sixty-seventh Street. When the Magistrate came to the fourth, he said he was Walter Davis of 508 Amsterdam Avenue.

"What is your occupation?" asked the Court.

"Oh, I'm a laborer. I do odd jobs at parks along the river." The patrolman told the Magistrate that he had found the quartette at Seventy-ninth Street and the Hudson River early yesterday morning, making trouble, and that he had to get three other policemen to help make the arrests. Cartright, he said, had removed most of his clothes to swim out to the warships in the river. Then the policeman spoke in a whisper to the Magistrate for a moment.

"So you are a laborer?" asked the Magistrate of Davis. "Well, now I hear you are a pugilist. Is that true?"

"Yes," replied the prisoner. "I am known as 'One Round Hogan.'"

Magistrate Appleton fined Davis, Darry, and Smith each $5, giving Cartright fifteen days in the workhouse for abusing the policeman who arrested him. Darry did not have the money, and was being led away with Cartright, when the latter handed him the amount of his fine. The Magistrate saw the act, and recalling the chauffeur, reduced his sentence from fifteen to ten days because of his charity toward his fellow-prisoner.

DIRECT PRIMARY MEETINGS.

Sulzer Begins Tour This Week—Roosevelt to Speak on June 17.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, June 1.—Gov. Sulzer, Col. Roosevelt, W. Bourke Cockran, William S. Bennet, Frederick M. Davenport, and Daniel J. Dugan will be the speakers at a direct primary campaign meeting in Harmanus Bleecker Hall on the night of June 17, the day after the extra session of the Legislature begins.

Gov. Sulzer believes this meeting will be attended by all the members of the Legislature, and will go far toward convincing them of the popularity of the Direct Primary bill. Col. Roosevelt and Mr. Davenport will represent the Progressive Party, Mr. Bennet will speak for the Republican Party, and Daniel J. Dugan will represent the Progressive Democracy of Albany County.

On Wednesday of this week the Governor will go to Glens Falls to address a direct primary rally. On Friday he will speak in Catskill, and in Poughkeepsie on Saturday. Early next week he will go to Rochester, swinging back east to Yonkers, Mount Vernon, and New Rochelle. On June 13 and 14 the Governor will address meetings in Cooper Union, New York; the Academy of Music, Brooklyn, and Ulmer Park and Brownsville.

SUMMON SENATORS IN BLOCKS OF FOUR

INQUIRY BEGINS TO-DAY

Wilson Still Ready to Give Evidence, but No Decision Made About Calling Him.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The investigation into the alleged lobby against the Tariff bill will be begun to-morrow morning by a sub-committee of the Senate Committee on the Judiciary, which will ascertain the truth of the charges made by President Wilson.

The character of the debate in the Senate on the resolution for the investigation indicated that few, if any, Senators put much stock in the accusations of President Wilson. This feeling extended to Democratic as well as Republican Senators, but the general feeling was that the statement of the President, while it did not charge corrupt methods by members of the so-called lobby, constituted a serious accusation against the Senate that should not be passed unnoticed.

The disposition of the sub-committee is to get through with the inquiry as quickly as possible, and it is probable that it will hold night sessions to accomplish this.

All the ninety-six members of the Senate, including those who compose the committee, will be required to answer eleven searching questions, some of which will require detailed explanation that is bound to consume considerable time. One of the questions requires each Senator to give as fully as possible accounts of conversations held with persons interested in the tariff legislation. Other questions demand the names of such persons, and those of business concerns interested in the tariff with which Senators are connected.

All Senators are expected to respond willingly to the questions, but many of them are wondering just what to say about the scores of business and professional men who have been to see them about tariff matters since the bill passed the House. They will be called alphabetically in blocks of four.

The committee will also call all persons named by Senators as having approached them in regard to any tariff matter. This is likely to be a long proceeding.

Whether President Wilson will be called as a witness has not been determined, and will depend mainly on the President's disposition. It has not been the practice for Presidents of the United States to appear personally before Congressional Committees of Inquiry, even when the matters under investigation have involved the Executive, but Mr. Wilson cares so little for precedent that there will be no surprise here if he consents to testify.

There is nothing to show that the inquiry will approach in sensational features the last investigation of a tariff scandal. That was in 1894, when the Senate felt obliged to take cognizance of newspaper reports and common rumor that Senators were taking advantage of advance knowledge of committee amendments made in the sugar schedule of the Wilson-Gorman Tariff bill by speculating in Sugar stock.

That investigation committee reported that it had found no evidence of any improper conduct on the part of Senators, and its recommendation that no further proceedings be taken was adopted.

HOT BASEBALL BEHIND BARS

"Hustlers" and Tigers" Tie for Lead of Penitentiary League.

ATLANTA, June 1.—The pennant race among the eight clubs in the United States Penitentiary Baseball League in this city is two months old, and has developed as many surprises as the fights in the major leagues of the National game. The "Giants," winners last year, are no better than fourth, with a percentage of .500. The "Athletics" are "in the cellar"—not a victory to their credit. The race now is between the "Hustlers" and the "Tigers," each with a clean record of victories, the "Hustlers" leading the "Tigers" by one.

"Old Reliable," star pitcher for the "Giants," who won fifteen out of sixteen games last season, was hurt last Sunday. At the time of his injury "Old Reliable," also known as "Black Matty," had reached the last inning of a no-hit game, while the team back of him had piled up eight runs.

Good Words, the prison paper, has a sporting editor with a thoroughly up-to-date style, although he mixes his tenses when excited. This is the way he describes the game mentioned:

> Now for the game of the season. Again the mighty "Giants" bite the dust, and it was the despised "Pirates" who laid them low. Up to the last inning "Old Reliable" had a no-hit game, and the score stood 8 to 1 in his favor. In stopping a hard-hit grounder he hurt his pitching hand, and "Nick" essayed to finish.
>
> Things broke loose. It was a tidal wave. The "Pirates," placing hit after hit over second, scored three runs. More hits, and then Register No. 3833, with the bases intoxicated, hits over the right field bank and everybody scores.
>
> The "Giants'" Captain goes into the box, but the "Pirates" would not be denied, and old "15," the "Pirates'" fifty-year-old Captain, places a hit over shortstop, and the score is tied. The "Giants" retire a man and fight gallantly, but the "Pirates," waving the black flag, pushed over the winning run.

The Prison League's President is Deputy Warden Hawk. He had to decide a protested game recently, and ordered it played over. The league recognizes the waiving and releasing of players from the different teams, and every question known to league ball comes up for settlement.

"Ban Johnson, the dominating disciplinarian who rules the American League, has nothing on our President," says Good Words.

POLICE TRAP AUTO SPEEDERS

A Dozen Motorists Arrested on the Merrick Road Yesterday.

FREEPORT, L. I., June 1.—Chief of Police Dunbar and his men went on duty along the Merrick Road this afternoon to watch for auto speed violators. Before their watch was over they had arrested a dozen autoists. They were fined $10 each when arraigned before Justice Clinton H. Flint.

Some of those arrested had difficulty in paying their fines, as they did not have the money with them, and the Justice refused to accept checks. Capt. Dunbar said that the village ordinance prohibited a speed of more than twelve miles an hour for autos, but that the drivers frequently went through the village at a rate of thirty or forty miles an hour.

Two Wars More, One Against War.

Dr. Leo Mannheimer of Paterson, N. J., delivered the principal address last evening at the Memorial Day exercises of the Emerson Literary Society of the Young Men's Hebrew Association, at Ninety-second Street and Lexington Avenue. Dr. Mannheimer said that America in the two wars which it now faced, the war against social injustice and the war against war, must bring into practice the ideals of the Jewish prophets. It was the duty of every young man and woman, he said, to enlist in the fight for the "new freedom."

12,000 GREET CUBAN BAND.

Cuban Residents Out in Force for Concert Arranged by Consul General

The Cuban National Band which came here from Havana to take part in the exercises marking the dedication of the Maine Monument in Columbus Circle on Memorial Day played yesterday at the opening concert of the season at the Mall in Central Park. Park Commissioner Stover estimated the crowd about the band stand at 12,000. His guess was conservative, and during the concert by the Cuban band and that by Franz Kaltenborn's orchestra, which followed, probably 20,000 people enjoyed the music. The police had their hands full keeping the throng off sections of the lawns where "Keep off the grass" signs were displayed.

The Cuban band played from 3 until 4 o'clock, and then Commissioner Stover made an address in which he said that Havana was ahead of New York in one particular at least. The Cuban band is provided for by that municipality. New York, said the Commissioner, had already devoted some $50,000 to music this year, but had not yet seen fit to create a municipal orchestra or band. The Commissioner favored such a step.

The concert yesterday was arranged by Consul General Mariano Rocafort of Cuba, who cabled to the Cuban Government authorities asking that the gunboat Cuba be allowed to remain here a day longer.

In his address Mr. Stover said:

"This concert should serve to cement even more closely the bonds of friendship between America and Cuba, and especially between New York and Havana. We appreciate the concert, first of all, because of its excellence, and then because had the orders first issued been carried out the gunboat Cuba would now be on the sea headed for Havana Harbor."

He added that it was probably the only band concert in the park this season, as it had been decided to use the orchestra exclusively.

There were sixty-three members of the band, beside Conductor José Molina Torreo. When they appeared on the stand promptly at 3 o'clock, clad in their military uniforms of khaki, they were received with hearty applause. The band struck up the "Star Spangled Banner," "Dixie," and "Yankee Doodle," and the patriotic airs brought the crowd to its feet, cheering. Just as generous applause was voiced when the Cuban national anthem was played. Another Cuban air, dedicated to the President of that Republic, won special favor. There were a few queer-looking band instruments, new to the Manhattanite, which attracted some attention.

Nearly every Cuban resident of New York was present at the concert, and little groups scattered about in the great crowd joined in singing some of the Cuban airs. Among the Cubans who were present as the guests of Mr. Stover were Capt. Juan Cruz Bustillos, Lieut. Virgilio G. Villalta, Lieut. G. Mena, E. Mantella, Chancellor of the Cuban Consulate, and Francesco E. Fonseca. In their honor a great Cuban flag was swung across one of the paths, alongside the American flag. After the concert the officers and members of the band were photographed on an adjoining lawn. Then they piled their instruments into a wagon for transportation to the Cuba, and sought their friends. Many of them waited about to hear the American orchestra play.

BEEF TARIFF AIDS NEW YORK

The West Will Cease to Monopolize Packing Trade, Bulletin Says.

The Merchants' Association, in its weekly bulletin, which will be issued today, points out that the meat packing industry will undergo important changes with the reduction of the tariff and the importation of beef from the Argentine. A large packing plant is to be established in this city, The Bulletin hears, and it asserts that the West will no longer monopolize the packing industry.

"With the continued rapid settlement of the West," the bulletin says, "it is becoming more and more difficult to raise cattle in great numbers at a low cost, a condition which is resulting in a gradual decrease in the total cattle supply of the country. In the face of the decreased exports of meats and the rapidly increasing home consumption, this will inevitably result in three things:

"First, the Eastern farmer will find it increasingly profitable to enter cattle raising on a large scale; second, the importation of meats from such natural production regions as Argentine will follow; third, there will be a decided lessening of the amount of meat shipped from the Western packing establishments, and there will be a rapid increase in the wholesale slaughtering and packing industry in the Eastern centres.

"This does not mean that New York will rival the Chicago stock yards. It does mean that New York will reap the advantages which an increase of importance as a producing and manufacturing centre in the industry will bring. It is the natural port of entry for the importation of dessed beef from Argentine, and is, therefore, the natural centre for the distribution of these products throughout the Eastern cities.

BRONX CHILDREN'S DAY.

Borough Officials Plan a Celebration for Them on June 20.

The third annual celebration of "Borough Day" in the Bronx will be held on Friday, June 20. Arrangements for the event are in the hands of Borough President Cyrus C. Miller, Park Commissioner Higgins, and Olin J. Stephens. This year a parade of the school children, whose entertainment is the object of "Borough Day," will take precedence over other celebrations. All the school children will have a holiday, those over twelve parading in the morning, and those under twelve reviewing the procession.

The line of march will be on the Grand Boulevard and Concourse, from 170th Street south to 163d Street. Here there will be a reviewing stand, where the borough officials will preside as judges. Prizes for appearance and marching will be awarded to the most deserving classes. The children will be dressed alike, and will carry American flags, with a button in honor of the occasion. There will be ten battalions, and among the fifteen bands that will help them keep time will be those from the Hebrew Orphan Asylum and the Catholic Protectory. In the afternoon games have been arranged for the children in the nine parks of the borough.

FRIEDMANN UP TO CENSORS.

Medical Board to Consider Ethical Side of Vaccine Institute.

The question of professional ethics raised by the opening of the Friedrich Franz Friedmann Institute in West End Avenue, at 103d Street, will be discussed behind closed doors at the Academy of Medicine this evening by the thirteen members of the Board of Censors of the New York County Medical Society. This board, which includes in its membership some of the best-known physicians in New York, is a sort of vigilance committee. It assembles this evening for the special purpose of reviewing the Friedmann case.

It is quite likely that after talking over the matter of the sale here of the Friedmann vaccine that the subject will be indefinitely postponed on the ground that professional ethics were no longer involved, as the institution had been temporarily and, perhaps, permanently closed by the Board of Health.

In considering the conduct of the physicians who have been injecting the vaccine at the institue, the Board of Censors must also consider the relation to the institute of Dr. George G. Rambaud, a proceeding which many of the members do not relish, so high is his reputation among them. Not a few were inclined to believe that everything must be all right just because Dr. Rambaud was in it.

The therapeutic value of the Friedmann remedy is not a subject for the Board of Censors to consider.

POLITICS BIG FACTOR IN ROOSEVELT CASE

FEARED EFFECT ON PARTY

H. Olin Young, in Whose Defense Libel Was Published, Vanished Before the Trial Began.

Special to The New York Times.

MARQUETTE, June 1.—Several things contributed to the sensational finish of the Roosevelt-Newett libel suit yesterday. One was the disappearance from the fray of ex-Representative H. Olin Young, the man who pulled down the whole avalanche, for it was in his behalf that the Ishpeming editor embarked so light-heartedly on his experiment of engaging Theodore Roosevelt in combat.

Another was the interference of the less violent of Col. Roosevelt's adversaries in this region, who climbed upon Mr. Newett's shoulders and sought with might and main to pull him out of the lists.

Another was the view taken by the lawyers for Mr. Newett—after they had watched the plaintiff pile up his mountain of evidence—that to fight the thing any further would be to invite punitive instead of actual damages. It is true that the law of Michigan forbids punitive damages in the sense in which the words are used elsewhere, but Col. Roosevelt sued for $10,000, and if the jury had awarded the whole amount to Col. Roosevelt, it would have been regarded as punitive in Marquette County.

Mr. Newett set forth in his statement yesterday that when he charged Col. Roosevelt with getting drunk, cursing, and using foul language, he relied on statements made by "various reputable people" in Ishpeming and elsewhere, "who claimed to know the conditions as they existed in Washington and elsewhere, and in whose statements I had the utmost confidence, both as to their reliability and their opportunity to know the facts."

The libel was printed, according to Mr. Newett's sworn testimony, in consequence of the speech attacking ex-Representative Young as a tool of the "Interests," which Col. Roosevelt delivered at Marquette on Oct. 9. When the trial began Mr. Newett needed Mr. Young to go on the stand and testify to what he knew about Mr. Roosevelt's drinking habits, but Mr. Young made himself scarce. A very industrious and diligent search has failed to reveal anything as to his whereabouts, except that he is not in Michigan. Mr. Newett has been sending out S. O. S. and C. Q. D. calls for a week, but his wireless apparatus hasn't been strong enough to reach Mr. Young's station.

The second contributory cause relates to the positive interference of some of the Republican leaders here. Mr. Newett, like Mr. Young, belongs to the extremest school of old-line Republicans, the men to whom Theodore Roosevelt's name is as a red rag to a bull. Party politics here is much hotter than in the East; it is no half-way belief.

Leaders Became Alarmed.

But before the trial had been going on twenty-four hours the cooler-headed Republican leaders saw that it was certain to end in an overwhelming victory for Col. Roosevelt, which would put their organization on the scrap heap for good. The Colonel carried Marquette County at the last election, but another week of this trial, with James H. Pound romping through the defendant's testimony and tossing it on his horns and the jury giving Col. Roosevelt a verdict for the full amount without leaving its seats, would have made it unanimous.

So for several days the more cautious among them have been pleading with Mr. Newett to get out of the way of the locomotive for the sake of the party, but he refused until he saw the hopelessness of the fight.

The organization of which Messrs. Young and Newett are leaders has had everything its own way for a long time, and has carried things with a high hand. Mr. Newett wields a merciless pen. His editorial columns lashed his opponents in the manner not of modern newspaper writing, but in the good old-fashioned way in which Horace Greeley used to write "You lie, you villain, you lie." He has gone his way for years, leaving his victims strewn around him, but mostly they were, as one man said to-day, "little fellows who didn't dare hit back; they were not Roosevelts."

When James Russell swung The Marquette Mining Journal to the Bull Moose Party and began a whirlwind fight to tear down the organization, the intensity of feeling aroused in the Republican autocracy was extreme. As the campaign went on it became evident that the organization was on the run; the feeling grew until a man who referred to Col. Roosevelt without profanity was regarded as lukewarm. At this stage of the campaign the Colonel came to Marquette and helped the good feeling along by giving vent to a few pleasant sentiments about Mr. Young as a tool of the Steel Trust. A man in the audience arose and told the Colonel that he was a liar, whereupon the Colonel, after learning the man's name, identified him as "a tool of the trusts," and gave a little history of him then and there. Mr. Newett was present. He went back to Ishpeming and wrote an editorial for his paper describing Col. Roosevelt as a person who "gets drunk and not infrequently, and all his intimates know this."

Colonel Was On Watch.

Mr. Newett penned this in sheer gayety of heart. He did not know that Col. Roosevelt had instructed all the Bull Moose leaders to keep a sharp lookout on all the opposition newspapers, and to send to him anything that might get into print charging him with drunkenness. He knew that the story of his habits was all over the continent; he had run into it everywhere he had gone, but it was always in the form of whispered gossip. And here is a little unwritten history on that point.

About two weeks before the Marquette speech the Colonel was in Atlanta, Ga., when a reporter for an Atlanta paper came into ask him what he had to say about the charge made by a campaign publication of the Prohibition Party to the effect that he drank to excess. The Colonel, without irritation, gave the reporter a list of all the drinks he had taken that he could remember. After the reporter had gone the Colonel, turning to the newspaper men who accompanied him, said, "I hoped he had brought me the charge made in some responsible papers. This little campaign paper in Indiana has no assets; but the moment a responsible paper, with money enough to pay a damage verdict, makes that charge, I shall sue it. I'm going to settle this thing once for all the moment I get a chance."

Then came the news that The Ishpeming Iron Ore had printed the story. It came while the Colonel was dining in a hotel in Chicago, surrounded by his Bull Moose lieutenants. "Good!" he shouted after reading it, and he gave orders that inquiry should be made instantly as to the financial responsibility of The Iron Ore. The reports that came in were satisfactory, and suit was entered.

When the news reached Marquette County Mr. Newett and his friends in the organization believed they would have no trouble in getting plenty of evidence. It proved harder to get than they had expected, and they combed the country, finally producing a pile of depositions from persons who had seen the Colonel going through a crowd or had heard him make a speech and were convinced that he was drunk. They obtained other depositions from persons who testified that it was common gossip that Roosevelt drank, but Judge Flannigan ruled this sort of testimony out on the third day of the trial.

However, they did expect to make a good fight, and were amazed and appalled at the volume and extent and especially the kind of testimony introduced by the plaintiff from the outset. Before the first day had ended the Republican leaders, seeing the inevitable result of the trial, were beginning to figure the effect of the recoil upon themselves. They urged Mr. Newett to back down. But he had been a fighter all his life; defeat was a new thing to him, and, despite the absence of Mr. Young, he would not yield until he realized that his case was hopeless.

TELLS OF PLANNING DICTOGRAPH TRAP

Moore Says Friends Advised Him to Use Burns Detectives to Catch Brother's Accusers.

HE HAD HIS HOME WIRED

But Evidence Collected There Was Not Deemed Sufficient, So Philadelphia Meeting Was Called.

Special to The New York Times.

WOODBURY, N. J., June 1.—David Wilson Moore, Jr., the retired glass manufacturer, who arranged for the arrest in Philadelphia yesterday of Joseph J. Summerill, Prosecutor of Gloucester County, N. J., and three members of the Bondholders' Committee of the defunct Moore Brothers' Glass Company of Clayton, after detectives had heard through dictographs an alleged attempt on the part of the accused men to force Moore to pay a large sum to protect his brother from prosecution, gave out further details of the case to-day.

"My brother was never approached by the Bondholders' Committee with respect to his alleged shortage of $8,000," Mr. Moore asserted.

Mr. Moore said his brother Charles worked for the glass company for several years as a clerk and paymaster, and upon the reorganization of the concern in 1902 was allotted some stock and made Secretary.

"It was on the first Monday night in May that Joseph Best came to me and told me," Mr. Moore said, "that accountants in going over the books of the glass company, which was put in the hands of a receiver in 1911, had discovered an alleged shortage against my brother. This, he said, amounted to some $8,000. I told him that if such was the case that the other members of the family would make good the delinquency. He said that the committee would not be satisfied with mere restitution. It was early intimated that Prosecutor Summerill had knowledge of the evidence against my brother which the Bondholders' Committee said it had.

"I was told that if the family was to save its good name it must guarantee the glass company's $200,000 in bonds and pay the committee $5,000 for its expenses. This is the sum specified in the agreement that I signed just before the men were arrested. When the proposal was first put up to me I made a trip to Colorado Springs and consulted with my father, who is now 83 years old. We then believed, and still believe, my brother innocent of any crime, and we decided to fight.

"Upon my return I had a talk with friends, and through their advice employed Burns detectives on the case. My home at Clayton was secretly wired for the dictograph, and I had a conference with the members of the Bondholders' Committee there. Nothing of consequence happened, but we arranged for another conference at Philadelphia. In the meantime I received information that the case against my brother would very likely be presented before the Grand Jury at the May term of court.

"I asked for more time, and received a letter from Mr. Best in which he said that I should have until the end of the month. After my lawyers had gone over the notes transcribed by a stenographer who heard the conversation over the dictograph last week they decided that the evidence was sufficient to make an arrest, but thought best to have a final conference at which I was to request a signed statement from the committee. I went to Paterson on Friday night to telephone back to Best to arrange for the meeting that took place yesterday afternoon. I tried for an hour to get the connection, but was unable to do so, and had to trust to the telegraph. I was afraid the telegram would miscarry, but the men met me as stipulated, and the public has the story of what happened after we went to Room 1,214 in the Bellevue in Philadelphia."

The arrest of the four men, who are prominent in this county, has caused a stir. Joseph Best, a County Freeholder, attended church at Woodbury this morning. George W. Dickensheets, President of the Woodbury National Bank, was at his accustomed place as Superintendent of the First Presbyterian Church in Gloucester. H. W. Stille, a stock promotor of Clayton, left home early in the day and motored to a seaside resort to stay with relatives.

Small Fire in Gaynor Tenement.

Fire in a shoe store on the ground floor of a five-story brick tenement at 224 Myrtle Avenue, near Navy Street, Brooklyn, owned by Mayor William J. Gaynor, aroused the sleeping tenants early yesterday morning and caused them to make a hasty flight from the building. Some of them got to the street by the fire escapes. No one was injured. The fire was confined to the store, which was occupied by Simon Schloss.

FRENCH CRITICISE OUR FINANCIERS

Journal des Debats Says American Securities Are Undesirable.

FRISCO THE LAST STRAW

By Marconi Transatlantic Wireless Telegraph to The New York Times.

PARIS, June 1.—The bitterness against American securities is far from abating. This evening's Journal des Débats, after reviewing the series of disappointments that Paris investors have suffered before the Frisco receivership, such as Westinghouse's suspension of payments at the very moment when a Paris bank was handling the issue here, and the American Telephone and Telegraph incident of 1911, says:

"American financial morals make operations in securities depending upon New York particularly dangerous. American bankers, in fact, have the idea, which is accepted as perfectly legitimate there, that ability only counts in business."

The editorial concludes: "We must believe that the evidence of these proceedings makes American securities undesirable in France. Speculative securities are in the hands of unscrupulous manipulators, who will never hesitate to fleece our market. As for investment securities, some of the first order exist in the United States, but the profit on those of this category does not leave enough margin to allow them to be quoted in Paris. Our fiscal organization, at any rate, is opposed to it; for it acts as a filter which lets pass only those securities which somebody has special interest to place with us."

ACCUSED OF RITUAL MURDER

Russian Jew to be Tried for Alleged Crime Two Years Old.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 1.—The Minister of Justice has ordered a trial in June or early in July of Mendel Beilliss, accused of the murder of a Christian boy, Andrew Yushchinsky, on March 25, 1911, near Kieff. It is announced that the prosecutor will uphold the theory of ritual murder, and that probably the trial will be held with closed doors.

The mutilated body of Andrew Yushchinsky, a thirteen-year-old boy, was discovered in a small cave on a suburban holding just outside of Kieff. The hands were tied behind the back, and the examination revealed no fewer than forty-seven wounds.

Beilliss, who was a clerk in a brick factory near by, was arrested on the charge of being directly concerned in the murder. He has been held in close confinement ever since. According to the official medical evidence quoted in the indictment, all the wounds were inflicted while the boy was alive.

Numerous witnesses have already been examined, and their testimony has been incorporated in the indictment, which concludes:

"On the basis of these facts Beilliss is charged with entering into a conspiracy with other undiscovered persons to deprive the boy Yushchinsky of his life by methods of torture, and with having perpetrated or connived at the atrocities perpetrated on the boy."

WOMEN LOSE IN AUSTRALIA.

Candidates Beaten by Men in Federal Election—One Polls 10,000.

MELBOURNE, Monday, June 2.—While the returns of the Federal elections held Saturday are still far from being complete, The Argus estimates the result for the House of Representatives, with seventy-five seats, as follows: Laborites, 39; Liberals, 35, and Independent, 1. In the election of 1910 the returns showed: Labor Party, 44; Fusionists, 29, and Independent Liberals, 2. The Age estimates a Liberal gain of eleven and a Labor gain of seven.

The returns are arriving slowly because the counting was suspended from midnight Saturday until Monday morning.

While the Labor Government will have a decreased majority in the House of Representatives, indications point to a gain in the Senate.

So far as can be told from the returns, the three women candidates were unsuccessful. Miss Goldstein, Independent, in one of the Victoria districts, polled 10,000, against 16,000 polled by her Liberal opponent.

Haverford to Liverpool To-day.

QUEENSTOWN, June 1.—The American Line steamship Haverford, which ran on the rocks off Cork Head Thursday, and later was towed to Queenstown, will proceed for Liverpool for repairs to-morrow. The Haverford has been temporarily patched and her pumps are able to cope with the leakage. It is said that the damage is confined to two bottom plates.

TELEPHONE WIRE KILLS BOY

Eight-Year-Old Grasps One Hanging Loose from a Pole.

Special to The New York Times.

ITHACA, N. Y., June 1.—While picking daisies in a field near his home today James Reynolds, the 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Reynolds, grasped a loose telegraph wire hanging from a pole and was instantly killed by electricity. His mother, who was called to the scene by the boy's companions, tried to release the boy's hands from the wire and received a bad shock.

The wire is believed to have crossed a high power wire, as there is not enough voltage in an ordinary telephone wire to kill.

Policeman Dragged by Runaway.

Patrolman Charles H. Schilling of the Clinton Street Police Station was on post yesterday morning at 10 o'clock on Rivington Street when a runaway horse attached to a delivery wagon of Rubin & Wilner of 56 Market Street plunged down upon him, scattering the crowd in every direction. Schilling saw the horse knock down a man, and, realizing that others were in danger, ran out into the street and in a running jump caught the bridle. He was dragged more than a block, but succeeded in stopping the animal. Dr. Banks of Gouverneur Hospital, who was called, found that Schilling was severely bruised on the body and legs.

BERLIN SURPRISED BY LOAN.

Issue of $47,500,000 Imperial and Prussian Consols a Surprise.

By Marconi Transatlantic Wireless Telegraph to The New York Times.

LONDON, Monday, June 2.—The Berlin correspondent of The Times, referring to Saturday's announcement of a fresh issue of $12,500,000 4 per cent. German Imperial consols, $35,000,000 4 per cent. Prusian consols, both irredeemable until 1935, says that it came as a surprise. It appears that the Government proposed to the usual syndicate an issue of $75,000,000 in all, including about $25,000,000 of Treasury bills, but agreed without much discussion to the smaller issue which is now announced.

It will be remembered that the issue of Treasury bonds last February turned out very unsatisfactorily. Although no official statement has been issued, it is understood that the difference between the Government requirements of $75,000,000 and the present public issue of $56,250,000, has been met by bankers taking $18,750,000 5½ per cent. one-year Treasury bills. When the February issues were made the banks knew that $75,000,000 more would be required, but yesterday's decision to hurry into the market was a complete surprise to the public.

KNEW "JACK THE RIPPER."

Late Scotland Yard Head Says He Was "a Fascinating Criminal."

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, June 1.—Sir Melville MacNaghten, head of the criminal investigation department of Scotland Yard, who has just retired, has made an interesting disclosure in reference to "Jack the Ripper," who terrorized the East End and murdered seven women in 1888. The murderer, according to Sir Melville, committed suicide soon after the last killing.

"That remarkable man was one of the most fascinating criminals. Of course, he was a maniac, but I have a very clear idea of who he was and how he committed suicide; but that, with other secrets, will never be revealed by me. I have destroyed all my documents, and there is now no record of the secret information which came into my possession at one time or another."

MILITANTS HIRE A GUARD.

Hyde Park Speakers Protected by Men with Clubs—No Rioting.

LONDON, June 1.—Defying the police order closing Hyde Park to their meetings, the Women's Social and Political Union sent speakers there to-day, who held forth for a long time under the protection of bodyguards of male sympathizers armed with clubs.

When the comparatively peaceful nonmilitant organizations, which still are permitted to use the park, finished their customary Sunday demonstrations, flags of the Women's Social and Political Union were raised at twelve different points and as many speakers began to harangue the crowds.

Mobs of men and boys started to rush the speakers, but, to their amazement, found themselves menaced by disciplined bodyguards wielding stout clubs. The crowds had to content themselves with hooting and singing, while the police looked on without attempting to check the speakers.

The plan of dividing the gathering into sections proved completely successful, and the bodyguard of each division was ample to protect the women.

GLASGOW, June 1.—Suffragettes are blamed for fires which started simultaneously in two waiting rooms of the Shields Road Railway station to-day. The fires were extinguished after considerable damage had been done.

ROMANONES REMAINS.

King Alfonso Asks Premier and Cabinet to Continue in Office.

MADRID, June 1.—Count de Romanones, who on May 30 resigned as Premier, together with all his Ministry, has consented to resume office.

He returns to the Premiership at the request of King Alfonso, who has consulted with all the leaders. The Cabinet will remain as it was before its resignation.

Vatican Accepts Church Tax Law.

MADRID, June 1.—The Papal Nuncio to-day informed the Foreign Minister that the Vatican would accept the new Spanish law taxing church properties of all kinds.

OUTINGS FOR THE POOR.

Big Party of Babies and Toilers on Vacation to Sea Breeze To-day.

The opening of free fresh air excursions for the season will begin at 9 o'clock this morning, when a big party of mothers and their babies, working girls, and aged toilers, will leave the Public Bath, in East Twenty-third Street for Sea Breeze, Coney Island, the Fresh Air Home of the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, to remain there for two weeks. For the last month, requests for fresh air outings have been pouring into the association's headquarters from hospitals, dispensaries, nurseries, churches, and settlements. Six hundred persons, nearly all of whom have only recently returned from some hospital, or from under the care of a dispensary, have been selected for the first party. These include fifty children from the Chelsea Day Nursery, whose parents have tuberculosis.

In addition to the parties of from 300 to 500 persons that will be sent to Sea Breeze every Monday morning until October, the association has also planned to give week-end outings at the home for a number of working girls who cannot stop work to rest because they are the chief support of widowed mothers, or sick parents. As soon as the public schools close, parties of 500 each will be sent three times a week to the fresh air home for a day's outing.

Mothers and children will be examined at the Public Bath in East Twenty-third Street by physicians, so as to eliminate any case of contagious disease. The party will then be taken by ferry to Greenpoint, and from there in special trolley cars to Coney Island.

At the request of the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor 185 agencies of various sorts will cooperate in a plan for registration of all fresh beneficiaries by the Social Service Exchange, so as to prevent overlapping and duplication of work. Within the last week the Exchange has registered more than 700 children. It expects to register 25,000 beneficiaries during the Summer.

POPE WELL ON EVE OF 78TH BIRTHDAY

Boston Doctor Says the Pontiff Has Many Years to Live.

BIDS GOOD-BY TO O'CONNELL

And Expresses Much Interest in Missionary Congress to be Held in Boston in October.

ROME, June 1.—The Pope will be 78 years of age to-morrow, and innumerable telegrams and messages from all parts of the world have arrived at the Vatican, felicitating the Pontiff and wishing him many happy years of life. The Pope will spend his birthday very quietly, admitting only relatives and members of his entourage to his apartments.

The Pope this morning received in farewell audience Cardinal William H. O'Connell, Archbishop of Boston, who is leaving Rome for home on Wednesday. When the Cardinal entered the private library, the Pope met him half way, saying: "I am sorry you are going—very sorry."

The Pontiff, notwithstanding three hours' hard work which he had already accomplished, besides the fatiguing receptions of late, appeared as strong and alert as when Cardinal O'Connell saw him on May 21. They conversed at length on many important ecclesiastical questions. The Pope inquired regarding the Missionary Congress which is to meet at Boston in October, saying that he understood it would be attended by about sixty Bishops from the United States and Canada. He wished the Congress every success, and added that undoubtedly Boston would extend to the members its proverbial hospitality.

When the audience was about to end the Pope, recalling the fact that when he received Cardinal O'Connell on the previous occasion, the Cardinal's companions, Monsignor Michael J. Splaine of the Archdiocese of Boston, and Dr. J. R. Slattery, Superintendent of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Boston, remained in an anteroom, foregoing the honor of being received by the Pope because they were not in regulation attire, asked: "Where are your friends?"

The Cardinal replied, "In the antechamber."

"I hope," said the Pope laughingly, "that this time they are suitably costumed to appear before me."

Receiving an affirmative answer, the Pope requested that Monsignor Splaine and Dr. Slattery be presented. He recognized the former immediately, and congratulated him on his fluent Italian, Monsignor Splaine having learned the language while he was a student of the American College in Rome, when Cardinal O'Connell was rector.

After giving him his hand to kiss, the Pope kept Dr. Slattery's hand in his, saying: "I pray that your mission as a Christian physician will bear blessed fruits."

Afterward the Pontiff blessed St. Elizabeth's Hospital and the work of the Franciscan Sisters there, and also the doctors and nurses.

Dr. Slattery was the first physician of any nationality received by the Pope since his illness, with the exception of his personal attendants. The moment he was outside the audience room Dr. Slattery was surrounded by officials of the Vatican and others, all of whom were anxious to learn of the impression he had received. In describing that impression, Dr. Slattery said:

"No doctor could fail to note that the Pope has robust and healthy fibre. I could tell from the grasp of his hand and the vivacity of his eyes that there remains plenty of life, that the Pontiff has many years to live. While holding my hand I felt it as in a vise. The Holy Father does not look in the least like a man who has been seriously ill. I could see by his general appearance and the color of his skin that his circulation is excellent."

CARONIA IN A GALE.

Brings Motorists Who Toured Along Sahara Desert.

The Cunard liner Caronia, which arrived yesterday from Liverpool, met a fresh gale from Friday to Saturday, which Capt. David Dow described as a hard "Yankee blow," accompanied by a heavy head sea. The speed of the ship was reduced at one time to six knots, and she made only 340 knots in twenty-four and a half hours.

Among the passengers was Irving J. Schmelzel, a retired New York stock broker, who has been away five months with his wife motoring in Northern Africa. From Biskra, on the borders of the Sahara Desert, Mr. Schmelzel said they went to Sidi Okba, where the great Arab General of the same name is buried. They passed a marabout or holy man, who had been lying in one spot on the sand for fifty years. His beard and matted gray hair reached to his feet. The camel drivers of the passing caravans throw the marabout coins or leave him food to get his blessing.

C. J. Sibbett, another passenger on the Caronia, arrived from South Africa to attend the International Advertisers Convention at Baltimore.

SUICIDE LEAPS INTO CROWD.

He Narrowly Misses Those Sitting Beneath His Window.

Max Leventhal, 46 years old, of 157 Ridge Street, jumped last night from the front window of his apartments on the third floor to the street, narrowly missing a number of men, women, and children who were sitting in front of the building. Policeman Hogan of the Union Market Station heard the screams of the women and, with the assistance of a passer-by, carried Leventhal into a drug store. A hurry call was sent to Gouverneur Hospital, but when Dr. Banks arrived the man was dead.

Mrs. Leventhal, when notified of the death of her husband, ran screaming to the street, followed by her children. Later she said her husband had been in the lace business, with a store at 146 Ridge Street, up to a few months ago, when a fire wiped out his stock. He carried no insurance, and this preyed on his mind.

GIVES TO FIGHT CANCER.

Arthur James Provides a Memorial for His Brother.

By Marconi Transatlantic Wireless Telegraph to The New York Times.

LONDON, June 1.—Arthur James has given the income of $100,000 to the Middlesex Hospital for Cancer Research as a memorial to his late brother, William.

BULGARS HARASS GREEKS.

Try to Press Them Back at Salonika—Servians and Greeks Confer.

SALONIKA, June 1.—Although Greek headquarters have strictly enjoined all commanders to avoid engagements, the Bulgarians are trying to push back the Greek forces, and several encounters have ensued.

The Greek Minister at Sofia has been ordered to enter a protest and to inform the Bulgarian Government that the Greek Government declines responsibility for the results of Bulgarian provocation.

The Greek Minister at Belgrade, the Servian Minister at Athens, and several Servian officers have held a long conference here with M. Venizelos, the Greek Premier.

SOFIA, June 1.—The Bulgarian and Servian Premiers met on the frontier to-night, and hopes are entertained that they will be able to reach a settlement on the questions in dispute between the two countries.

LONDON, June 2.—The Daily Mail's Sofia correspondent says that a report has reached there that M. Venizelos, the Greek Premier, has handed his resignation to King Constantine, asserting that he does not desire responsibility for the warlike disposition of the troops with regard to Bulgaria.

DRIVEN OUT BY THIEVES.

Jeweler Robbed Four Times in Two Years Is Going to Retire.

Four times in the last two years the jewelry store of William K. Loning, at 1,386 Third Avenue, has been robbed, and none of the stolen property has been recovered, nor have any of the thieves been captured. Two negroes left a cheap ring with the proprietor on Saturday to be repaired. They returned later, and, while one of them engaged the attention of Loning by having him examine a watch, the other negro went toward the rear of the store and seized a watch from a tray in the showcase. Loning saw the thief as he reached across the case, but both negroes ran from the store before he could intercept them.

Loning, who obtained a police whistle last week to guard himself against burglars, blew a blast upon it, and his granddaughter, Miss Wilhelmina Gerlich, who was in their apartments, heard it and ran to the street. She saw the negroes running west through Seventy-ninth Street, but they disappeared in Lexington Avenue before she could find any one to go in pursuit of them. As the negroes ran from the store one of them broke a glass panel that screene the counter near the door and grabbed the watch he had offered for examination, which was lying on the workbench.

Loning, who is 64 years old and has been in business for fifty years, says he will try to retire before he is robbed again.

ENLIST CHILDREN'S AID.

Protective Association Organizes Them to Clean East Side.

With the co-operation of the heads of city departments and hundreds of boys and girls whom it has interested in the work, the East Side Protective Association, with headquarters at 1 Avenue B, will inaugurate a campaign to-day to improve conditions of health on the east side this Summer. The object of the association, of which Gov. Sulzer, District Attorney Whitman, and other prominent citizens are members, is the suppression of vice, crime, and disease.

The association realizes, an official says, that much of the ill-health on the east side in Summer is caused by the insanitary conditions there, but it has not found it easy to make those living there see the necessity for putting their homes in order. It believes that the boys and girls of the public schools can accomplish much in the way of persuading their parents to clean house.

Commissioner Edwards of the Department of Street Cleaning, Third Deputy Commissioner Newburger of the Police Department, and the Health and Tenement House Departments have expressed willingness to help, and will see that the boys and girls get respectful attention and assistance from members of their departments.

TALKED BACK TO POLICEMAN

Nathan C. Kingsbury, Charged with Auto Speeding, Apologizes in Court.

A party of six persons returned by automobile yesterday afternoon from Hastings-on-the-Hudson. The auto was running down Broadway in Yonkers. Lieut. Van Steenburgh of the Yonkers police saw it and followed on his motor cycle. As the automobile turned into Irving Place the chauffeur saw the policeman and slowed down. At Quincy Place Van Steenburgh stopped the chauffeur and charged him with exceeding the speed limit.

"This is ridiculous," said a man, who asserted he was the owner of the motor. "I dare you to take us to the police station." Van Steenburgh accepted the challenge, and took the party to Yonkers Police Headquarters.

"It's bad business to talk back to a policeman," said Judge Beall to the man who had committed this indiscretion. "I realize it," said the man sadly, and offered apologies to Van Steenburgh. He gave his name as Nathan C. Kingsbury, and said he was Vice President of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. Judge Beall discharged the party.

SING AT LAWRENCE'S TOMB.

Centenary of the Hero of the Chesapeake Observed at Trinity.

The centenary of the death of Capt. James Lawrence, commander of the frigate Chesapeake, whose dying words, "Don't give up the ship," as he fell mortally wounded in a naval engagement with the British frigate Shannon on June 1, 1813, are graven on his tomb in Trinity churchyard, was fittingly observed there yesterday.

At the close of the Sunday school services 150 boys and girls, with their teachers, marched from the church to the plot where Capt. Lawrence is buried. The monument which marks his grave is one of the largest in the churchyard, and stands just to the south of the church, inside the Broadway entrance. It is surrounded by an inclosure at each corner of which is a cannon set on end. On the four sides of the monument are inscriptions. One is devoted to Lieut. Augustus C. Ludlow of the Chesapeake and another to Capt. Lawrence's widow.

The Rev. Dr. William T. Manning, rector of the church, had directed that flowers and the National colors be placed upon the monument. The Union Jack was spread across the face of the granite coffin, and the sides were draped with American flags and decorated with wreaths and flowers. A wreath of peonies and roses five feet in circumference was the offering from the Trinity Corporation. Miss Lawrence, a descendant of the Captain, placed a wreath of laurel at the foot of the monument.

As the children marched to the grave and circled about it Trinity's chimes played the National anthem and the children sang the words of the hymn. The Rev. Bruce V. Reddish, one of the curates of the church, then said prayers for the dead.

PASSAIC EDITOR TO TRIAL.

One of the Number to Answer for Riot Talk in Silk Mill Strike.

PATERSON, N. J., June 1.—Alexander Boyd, an editor, of Passaic, indicted for making inflammatory remarks against the Police Department in connection with the present silk strike, will be placed on trial to-morrow morning before Judge Klenert in the Court of Quarter Sessions. Thirty-five others, who were arrested for unlawful assemblage, are to be tried before the same Judge. It is expected that one of these thirty-five will stand trial and that the others will abide by the verdict of the jury.

No "foreign" jury will be used in these cases, the usual panel having been drawn to try them. The "foreign" jury will be brought here on Monday next from Hudson County, and at that time it is probable that Carlo Tresca will be placed on trial.

At Haledon this afternoon the usual week-end mass meeting of the strikers was held. "Big Bill" Haywood was the principal speaker. Once again he urged the strikers to get on the picket lines, and especially to-morrow morning, to head off any break that might take place in their ranks. Patrick Quinlan, Carlo Tresca, Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, and others also spoke.

The Double Breasted Sack

¶ The usual objections to the double breasted garment are hereby overruled.

¶ This Saks double breasted sack for men is single breasted at heart though double breasted in purpose.

¶ Gone are the bulk and the ungainliness and the rock-ribbed immobility of line.

¶ Long, narrow, tapering lapels and a coat that is short and shapely—and finished in the sense of having said enough and said it well!

¶ High cut vest and narrower trousers, and every separate garment of this capable double breaster tailored with a loving regard for perfection.

¶ Cut principally in chalk and pencil stripes, with patch pockets so ingeniously laid on that they are both a part of the suit and a thing apart.

¶ A suit that is as clean cut and as fit as a polo pony—a double breasted garment that is far abreast of average double breasted styles.

"What Can THE BRITANNICA Do For Me?"

No one can be certain that he is accurate in every statement, justified in every conclusion, or that he acts on the best information in everything he does.

But you can make the margin of error the smallest possible. You can avoid mistakes by seeking the best guidance in the Encyclopaedia Britannica, New 11th Edition.

No other book gives authoritative information by authorities in all fields.

Nothing is alien to it, from the most profound speculations of philosophy to the commonest objects of everyday life. Britannica spells Utility. The work, in fact, may be compared to a high-class tool or other appliance designed to produce practical results.

FOR INSTANCE:

If you are going abroad, or to California, Alaska, the Grand Canyon or the Panama Canal, The Encyclopaedia Britannica will give you just the information you would like to have to make your trip interesting. The work deals most exhaustively with all geographical subjects, and treats of all the important places in the world very fully, covering their history, commerce, natural features, etc., etc.

If you are reading Ibsen, or Browning or Shakespeare, or Nietzsche, the Britannica will give you a most illuminating discussion about their literary influence or position, together with a careful analysis by an authority of their literary ideals.

If your child is ill, and no physician is within call, the Britannica will help you to diagnose the symptoms and to apply the most helpful remedies that can be effectively used for the time being.

If you go to a museum and see the pottery, the paintings, the enamels, the bronzes, the laces, and the tapestries, the Britannica will help you to make an independent study of any one of these subjects. The arts and crafts department of the work has a most valuable series of articles by authorities on these subjects.

If you have forgotten a date, say, of a battle, an event in history, the birth of a famous man, you will be sure to find it in the Britannica.

If you wish to refresh your memory about an historical character, a play, a novel, a painting or an opera—all that you have to do is to turn to the name in its alphabetical place in the Index Volume of the Britannica. The Britannica is the only encyclopaedia whose contents are indexed.

If you wish to study cabinet-making, horticulture, or printing or photography or engraving, or any other art or craft, you will find the Britannica a most helpful source of authoritative information which you could not get in any other work.

If you wish to learn about the industries of Peru, of Germany, of Japan, of Arizona, or any of the States of the Union, or of the chief cities of the United States and Canada, you will find in the Britannica authoritative statistics of their products, of capital invested, output, labor, exports, and imports.

If you wish to know the law of contracts, divorce, landlord and tenant, bankruptcy in this and various other countries, the Britannica will be found of unfailing assistance and suggestion to you.

If you wish to know how, let us say, ink is made, or pins, or watches, or silk, or carpets, or glass, look it up in the Britannica. The work abounds in articles dealing with all industries in a practical and instructive way.

If you wish to know where, let us say, Puntarenas, or Agoulenitsa is, or any other strange place, or the exact location in Germany or Spain or Italy of a certain town or village, or mine, or river, or mountain, the Britannica will not fail you. It contains some 11,000 geographical articles, and more than 200,000 geographical names which can be located on the 459 maps.

If you wish to know why, for example, a cut apple turns brown, or the negroes are black, why the sky is blue, or why winter is colder than summer; why it is your hair stands on end when you are frightened, the Encyclopaedia Britannica will give you the answer, as well as the answer to thousands of other perplexing questions of similar import.

If you wish to know when, let us say, umbrellas were first used, or when the Chinese Exclusion law was passed, or when the British were driven from Boston, the Britannica will tell you instantly.

If you wish to know who, let us say, discovered ether, the circulation of the blood, the Sandwich Islands, the source of the Amazon River, or the chemical composition of a certain substance, you will find it in the Britannica, the great question answerer.

If you want the advice of an expert in playing lawn tennis, or golf, or poker, or chess, or on fencing, you can find it in the Britannica, in which every game is described and helpful suggestions are given.

If you are building a house and want to check up the recommendations of your builder about the distribution of lights in a room, the construction of the chimney flue, the installation of a heating plant, the Britannica will give you advice upon which you can depend.

If your newspaper refers to recent tariff legislation, the operation of inter-State commerce laws, or the growth of the woman suffrage agitation, the Britannica will illuminate the subject for you.

If your children have seen moving pictures representing an event in history, such as the voyage of Columbus, or scenes from literature, such as Dante's Inferno, or a feat of modern enterprise, such as the building of the Panama Canal, they will learn from the Britannica the exact facts and gain additional knowledge that will give lasting value to their impressions.

If you have heard a lecture on some phase of present-day thought, tendency or teaching, such as Materialism, Modernism, Pragmatism, or Eugenics, the Britannica will give concrete form to what you have heard, so that you can remember it and talk about it intelligently.

If in an argument you should say that the North American Indian is dying out, that an artificial diamond is not a real diamond, or that a man is safer under a tree during a thunderstorm than in the open, there is no better means of verifying your assertions than the Britannica.

If you are preparing a speech or writing an article, and need facts to enforce your points, or accurate data in any field, you can refer to the Britannica with confidence. After-dinner speakers, no less than clergymen and editorial writers, invariably go to it as to a court of last resort.

If you want the essential facts of the difference between anarchism and socialism, between fresco and tempera painting, the Early English and the Decorated Period in architecture, a Forman and a Wright aeroplane, or the "Dreadnought" and earlier types of battleships, the Britannica will give you exact information.

If you burn your finger or scald your foot, the Britannica will suggest the best household remedies and emergency treatment. It will also tell you how to act till medical aid can be had in the case of burns that endanger life.

If your doctor's prescription puzzles you, the Britannica's article on Pharmacology will explain in intelligible language the action of all important drugs, whether on the blood vessels, the digestive tract, the nervous system, the blood, the bodily heat, etc., etc.

Is This Book TOO GOOD For You?

Do you know of any other means of securing so much reliable information at so low a price and do you not know that unreliable information is dear at any price?

If you have sons and daughters, do you want to give them mis-information? Is it not a fact that many so-called children's books are made merely to sell and that their contents are unreliable, misleading and of unknown authorship?

"There is not a single family having children," writes a Britannica subscriber, "that should be without a reference book on general subjects, and the head of the family cannot be too careful what books are used for reference. Some books are published to sell, some are gotten up with years of tireless labor with the main idea of being of value in actual work. I have waited for three years until the new Britannica was ready. I want to say without reserve that I am more than justified."

THE GORHAM CO.

Silversmiths

There's such a thing as having too much reputation.

For instance, the majority of New Yorkers suppose that Gorham's must naturally be a high-priced store—its age and high repute for Quality justify that belief.

What if those New Yorkers who will buy prizes for athletic events this summer knew this idea was just a myth—that they could buy a GORHAM CUP as low as $5?

Why, the Gorham factories here in New York and up at Providence, with their army of 2,800 men, would have to run overtime.

These trophy committees would all rather have Gorham cups, of course. They know apologies never have to be made for them. Any golfer, yachtsman, oarsman, marksman, polo or tennis player is glad to carry one of these trophies home.

The only reason more athletic and sporting contests do not have Gorham trophies for prizes is this legend (natural under the circumstances) that they cost more.

If you happen to be a member of a trophy committee of any club, do not take tradition for granted—investigate.

You'll find that you can buy a Gorham loving cup at any price you like from $5 to $1,000 and up. More, you'll be astonished at the beautiful cups you can buy for $15, $20, $25, $35, $40, $50—ideal prizes for any contest.

You won't have to wait to have them made—they're all ready. That is, unless you want a cup or trophy of some special design. Then, Gorham's will attend to that—these special designs are a Gorham specialty.

The sizes of the cups are as numerous as the prices. They begin at 4 inches and work up by degrees to 30 inches in height. They hold from one ounce to sixteen pints. And they're in all styles, plain, engraved, chased.

The decoration is emblematic—oak typifying strength; the palm, glory; the laurel, victory; ivy, friendship and affection; bay leaves, reward of merit. The designs are by artists of distinction.

Is it any wonder that clubs and individuals so much prefer the Gorham prizes? To announce a Gorham cup as a prize adds character and incentive to a contest.

Of course, you are not confined to cups. Some clubs have lately shown a disposition to select something else—a punch bowl, a ewer and stand, a pitcher or a vase. Gorham's has beautiful examples of these. Any wife would forgive her husband's absences on the golf links if he brought home any one of them.

Don't let your club deprive itself of a Gorham trophy because of a mistaken idea that they cost so much more. Go into Gorham's and investigate for yourself. They will be glad to see you.

Whether it's for tennis, polo, rowing, yachting, boating, shooting—Gorham's has the trophy.

WANTS NEW INQUIRY INTO FELON'S DEATH

Governor's Investigator Urges That Prosecutor Look Into Heffernan's Fate in Clinton.

PRAISES PRISON WARDEN

Mr. Blake Criticises Industrial and Commissary Departments, but Blames Kaiser's Superiors.

ALBANY, June 1.—Contrary opinions expressed as to the cause of the death of John Heffernan, a convict, in Clinton Prison last August, warrant a thorough investigation by the District Attorney of Clinton County, in the opinion of George W. Blake, who has been investigating State prison affairs by direction of Gov. Sulzer. Heffernan's death, Mr. Blake says, "is a cloud on the administration of the prison that Warden Kaiser is anxious to lift."

The circumstances are described in Mr. Blake's report to Mr. Sulzer in part as follows:

"Heffernan was convicted of assault on June 10, 1908. He hailed from Rochester, and was a man of good habits. He was a favorite in the prison and his prison record was good. He was told that an alleged stool pigeon named Schiff had circulated stories about him and had quarreled with Schiff. Efforts were made to induce him to give the name of the man who had told him of Schiff's alleged tales, but he steadfastly refused. He was locked in a cell for disobedience, and on the morning of Aug. 14 last he was released from his cell by Hall Keeper O'Brien and told to report to Principal Keeper Coultry.

"There is a doubt as to what happened then. One story is that Heffernan struck Coultry in the chest and that Coultry felled him by a blow over the head with his cane. Another is that after he struck the Principal Keeper O'Brien threw him to the floor. Heffernan then was locked in a dark cell. On Aug. 16 he was dead. There was blood on the plank in the cell and on the walls. Walter N. Thayer, Jr., one of the prison physicians, said before the Coroner that he believed Heffernan had committed suicide by hanging.

"Coroner Fiske made an investigation, but judging from the testimony, the investigation was not thorough."

Commissioner Blake criticises the management of the prison industries and waste in the commissary department, but admits the prison "seems to be conducted along lines as humane and capable as the conditions permit." Warden Kaiser, the investigator says, "works constantly at his job" and "has made the prison clean."

"There are bad spots in the prison," Mr. Blake continues, "but the Warden frankly admitted them. He displayed eagerness to get rid of them. The inmates are among the most desperate criminals in the world. A number of them are so desperately wicked that they are constantly plotting the death or injury of the officers and their fellow inmates.

"Refractory prisoners are placed in dark cells, but the floors are of cement and a smooth board is placed in each cell.

"Yet even in this prison, and under the careful supervision of the physicians, some of the prisoners punished have been removed from the dark cells to the hospital, where they have had to remain for several days under careful medical treatment. This is ample proof that this kind of punishment ought to be abolished and that a single punishment should be inflicted, instead of the present triple punishment of dark cells, solitary confinement, and insufficient food and water."

Commissioner Blake recommends that the Legislature be asked to appropriate $100,000 for a hospital for tubercular patients. There are 381 in the prison, and hospital accommodations for only 145.

The books of the industrial department of Clinton Prison, Mr. Blake says, show that the industries have been incompetently and improperly managed. No control was given to Warden Kaiser over that department. The investigator says it was handled entirely by Col. Joseph F. Scott, Superintendent of Prisons, who was removed by Gov. Sulzer, and by Frederick H. Mills, who was dismissed as sales agent of the prison department by Col. Scott.

"There is a total disregard of methods tending to produce a fair return. There is much waste in the commissary department, due to the large rations. Half the quantity of food served would be sufficient. The idea seems to be to give the men poor food in excessive quantities," the report runs. "The bad business methods I believe to be due entirely to orders issued by men who were Warden Kaiser's superiors. The labor of instituting better methods has been begun."

ROAD WORK FOR CONVICTS.

Riley Wishes Them Used in Adirondack and Catskill Parks.

ALBANY, June 1.—Employment of short-term convicts in the construction of roads throughout the Adirondack and Catskill State Parks, in the opinion of John B. Riley, Superintendent of State Prisons, not only would add greatly to the State's highway system, but also would be of material benefit to the men. The law permits employment of convicts on highways within thirty miles of each prison.

Supt. Riley says every convict should be required to work at heavy manual labor, preferably with pick and shovel, several months prior to his discharge. He then would have no difficulty in finding employment with contractors engaged in road building

FALL IN AN AEROPLANE.

Passenger and Aviator Escape Injury in Mishap on Staten Island.

W. Irving Twomley, President of the Aeronautical Society, which finished its meet at Oakwood Park, Staten Island, yesterday, had a narrow escape from injury while making a flight with Harry Bingham Brown, the aviator, at the park yesterday afternoon. Mr. Twomley went up with Brown as a passenger, and after they had made a fifteen-minute flight Brown started to descend. Something went wrong with the aeroplane and it lurched as it neared the ground. It struck heavily on the left plane, but Twomley and Brown were not thrown from their seats.

OUTLAW RACES AT NEWARK.

Twenty-five-Mile Amateur Race Feature of Opening Meet.

The Newark Stadium-Motordrome staged its first series of Sunday bicycle races in opposition to the Newark Velodrome races yesterday, putting on a programme of professional and amateur races of about the same length as at the older track. The attendance was below expectations, but the races furnished several close finishes.

Twenty-five of the professional riders formerly affiliated with the Velodrome track are now enrolled under the Motordrome standard, and they are classed as outlaws by the cycling powers. A larger number of amateur riders are also enrolled under the Motordrome standard.

The feature event for the professionals was a five-mile open race, in which all the stars of the new track took part. The finish was so close that the judges did not agree on the riders who finished one-two-three. The final rating put Menus Bedell in first place, with Pete Drobach second and John Bedell third. Dave Mackay and Jake Magin were close behind the three leaders.

PELL DEFEATS TOUCHARD.

Final Round at Rockaway Hunt Club Furnishes a Surprise.

The final round of the men's invitation singles of the Rockaway Hunt Club yesterday resulted in a victory for Theodore R. Pell, who defeated Gustave F. Touchard three out of four sets by the scores of 6—2, 3—6, 6—4, 6—2. Touchard's defeat was a surprise to the followers of tennis, who have watched the work of the two players this season, but the result was due to superior racquet work on the part of Pell.

The Marine and Field Club tennis tournament at Bath Beach yesterday was productive of some fast court work. The singles reached the semi-final round, while Roberts and Reimer defeated Mollenhauer and Chambers in the doubles final round. The singles semi-finals will be played to-morrow and Wednesday and the finals on Saturday.

Walter L. Pape, who represented the Nassau County Country Club, won the singles championship of Queens and Nassau Counties yesterday when he defeated Lawrence Burt of the Garden City Tennis Club in the finals at the Great Neck Hills Country Club. Although defeated in the first set, scoring only two points, he won the second and third handily. The match went the limit and in the last set some of the fastest tennis of the tournament was played. In the semi-finals in the doubles H. Hobart and A. Hutchinson beat R. L. Von Bermuth and A. F. Von Bermuth in three straight sets. The finals will be played next week when the winners will meet Walter L. Pape and R. Holt.

Poor Time in Bicycle Race.

J. Meyer won the five-mile road race of the Century Road Club Association yesterday on the Eastern Boulevard, Pelham Park, covering the distance in 15 minutes 3 seconds. [illegible] cyclists took part in the race, but owing to the poor condition of the road it was impossible to make fast time. The order of finish on the point system for the season was J. Meyer, P. Hardy, W. Thompson, and Joseph Costa.

Four Cyclists in Long Ride.

Four members of the Century Road Club—William Buggely, Adolph Wiener, Sylvain Segal, and George Steppello—reached New York last night after a cycling trip of 114 miles on Friday, 101 Saturday, and 107 miles Sunday. The tour included stops at Philadelphia, Atlantic City, and Tuckertown, N. J. Fourteen cyclists started, but only four went the full route.

DAVIS CUP TEAM MAY BE CHANGED

McLoughlin May Be Paired with Hackett and Little Dropped —Jones May Not Play.

According to a report freely discussed yesterday at the West Side Tennis Club, Harold H. Hackett will act as Captain of the United States tennis team in the Davis Cup matches with Australia which begin on the West Side Court Friday. It was also stated that Raymond D. Little, who was selected to represent America with H. H. Hackett in the doubles, would not be a member of the team. In confirmation of the latter report it was pointed out that instead of practicing with Hackett during the last few days, Little had played in the Rockaway Hunt Club invitation tournament at Cedarhurst.

The new doubles will be Maurice E. McLoughlin and Hackett, while McLoughlin and R. Norris Williams of Philadelphia will play against the Australians in the singles. This arrangement will bring three Americans against an equal number of the visiting team.

At the time of the selection of Little as a partner with Hackett there was considerable criticism, as the pair were defeated in practice matches. The International Committee considered the international experience of Little together with his lack of practice, and it was believed he would show sufficient improvement in the intervening three weeks before the international matches to warrant the selection.

When McLoughlin arrived from the Pacific Coast he was paired with Hackett in practice matches, and the team played so strong that the advisability of a change in the original selection was advocated. The new pair improved in each match they played and Little was gradually left out of doubles competition. Rumor was current that the International Committee would finally decide upon McLoughlin as a partner, and it is the belief of well-informed tennis players that this announcement will shortly be forthcoming.

According to the rules governing the Davis Cup trial matches, the Captains of the opposing nations are not required to name their actual teams until twenty-four hours before the date set for the first match. This would give the committee until Thursday before announcing their final decision.

It is likely that the Australians will be compelled to play one man short. A. B. Jones, who was ill last week in Brooklyn, is still weak, and Capt. Stanley N. Doust of the visiting team admitted last night that Jones would not be able to practice to-day. He declined to state whether Jones would be able to take part in the Davis Cup matches, and said he would announce his team at the proper time to Chairman R. O. Wrenn of the International Committee. Should Jones be dropped from the Australian team, Hicks, the manager, may be used as a substitute, or Capt. Doust may decide to go through the singles and doubles with H. Rice, thus confining the team to two men.

DAVIS IN STRAIGHT HEATS.

New York Motor Cyclist Captures Championship Race at Brighton.

Charles Davis of New York was the victor in the feature event last night at the Brighton Beach Motordrome, when he defeated John Cox of this city in the first of a series of championship races at three miles in straight heats.

The men rode as a team almost throughout both contests, with the ultimate winner rather high on the bank in both instances, which made him ride many yards further in each event than his opponent, who refused to give up the speed line until the final circuit, when Davis sped by, winning by a wheel's length each time, in 2:20 2-5 and 2:19 4-5, respectively.

Five thousand persons witnessed the races, which included contests for both professionals and novices, winding up with a five-mile handicap, with Arthur Chappell at scratch.

In the handicap Chappell conceded a third of a mile to Thomas, Ohne, Mercier, and Hagen. At the pistol shot the scratch man went to the fore, his machine singing merrily. At three and a half miles he had lapped his field, and he ultimately won by 150 yards in 3:30 4-5. The summary:

Four-Mile Race, Professional.—First Heat—Won by Martin Kessler, Brooklyn; Hartley Thomas, Philadelphia, second; George Mercier, New York, third. Time—3:07 1-5. Second Heat—Won by Kessler; Mercier, second; Ohne, third. Time—3:06 2-5. Thomas stopped. Third Heat and Race—Won by Kessler on points; Mercier was second with 10; Thomas, third, with 3. Time—3:01 2-5.

Three-Mile Race, Novice.—First Heat—Won by Jack Krug, New York; Will Gibson, Albany, second; Ray Fisher, Brooklyn, third. Time—2:26 3-5. Second Heat—Won by Gibson; Krug, second; Fisher, third. Time—2:27. Third heat—Won by Krug; Gibson, second; Fisher, third. Time—2:25. Point score—Krug, 14; Gibson, 13; Fisher, 9.

Three-Mile Championship Match; (Charles Davis, New York, vs. John Cox, New York.) —First heat—Won by Davis. Time—2:20 2-5. Won by one length. Second heat and race —Won by Davis. Time—2:19 4-5. Won by one length.

Five-Mile Race, Handicap.—Won by Arthur Chappell, New York, (scratch;) Billy Hagen, (one lap,) second; George Mercier, (one lap,) third. Time—3:30 4-5.

Alco Trucks Reduce the High Cost of Hauling

It is costing more and more every day to haul goods. That is one reason why the cost of living has gone up. If hauling costs come down—prices will subside. That is natural.

But the cost of hauling goods will not come down during the era of the horse. A horse costs too much today to make animal means of transportation an economy. The price of a horse is rising higher and higher. There seldom was a time when feed cost so much as now.

Meanwhile the working life of the horse is growing less. Those that reach five years in city service do unusually well. The trouble is the horse is getting too far away from nature. Cobblestones, asphalt pavements, noise, excitement and "canned" food do him no good.

Wise merchants, aware of these facts, have sought a remedy in Alco motor trucks. And not a single one has gone back to horses! These are their conclusions:

An Alco truck covers a territory easily within a fifteen mile radius. Horses are practically limited to a three mile radius.

An Alco truck carries three times the load a two horse team hauls, and carries it twice as fast.

An Alco truck is not affected by extreme heat. Horses die by thousands during summer months.

An Alco truck is not stalled by snow. Horses get stuck, or slip and fall down on icy pavements, making impossible—or delaying deliveries.

An Alco truck sometimes saves fifty per cent in rent or in real estate over horses. It can be housed five miles from the point where delivery begins—where rent or real estate is cheap. Horses must be stabled nearby, as a long journey to work would tire them before the day's work is begun.

Their conclusions—not ours, remember.

Any house using Alco trucks can give better prices—and the house with the lower prices usually gets the business. Thus down come hauling costs, down come prices, down comes the high cost of living.

We will be pleased to send a man to see you and to explain to you what Alco trucks are accomplishing in your own line of business. Engagements are made in order of request. Write or 'Phone.

YANKEES TRADE CHASE--GIANTS WIN--WELLS KNOCKED OUT--TENNIS

CHASE TRADED TO THE WHITE SOX

Yankees' Crack Player Is Given in Exchange for Borton and Zeider.

Managers Frank Chance of the New York Americans and Jimmy Callahan of the Chicago White Sox yesterday engineered one of the biggest trades affecting the New York Club since its admission into the American League. By the trade Hal Chase, veteran member of the Yankees and for years one of the recognized stars of the baseball world, goes to Chicago in exchange for First Baseman William Borton and Infielder Rollie Zeider. Chase has been ordered by Manager Callahan to report at once to the White Sox, and he will join the team at Boston to-morrow. Borton and Zeider will report to Manager Chance here to-morrow morning, and will be used in the game with the Cleveland club.

In announcing the trade Manager Chance stated that he has decided to resume playing first base, and that he expects to play the position during the remainder of the season. He plans to play Borton in the outfield, and Zeider will be assigned to either second or third base, both of which positions he filled acceptably with the White Sox. Chance said last night that he had made a canvass of all the American League clubs for a trade involving Chase, and the White Sox seemed to be the only team willing to give an equivalent in playing material for the Yankee first baseman. Some of the clubs, it was announced, did not seem anxious to make any sort of a deal for Chase.

Of the new players, Zeider is the best known, as he has played in the American League since the beginning of the 1910 season. He was secured by the White Sox from the San Francisco team of the Pacific Coast League at the close of the 1909 season after he had led the league in base running by a comfortable margin. In 189 games at second and third bases, of which number 144 games were at third base. Zeider batted .289 and stole 93 bases. In 1910, his first year with the White Sox, Zeider batted only .217 in 136 games, and he stole 49 bases. In 1911 he batted .254 in 73 games, and stole 28 bases. Last season, in 129 games, Zeider batted .245, and stole 47 bases. Since joining the White Sox he has played every infield position with considerable success, and he has also played in the outfield. Most of his time, however, was spent at second and third bases.

Borton is a newcomer to the majors, but he has made a notable record during his short sojourn with the White Sox. He is a big fellow, a left-hand thrower and batsman, and is more noted for his ability to hit the ball than for his speed. He joined the White Sox last Fall, coming to that club from the St. Joseph team of the Western League, and in 31 games for Chicago he batted .371. He ranked fourth in batting, being excelled only by Cobb, Jackson, and Speaker. He also had the distinction of leading the league first basemen with a mark of .997, making but one error in 31 games.

Before joining the Sox last Fall Borton played 120 games at St. Joseph, and was the real batting leader of the League with a mark of .364. In 1911, with the same club, he made only six errors in 95 games, and had a mark of .343 in 116 games. He was secured by St. Joseph from the Ottumwa, Iowa, Club of the Central Association, where he batted .293 and fielded .989 in 133 games in 1910.

Chase joined the Yankees in 1905, and he is the last player of that team to leave New York. He was secured from the Los Angeles Club of the Pacific Coast League, where he played second as well as first base in 1904. During the two years previous to his joining the Pacific Coast League Chase attracted attention with the Santa Clara College team of California, which has since sent Harry Hooper, Art Shafer, and other promising ball players to the major leagues.

Chase's record since joining the Yankees is as follows: 1905—In 126 games, batted .249, fielded .976. 1906—In 151 games, batted .323, fielded .980. 1907—In 125 games, batted .287, fielded .973. 1908—In 106 games, batted .257, fielded .980. 1909—In 118 games, batted .283, fielded .978. 1910—In 130 games, batted .290, fielded .981. 1911—In 133 games, batted .315, fielded .974. 1912—In 131 games, batted .274, fielded .979.

The falling off in batting has been a big factor in hastening Chase's departure from New York. Although he batted above .300 only twice in his eight years as a Yankee, he was always regarded as a dependable hitter until last season. This year he has again failed in the pinches too often. As a fielder Chase has no superior in baseball.

COURTNEY TO RETIRE.

Cornell Rowing Coach Will Cease Active Work When Contract Ends.

ITHACA, N. Y., June 1.—Charles E. Courtney, the veteran coach of the Cornell University crews, will cease active work as the head of the Cornell navy when his contract ends, three years hence.

This fact became known to-day through a statement issued by Courtney. He says he may continue with the navy in an advisory capacity, but that he will no longer take the full responsibility of fitting the oarsmen for their gruelling races. Courtney has been head coach for Cornell for twenty-eight years, and has been successful in developing winning crews.

Courtney has made a shift in his freshman eight, although after the Harvard-Cornell races, May 24, he said he would retain all the men then boated. With three new men in the shell the freshmen yesterday defeated the second eight by five lengths in a time trial. Bailey at bow, Gillmore at 5, and Rand as coxswain, are the new men in the boat. The crews expect to leave the middle of this week for Poughkeepsie.

WELCOME PENN'S TEAM.

Students Give Intercollegiate Victors Rousing Reception.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—When the victorious track team of the University of Pennsylvania returned to Philadelphia to-day from Boston, where they won the intercollegiate meet, it was announced that George McCurdy had been elected Captain of the team. He will succeed Leroy Mercer, Penn's famous star, who graduates this year. The team arrived at the West Philadelphia station of the Pennsylvania Railroad shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. Long before that time a crowd of several hundred loyal students had assembled in the trainshed to welcome the returning victors.

The mob of students surrounded the team, and in another moment a wild demonstration was in progress.

Harvard Crews Leave To-day.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 1.—Harvard's 'Varsity and freshman crews will leave for New London to-morrow for two weeks of preparation for the regatta to be held June 20. In the 'Varsity squad there will be nineteen men and in the freshman squad sixteen. The crews will occupy the customary quarters at Red Top and will row twice a day in practice for the final races of the season. The 'Varsity crew is regarded by followers as in poorer shape than at the corresponding time in previous years because of the many recent shifts in position.

Yale Oarsmen Take Long Sail.

GALES FERRY, Conn., June 1.—The Yale 'Varsity crew candidates rested from their training to-day and enjoyed a ninety-mile sail on Long Island Sound in Head Coach Harriman's yacht Sultana. The rest of the squad went to church at New London and later in the day did light rowing on the river. If weather conditions are favorable to-morrow, there will be time rows for all the crews.

Detroit Defeats Chicago in Final Game of the Series.

CHICAGO, June 1.—Detroit defeated Chicago, 1 to 0, in the final game of the series. Two bases on balls, a stolen base, and a single gave them the game. It was a pitchers' battle between Hall and Scott, the former holding the locals to four scattered hits. Scott received perfect support and pitched well in the pinches. Ty Cobb, the Detroit outfielder, received word from Detroit that his wife was ill, and he left before the game started. High's one-handed catch of Easterly's long fly was a feature. The score:

Cleveland Wins and Loses.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 1.—Winning the first game of to-day's double-header, 6 to 1, gave Cleveland nine straight victories. But they lost the second game to St. Louis, 9 to 3. A hard rain delayed the first game thirty minutes and made the diamond very muddy. Gregg outpitched R. Mitchell all the way in the first game, keeping well scattered the six hits St. Louis gathered.

In the second game Baumgardner was a puzzle, while St. Louis drove both Kahler and W. Mitchell from the box. Clevelands' six errors in the second game aided in their defeat.

After three weeks' absence from the game because of injuries to his hands, Lajoie went back to second base in the second game to-day. The scores:

Yale Football Team to Practice.

NEWPORT, R. I., June 1.—Veterans of last year's Yale football team, and other candidates for next Fall's eleven, will engage in practice during the coming Summer at the Newport estate of Dr. William T. Bull of New York, a former Yale football star. Until a few years ago, candidates for the Yale team usually practiced on the Bull estate, but recently other grounds have been used for the Summer work.

GIANTS BEAT REDS IN OPENING GAME

Special to The New York Times.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 1.—Before a crowd of 15,000 fans, eager to see the Reds hand a defeat to the National League champions, the locals dropped this afternoon's game to their opponents by the score of 4 to 1. Marquard proved too much for the locals, while his team mates had little trouble in gettting to Gene Packard. In this they were aided and abetted by Heinie Groh, who formerly drew pay from McGraw. Marquard had the Reds just where he wanted them at all times, and when they threatened to break through their lone tally, and possibly add more, he put on the brakes. Tinker was not in the game. A wound he received at St. Louis yesterday became festered and he sent Berghammer to short field in his stead. For New York, Shafer played third and Snodgrass went to centre field.

The Giants got busy in the first round and, aided by a wild heave by Groh and several healthy hits, pushed across two runs, which proved enough to win the game. Burns walked for a starter. Shafer hit to Berghammer, who threw Burns out at second. Groh seeking to make a double play, threw wild to first and Shafer raced to second. Fletcher sent a fast one over second and Shafer came across with the initial score, Fletcher taking second on the throw in an endeavor to head off Shafer. Doyle straightened out a fast one to centre and Fletcher crossed the rubber.

Cincinnati managed to get Josh Devore on in their half of the first when the former Giant slashed one to centre. Here he stayed, while Bates and Bescher flied out and Marsans did the same thing.

In the second, Murray and Burns switched fields, Burns going to right, the sun field. In the third Fletcher sent a pop fly down near the right field foul line, which went for three bases, after two were out. He stuck there, while Doyle lined to Bates.

The Reds broke into the run column in the third. Bates rapped a healthy one down the left foul line, after Devore had singled and the former Giant came across. This ended the scoring until the seventh, when McGraw's aggregation came through with another pair of tallies. Meyers opened up with a single through short. Packard gave Snodgrass a walk. Marquard was safe on his bunt. The bases were full. Burns proved himself equal to the occasion and flied to Devore, Meyers coming across, both of the other runners moving up on the play. Snodgrass scored when Shafer singled. The latter was doubled up when Fletcher lined to Berghammer.

Marquard pitched shutout ball for good in the last three innings. He tightened up so wonderfully that not a Red bat connected successfully. The Reds threatened in the ninth, when Bescher made a great bid for a homer, which was soon killed off, however, by a great running catch of Burns. The score:

Cubs Win from St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, June 1.—The St. Louis team lost to Chicago to-day, 4 to 2. The visitors hit Harmon opportunely in the first three innings, scoring enough runs to win, while the locals were able to tally in but two innings. Pitcher Cheney was troubled with the heat and was relieved in the fourth inning by Pierce, who pitched a steady game. The score:

OLD WESTWARD WINS.

Herreshoff Built Schooner Leads in Her First Race as Hamburg II.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, June 1.—The racing schooner Westward, now Hamburg II., which was formerly owned by Alexander S. Cochran of New York, was successful in her first race, held yesterday in the North Sea regatta, defeating such boats as the Kaiser's Meteor and Herr von Krauppʼs Germania.

It was the first race that the American-built yacht had taken part in since she was purchased by a syndicate of yachtsmen belonging to the Hamburg Yacht Club, and the fact that she enjoyed handicap advantages detracted in nowise from her victory.

Westward was designed and built by the Herreshoffs in Bristol, R. I., in 1910, and almost immediately after she was launched sailed for Europe to take part in the various European regattas. She won all of her races, including the German Emperor's Cup. The American schooner was coveted by quite a number of foreign yachtsmen, and last Fall Mr. Cochran was tempted by the offer made by German yachtsmen, and let his crack schooner go.

Westward is built of steel, 135 feet 4 inches over all, 96 feet load waterline, 26 feet 8 inches beam, and 16 feet 11 inches draught.

POLO ON PHIPPS FIELD.

British Players on Opposing Teams in Close Match.

For six periods polo of the international type was seen yesterday on the private estate of John S. Phipps at Westbury, L. I., where three of the members of the challenging English team—Capt. Cheape, F. M. Freake, and Capt. Edwards—with Harold C. Phipps, played a hotly contested game with four other poloists. The opposing quartet comprised John S. Phipps, Charles C. Rumsey, Capt. Ritson, and Capt. Lockett, the latter two being members of the English team which on June 10 will play the American defenders on the Meadow Brook field. The score was 7 for the British players to 4¼ for the opposing four.

MASTER McKERRON FIRST.

E. J. La Place Drives Pacer to Victory in Speedway Matinee.

Edward J. La Place showed a winning hand yesterday in the Sunday matinee brushing on the Harlem Speedway when he drove his bay gelding Master McKerron to victory in the feature event, the Class A pace, in split heats. In winning the event he lowered the colors of I. V. Hunt's former pacing champion Clover Patch. The race was probably one of the best of the season, and resulted in close finishes. The first heat went to Master McKerron. Then Clover Patch showed a flash of her championship form and took the second, but failed to repeat in the third. In the two heats won by the La Place entry he carried the Hunt mare to breaks both times just at the wire.

An unusual happening for Speedway racing occurred in the opening event, when two horses ran a dead heat. N. Grunzfelder, driving his bay gelding Triphammer, took the first and third heats, with C. P. Martin behind Martha Dawn finishing on even terms with him in the second meeting. The race was finally won by Triphammer, with Martha Dawn second.

BIG MONEY AT PIPING ROCK.

$38,500 in Prizes for Three Days' Amateur Race Mee .

Piping Rock, with its three days' race meet, which begins next Thursday, will fill in the gaps made by the off days at Belmont Park, and a glimpse at the entries which have just closed gives promise of sport which will be even better than that which was furnished at the beautiful Locust Valley track last Fall, when the inaugural meeting of the association was held.

For the three days of the coming meeting $38,500 will be distributed in money and plate for the winners of the twenty-one races which will be decided, seven being carded for each day. In addition to the numbers of those devoted to amateur sport, who have made entries for the various events in liberal fashion, will be seen quite a representation of nominations of owners who are racing now at Belmont Park.

Hudson River Canoe Regatta.

The annual regatta of the Associated Canoe Clubs of the Hudson River, which was held in conjunction with the annual camp during Memorial Day, Saturday and yesterday, was the best series of races the organization ever held. Leo Friede, who is entered for the American Cup race for which Canada's champion will contend won all of the sailing races. The point trophy was captured by Inwood, with 62½ points, Fort Washington was second, with 52, and Yonkers Gal, 11.

Yanks in Double-Header.

The Yankees will return to the Polo Grounds to-day for a series of seventeen straight games. They will play a double header with the Boston Red Sox this afternoon, filling in an open date to play off two games previously postponed on account of rain. To-morrow the Cleveland Club will open the first Western series at the Polo Grounds. The first game to-day will be called at 1:45 o'clock.

25-Mile Cycle Championship.

A twenty-five-mile championship is the main event on the bill at the Stadium-Motordrome at Brighton Beach Wednesday night, when the quarter-century motor cycle championship will be contested for by a field of the best riders in the country.

Chief among the men who will go after the title and the stake added are Arthur Chapple, Johnny Cox, Billy Hagan, and George Mercier.

WELLS LOSES TITLE IN FOUR ROUNDS

GHENT, Brussels, June 1.—Those hopeful people who journeyed to Belgium with the express purpose of seeing "a twenty-round boxing contest between Bombardier Wells of England and Georges Carpentier of France for the heavyweight championship of Europe" had, apart from a trip in Europe and a brief round of sightseeing, a very short run for their money, as the bout at no time looked like going very far.

Wells, with superlative boxing skill and superior height, reach, and weight, overwhelmed his youthful opponent almost from the moment the pair put up their gloved hands.

After only a brief boxing display, the Englishman's left shot to Carpentier's face with damaging effect, and the affair looked as good as finished when Carpentier took nine seconds' count on the boards. He arose bleeding, but managed to last out the round, though he was still further punished. Had Wells pushed home the advantage in those first few minutes he must assuredly have won then and there. The Englishman had all the better of the second round also, and was surprised to find Carpentier able to resume. After the interval Carpentier in the third round went desperately to work, and in the next knocked Wells out. It was an amazing result to a bout which promised to end so differently.

Wells's defeat is another blow to boxing prestige, and serves to emphasize the opinion of those who regarded the affair as a thoroughly bad match in every way. Wells had nothing to gain in reputation in beating Carpentier; on the other hand he had everything to lose by a defeat. He may have been well paid for his services by the Ghent exhibition, but it has been at the expense of his reputation and the good name of English boxing.

ROBIDEAU VS. SHUGRUE.

Lightweights in Leading Boxing Bout at Garden A. C.

The bout between Sam Robideau of Philadelphia and Joe Shugrue, the Jersey City lightweight, at Madison Square Garden Friday night is the only high-class bout on the programme for the present week at Greater New York boxing clubs. The show arranged for Wednesday night at the St. Nicholas A. C., in which Leach Cross was to box Young Brown in the main event, has been called off, and Cross will leave to-day for California.

Robideau has boxed but once in New York, and his showing against Johnny Lore stamped him as one of the most promising lihgtweights in the game. Shugrue has been recognized as a top-notcher of his class since his victory over Leach Cross. In the ten-round semi-final Gus Platts, who recently came here from England, will oppose Dave Kurtz of Newark.

Three ten-round bouts will be put on at the Atlantic Garden A. C., on the Bowery, to-morrow night. Kid Julian of Syracuse and Teddy Hubbs of Pittsburgh will be the headliners. The other two bouts will show Frankie Madden versus Young Gradwell and Barney Smith versus Ralph Rose.

At the Olympic A. C. of Harlem to-night Bert Keyes and Young Dyson will do the honors in the main bout, and two colored middleweights, Al Wilkie and Young Jack Johnson, will come together in the ten-round semi-final. The usual preliminaries will precede the long bouts.

The usual week-end shows will be put on Saturday night at the Fairmont, St. Nicholas, and Atlantic Garden Clubs of New York; the Irving, National, and Gowanus Clubs of Brooklyn; the Queensboro A. C. of Long Island City, and the Liberal A. C. of Staten Island.

Walsh to Box Kilbane.

BOSTON, Mass., June 1.—Jimmy Walsh of this city has accepted an offer from the Queen City Club of Cincinnati to box Johnny Kilbane in that city on July 4. The Queen City Club has an option on Kilbane's services for Independence Day and plans are being made to hold the bout in one of the baseball parks. Kilbane and Walsh fought a year ago, and the result was a draw.

Vagrant Satisfies Her Owner.

Special to The New York Times.

BRISTOL, R. I., June 1.—Vagrant, Harold S. Vanderbilt's new racing schooner, equipped with auxiliary power, had her first tests under motor engine power and under canvas to-day in Narragansett Bay, the yacht being under way about five hours and proving more speedy than her designer, Nat Herreshoff, and Harold S. Vanderbilt, who were on board, expected.

Stearns Turns in Best Card.

H. E. Stearns won the June competition for the President's Cup at the Oakland Golf Club yesterday with a net score of 66. The winner was closely pressed by J. H. Hallock, who returned a 67 net score. The best scores follow:

H. S. Stearns, 93, 27—66; J. H. Hallock, 87, 20—67; F. H. Ecker, 88, 16—72; L. Guillandeau, 91, 19—72; Charles Cooper, 93, 18—75; R. H. White, 86, 10—76; R. H. E. Elliott, 97, 21—76; H. A. Cassabeere, 97, 21—76; C. B. Beckwith, 93, 16—77; R. M. Tarleton, 84, 6—78; Dr. M. M. Carpenter, 91, 12—79; L. B. Franklin, 93, 12—81; H. L. Bogert, 99, 18—81; B. H. Ridder, 94, 12—82.

Pauline Boyce Breaks School Record

Special to The New York Times.

NEW MILFORD, Conn., June 1.—In the field-day sports of Ingleside School yesterday Pauline Boyce of Greenwich, Conn., broke the school record for the 100-yard dash. Phyllis Kerr won the broad jump, Mary Bradford the fifty-yard dash, and Carolyn Davey captured the shot-put. Last year Carolyn Hale, an Ingleside girl, made the present record for the high jump.

Fiske to Lead Tiger Athletes.

PRINCETON, June 1.—Torrance Fiske, a Princeton junior, of Minneapolis, Minn., has been elected to captain the Tiger track team for 1914, it was announced here to-night. Fiske won the pole vault in the intercollegiates at Cambridge on Saturday, and added two inches to his best previous jump.

Japs Defeat Leland Stanford.

TOKIO, June 1.—The Keio University baseball team defeated the Leland-Stanford University team to-day by the score of 8 to 3.

DONALD McDOUGALL WINS.

New York A. C. Cyclist Gets Quarter-Mile Championship at Newark.

Donald McDougall of Newark, wearing the Winged Foot of the New York Athletic Club, won the quarter-mile National amateur cycling championship yesterday afternoon at the Newark Velodrome. McDougall was in fine form, and he showed the way to the other amateurs in every heat in which he took part. The Newark boy won by a comfortable margin in the preliminary, semi-final, and final heat of the championship event and finished his high-class work by winning the three-mile handicap race, in which he held the post of honor with William Hanley, the San Francisco amateur. Hanley was McDougall's principal competitor in all the races, but the Westerner fell behind each time in the final dash to the tape.

Frank Kramer, professional sprint champion, had the satisfaction of evening matters with Alfred Goullet, the Australian, for his two defeats last Sunday, taking both heats of the special one-mile match race. Kramer's victories in each case were by narrow margins, the first heat by half a wheel's length and the second by inches only. Goullet made a remarkable spurt in the closing yards of the second heat, and came so close to overhauling the American champion that the spectators were in doubt about the winner until the announcer made known that Kramer was first. The summary:

Half-Mile Novice, Amateur.—Won by John R. Staehle, Newark; W. Youmans, East Orange, N. J., second. Time—1:08 1-5.

Half-Mile Open, Professional.—Won by Alfred Grenda, Tasmania; Joseph Fogler, Brooklyn, second; Jackie Clarie, Australian, third; Fred Hill, Boston, Mass., fourth. Time—1:06 2-5.

One-Mile Match Race, Professional, best Two in Three Heats.—First Heat—Won by Frank Kramer, East Orange, N. J.; Alfred Goullet, Australia, second. Time—3:12 1-5. Second heat—Won by Kramer; Goullet, second. Time—4:24 1-5.

Quarter-Mile National Championship, Amateur.—Won by Donald McDougall, Newark; William Hanley, San Francisco, second; William Pettit, Rockville Centre, L. I., third; Albert Krushel, Buffalo, fourth. Time—0:31 3-5.

Two-Mile Invitation, Professional.—Won by Frank Cavanagh, Newark; Fred Hill, Boston, Mass., second; Floyd Krebs, Newark, third; George Cameron, New York, fourth; Ernest Jokus, Newark, fifth. Time—4:52 1-5.

Tandem Match Pursuit Race, Professional.—Won by Joseph Fogler, Brooklyn, and Fred Hill, Boston; Alvin Loftus, Providence, R. I., and Elmer Collins, Lynn, Mass., second. Distance—Two miles and one-half lap. Time—4:02.

Three-Mile Handicap, Amateur.—Won by Donald McDougall, Newark, (scratch;) J. Schmidt, Newark, (90 yards,) second; William Hanley, San Francisco, (scratch,) third; Joseph Brexel, New York, (225 yards,) fourth; George Schaffer, Newark, (260 yards,) fifth. Time—6:26.

Two-Mile Handicap, Professional.—Won by Elmer Collins, Lynn, Mass., (210 yards;) Worth Mitten, Davenport, Ia., (190 yards,) second; Norman Hansen, Denmark, (210 yards,) third; Alfred Goullet, Australia, (scratch,) fourth; Alfred Grenda, Tasmania, (scratch,) fifth. Time—3:55.

XAVIER RUNNERS WIN.

Cherry X Athletes Take Trophy in Pastime Novice Event.

Xavier athletes won the team point prize yesterday at the big novice road race held over the course in the Bronx by the Pastime Athletic Club, which was re-run after the fiasco of a week ago, when the crowd broke through the lines and prevented the proper checking of the men, who came through the line in droves. John Fahey of the Cherry X club won on that occasion, and his placing and that of the second man was allowed to stand, with the result that the Xavier team tallied a total of 65 points for the five men.

Mohawk A. C. men scored second team honors with 120; Glencoe A. C., 137; Ozanam Association, 192, and St. Vincent Ferrer A. C., 214.

The contest was won by John Gaddi of St. Bartholomew's A. C. in 21:48, with M. Hickey, Mercury A. C., second in 21:56, and W. Downes, Xavier A. A., third, just over 22 minutes for the four miles. The winner led from end to end, and was apparently full of running at the end. One hundred and eighty runners completed the field, and the race was admirably handled throughout, with none of that congestion about the finish that was so noticeable at the previous running.

FEDERAL TIRES
The Federal Rugged Tread has always been a "higher quality" tire. Heavier, stronger and more durable than non-skid tires are usually built, it has cost more to produce, therefore sold at a higher price than most other good tires.
Now, the recent reduction in prices makes these "extra service" tires cost no more than ordinary non-skid tires.
Quality remains unchanged—features of safety, durability and economy unquestioned. Made in all types for standard rims by the Federal Rubber Manufacturing Co., Milwaukee.

PEERLESS TRUCKS
Standardized as the Best Investment
THE Curtis & Pope Lumber Company have been operating motor trucks at their main yard in Boston for three years. Two years ago they bought a 3-ton Peerless for their Chelsea branch. After it had been in use for a year, a second Peerless was installed at the same point. Both have given satisfactory service at a low maintenance cost.
The experience of the Chelsea branch resulted in an order for five 4-ton Peerless Trucks to standardize the equipment at the main yard.
The durability and strength of Peerless Trucks, resulting from proper heat treatment of steel and careful construction, have shown them to be the best investment for all kinds of heavy long distance hauling.

GOVERNMENT PROFITS.

Henry Ward Beecher used to be proud of his farm, and once boasted to a friend of how much money he made by selling hogs. His friend was more of a financier than a farmer, and asked Mr. Beecher how much he allowed for the corn he fed the hogs. Mr. Beecher replied that the corn cost him nothing, for it came off the place; moreover, he was talking about the profit on hogs, and not about the loss on the feed which he might have sold. The bearing of this anecdote lies in its application to the proposal that the Government should put $8,000,000 or $16,000,000 into an armor plate plant because the Government has made a profit on its powder works. Secretary of the Navy Daniels claims the profit—or the economy—as a certainty because the Government is able to compare the price it pays for powder with the former price, and with the present price as reduced by the Government's competition. The Secretary may have calculated more exactly than Mr. Beecher did, or it may be that he was thinking about the price of powder rather than of the cost and depreciation of the powder plant. It would be necessary to see the accounts before forming a decided opinion regarding the Government's going further with its business ventures.

The subject is pressing because of the increasing number of the proposals. Besides the $8,000,000 or $16,000,000 for an armor plant, there is a proposal for a $35,000,000 Alaska railway, and something more generous for the acquirement and operation of Government telegraphs, the total not being mentioned. Government ownership of railways has long been approved by many, and would be brought appreciably nearer by any success of the Government ownership movement. There have been claims of Government profits before, but they have not been verified in a manner satisfactory to men who think that Government operation opens the way to intolerable tax burdens. The Post Office has claimed to be self-supporting, but it has never charged itself with any expenses besides those disbursed directly by itself. Yet the Post Office has the use in its business of Government buildings costing many millions both for erection and upkeep, and all of that item ought to be charged in any businesslike accounting. Now the Administration having changed, it appears that the surplus was created by false economies, and caused a deficit for the current year. The Navy Department has heretofore claimed a profit on construction in navy yards, but there is an obscurity about the items of cost, and the Government's construction set a mark toward which private bidders advanced their prices.

It would be marvelous if the Government, working shorter hours by law, could make a profit on the price besides, if the accounting systems were at all similar.

But why try experiments? Why not strengthen the argument by a few practical examples of economy and efficiency in strictly governmental affairs? For example, Congress costs some $7,000,000 annually; why not cheapen that? Why not put franking and printing on a business basis? After that is done it will be soon enough to talk about Government ironworks and telegraphs and railways.

THE CITY'S FINANCES.

At the time the present City of New York was formed by the consolidation of the various boroughs, as now they are called, the net debt was $232,000,000. Last New Year's the net debt was $869,000,000. The debt service within the last ten years has risen to more than one-quarter of the total budget. The sales of bonds in the last five years have aggregated $294,500,000, and the city is under obligation to issue almost as many more. The budget itself increases at the average rate of about $10,000,000 a year, and the next budget will exceed $200,000,000. Almost half of this is for salaries, and there is said to be a waste of $15,000,000 in this item alone.

It seems to be agreed that a halt should be called, but there is no agreement where the beginning should be made. According to last week's report of the Board of Estimate a special revenue bond issue of $12,000 was authorized—for music! Music for the people from tax money, while the taxpayers' rebellion is the largest fact on the political horizon. The Mayor says that he does not see how the real estate depression, which he officially recognizes, can last for less than five years. What can the reason be?

A POOR "EXPLANATION."

As an astute and experienced lawyer who has exhibited sound judicial sense on the Supreme Court bench, Judge Cohalan must know that his explanation of the Connolly charges would have little or no weight with a common jury. The explanation will be regarded by his fellow-citizens as wholly inadequate. His suggestion that Connolly is not in his right mind, designed to confuse the issue, is utterly ineffectual, as nothing could be saner than the terms of Connolly's accusation. In fact, Judge Cohalan practically admits that everything occurred just as Connolly charges, and only differs from his accuser as to the meaning of his actions. He received from Connolly for services rendered, at the time certain contracts were awarded to the Victor Heating Company, a sum of money which he declares was compensation for legal services; yet he returned this sum in full on demand at the beginning of a municipal campaign because he did not want this "personal matter" to be used to the possible injury of his party. Two years later, when Connolly sought a reconciliation, he accepted his note for $4,000 as reparation, demanding with it an estoppel affidavit, to prove that Connolly's earlier charges were false. This note, he admits, he surrendered, with the accompanying affidavit, to Connolly's lawyer.

We are willing to accept Judge Cohalan's assertion that he is a man of moderate means. But we are not willing to believe that he would return to a quarrelsome or even an insane client fees for ordinary legal services rendered in a term of years. Lawyers cannot acquire even "moderate means" in that way. The mystery of the transaction, if it ever was mysterious, has not been cleared away, and it is the plain duty of the Bar Association to investigate a matter which so seriously affects the reputation of a Judge of the Supreme Court.

COL. ROOSEVELT'S VICTORY.

The whole country is to be congratulated on the outcome of Col. Roosevelt's libel suit. It is well to have ill-founded slanders against a public man silenced for all time. Col. Roosevelt's fellow-countrymen, no matter how they may view his political leadership, are all glad that the suit ended as it did. Very few of them, and they either misinformed or unreasoning, ever believed it would end in any other way.

Mr. Newett is to be congratulated for his courage and manliness in going into the witness box, confessing defeat, and acknowledging that the evidence had convinced him of the falsity of his accusation. The Judge is to be congratulated for his able conduct of the case, and the jury because things turned out, as we now know, just as they wanted them to turn out. Marquette is to be congratulated on its right to record this notable legal victory in its annals, and Ishpeming also for having got its name on the map of the United States.

Above all, Col. Roosevelt is to be congratulated. He took the right course to silence the slanderers, and they are silenced. The Colonel has not lost the smallest fraction of an inch of his stature as a statesman by meeting his accuser face to face. He has had his accustomed "bully time," and was right in his element when, after the retraction, he was able to make his magnanimous speech. The proceeding has been expensive for the Colonel, but it has been worth while.

A STUDY OF EMINENT WOMEN.

Of the 868 women of history selected as eminent by Miss Cora Sutton Castle of Columbia University, she says, quoting the definition of "eminent" in the Century Dictionary as including those "high in rank, office, "worth, or public estimation; con-"spicuous, highly distinguished," that some had greatness thrust upon them—circumstances of beauty or congenital misfortune. These women were distinguished in twenty-nine lines of activity, thus designated:

Literature, 337; marriage, 87; religion, 64; sovereign, 59; actress, 56; music, 49; birth, 39; mistress, 29; scholar, 20; political influence or ability, 19; artist, 17; philanthropy, 12; tragic fate, 11; heroine, 10; motherhood, 10; reformer, 9; dancer, 9; immortalized in literature, 6; patron of learning, 6; beauty, 6; educator, 3; revolutionist, 2; misfortune, 2; traveler, 2; adventuress, 2; physician, 2; fortune teller, 1; conjugal devotion, 1; criminal, 1.

Of the whole group more than one-third—337 or 38.8 per cent.—were writers, producing literature chiefly of an emotional or imaginative cast. Adding these to the women classed under "Religion" and the actresses and musicians, Miss Castle finds that 506, or 58.2 per cent., became eminent for some other cause than the exercise of the power of reason; excluding, too, the artists and dancers as further illustrations of emotional activity. Among the 64 eminent women classed under "Religion," 5 founded the sects of Christian Science, Buchanites, the Countess of Huntingdon's Connection, and the Shakers; 16 suffered martyrdom, and 4 founded religious orders. The group of scholars is small. Miss Castle in this study confirms the fact already shown by other methods of analysis, that the most eminent types of woman show her, thus far, as a "creature of feeling rather than a creature of reason." It is encouraging to note in her study of data for the nineteenth century that Miss Castle finds that the United States gives greater promise for the immediate future in the production of eminent women than any other nation.

A SOUTHERN FARMER'S THRIFT.

The circular of The National City Bank, published this morning, contains an account of a farmers' meeting in Mississippi at which a member testified that in 1907 he owed $900 on his 160-acre farm; he had two ponies, small plows, and a wagon. He added:

> The merchants in my town would not credit me for five cents, because they thought it impossible for me to make a living for my family and seven children and pay my debts.

But the "demonstration work" begun by the late Dr. S. A. Knapp of the Department of Agriculture reached this farmer; Dr. Knapp's local agent urged him to cultivate one acre of cotton under the Government's instruction. He was asked to break the land eight inches deep. To do this he had to borrow a team from his neighbors, and the full bale of cotton which he gathered from that one acre—he had previously cultivated twelve acres with a combined yield never over three bales—opened his eyes. He produced six bales of cotton on the twelve acres in 1908, nine bales in 1909, and he is now in a way to grow two bales of cotton for every acre that he cultivates. His financial status has, of course, changed:

> Merchants now run after me to sell me goods. I have paid the debt on my place, have four fine mules, and the future looks bright. I have one son and one daughter in college this year, and believe that I am going to be able to give all my children a college education.

At the close of the farmer's talk a merchant arose and said that, whereas in 1907 he would not have credited this man "for a plug of tobacco," he would now give him credit "for $500 any time that he wants it." The fact that practically all the Southern States are co-operating in this demonstration work, and that they are reaching many thousands of farmers like the one who recited his experience, seems significant, in the opinion of this very influential bank.

OUR GREEDY MILLIONAIRES.

In urging before the House of Lords legislation to prevent unscrupulous American millionaires from ruthlessly buying ancient British monuments and transplanting them in this country, one of the peers mentioned the rumored attempts of Americans to buy Stonehenge, a Druidical monument, associated with the opera of "Norma" and Mr. Hardy's "Tess of the d'Urbervilles." Doubtless this nobleman knows that our Park Commissioner was relied upon to find a place for this in Central Park, where the rapacious millionaires also hoped to transplant Windsor Castle and the Gray's "Elegy" Church of Stoke Poges. Dover Cliff, however, from whose summit

> The crows and choughs that wing the > midway air
> Show scarce so gross as beetles must go to Coney Island, which has not a cliff to its name.

Speaking seriously, if seriousness is possible when discussing a certain attitude of Englishmen toward Americans who squander money in England, it seems likely that the present enforced economies of the American squanderers have so greatly depressed the British antiquities market that the need has been felt of "special inducements" to buyers. Nothing more surely induces an American millionaire to buy, as all foreign dealers know, than placing every possible obstacle in the way of sales.

BOTHERING THE BOSS.

The "periodic strike" is something new in the labor world. The men do not strike; they simply do not come to work on one day of the week. The next day they turn up as usual, and the output is reduced one-sixth for that week. The employer has no remedy but a lockout. A lockout is hardly a remedy for a decrease of production, and has not been used heretofore against men who are willing to work—whenever they feel like it.

It is interesting to observe the progress of labor in alienating public sympathy, and turning it toward the employers of labor. At present public sympathy is often with labor, but when it appears that labor really has a strangle hold on production it also appears that the sympathetic public is the under dog. Manufacturers can shut their factories, but how then will the public be served? Amplitude of production is the true remedy for the high cost of living, but where is the union which approves ample production? The egregious Haywood in one of his recent speeches said:

> We don't propose to speed up the looms, and we don't propose to do as much in eight hours as we formerly did in ten. We propose to take two hours from the ten hours of each of 4,000 men, so that 5,000 can go back to work. If eight hours won't give all the idle men and women work then we will cut the hours down to seven, or even six. We will take from the bosses what we can get to-day, and we will hold what we get. Then we will take more.

Sooner or later the malice of such utterances will make itself apparent to those who buy the goods made by the shortened hours, and enhanced in cost by deliberately reduced efficiency. The same considerations apply to public utilities as to factories. For example, one railway employé in England caused a strike for the right to get drunk. A general strike was avoided in another case because the railway submitted to the demand that it should reinstate the man disciplined because he was fined for being late to work. What safety can there be when the discipline is of the railways by the unions, and not of the employés by the companies responsible for the safety of their trains? Labor leaders who spend their time thinking up something new to "put over" on the boss are not true friends of the unions, and they are the declared enemies of the public.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

Materials for More Romances.

So well known, even to amateur students of comparative ethnology, is the failure of the Scotch as a people to observe Rooseveltian moderation in the use of alcohol that the news of an increase of drunkenness among them will cause some surprise. The general impression, probably founded on the observations of tourists, made while taking Saturday night strolls in Glasgow or Edinburgh, has been that an increment of intoxication was impossible.

Of course the impression was false, and that an increase really has taken place of late is proved by the annual report of the Prison Commissioners for Scotland. This is an elaborate document of many pages, with huge tables showing in just what departures from rectitude this much-admired race indulges, and with equally large charts presenting their assorted lapses directly to the eye. It is all very interesting, for from the maze of figures such bits of useful information—plums, one is tempted to call them—can be gleaned as that ten and a fraction out of every 1,000 residents of Scotland got "committed" last year for one or another jailable offense. Those who escaped with an admonition were more numerous. For England and Wales the ratio was slightly under five per thousand. Cruelty to children, an eccentricity of the Scotch which has been unrecorded by foreign visitors and native novelists, also receives attention in this report as seemingly on the increase, though the Commissioners give it only passing note as a natural result of the extending drunkenness among fathers and mothers.

The picture as a whole is pretty dark—so dark that one to whom its details are new feels inclined to wonder why Scottish virtues, rather than Scottish vices, are brought to mind when the land of heather and haggis is mentioned. That piety, at least of the Scotch variety, can be combined with many and decidedly grave faults of conduct is illustrated with curious persistence in the brief biographies of prison inmates, sixty of which, taken as they arrived, are given in the report. A typical case is that of a man who has been a regular churchgoer from his youth up. He is intelligent, active, and industrious. But he gets drunk and then develops a violent and dangerous temper—which he is considerate enough never to display until after he gets home! "He does not regard it as a disgrace to be in prison," says the report. What the wife whom he beats thinks of it is not stated.

A Deplorable Piece of Indiscretion.

A momentous secret of diplomacy which our own representatives abroad have joined in guarding from common folks is out at last, for good or ill. The betrayer is the President of the French Republic—to him gratitude is due or on him rests the heavy responsibility, as the case may be and the future prove.

It seems that when M. Poincare began preparing for his coming visit to the King of England he was told that inviolable custom required that he should wear knee breeches with black stockings. That could be spoken aloud, but then his informant whispered through cautiously crooked fingers that as another custom, also inviolable, required that the black stockings be thin, a second pair would have to be worn under them, lest the "flesh" of the Presidential shanks should show through the first pair and shock the delicate sensitiveness which is the well-known characteristic of his Britannic Majesty and the members of his Court.

For reasons not stated, and with difficulty imaginable, M. Poincare found it so hard to find stockings of precisely the right kind that, in irritation and impatience after long search, he allowed the matter to come to the knowledge of somebody beyond the little circle of initiates within which it has hitherto been confined. Now it is common property.

One cannot but fear the result of this disclosure. While those of us with sober, thoughtful minds and a deep appreciation of the proprieties will commend the royal care which prevents President Poincare, Ambassador Page, and other charmers of their kind from wearing a single pair of thin stockings, the irreverent and debased will surely indulge in ribald jeers and vicious laughter at the whole proceeding and all concerned in it. The effect on the populace will be deplorable, and not impossibly the beautifully patched and darned friendship between France and Great Britain will be torn in several places.

Our own impression is that after such an indiscretion as this the least that President Poincare can do is to resign.

Opportunity Open to Women.

Presumably it is the enormous difference between the wholesale and the retail prices of feathers used for decorative purposes that explains the persistence and energy with which "the trade," through its carefully selected spokesmen, fights every effort to save the birds threatened with extermination by this wretched business. It also accounts, perhaps, for the desperation which so often leads said spokesmen to make the most dangerous kind of arguments—arguments, that is, which have plausibility only for the thoughtless and the uninformed.

The use of such pleas invites prompt refutation, with all its disastrous consequences, and to none has it come oftener than to the opponents of the law closing the American market to the feathers of wild birds, foreign as well as native. Again and again have they been led—by nothing worse, doubtless, than overcredulity in the interested reports of lying agents far away—to misrepresent the facts as to bird slaughter and its lamentable effects. Always somebody who knew has come forward with the truth, more or less horrible, and now the public is almost as well instructed as to the doings of the feather hunters in New Guinea or Sumatra as it is about those of the Florida swamps.

The "dropped plume" myth, formerly presented with moving gravity, has been contradicted so often that it has had to be abandoned, and even the pathetic tale of innumerable poor but honest girls who would starve if the egrets and the paradise birds were protected has lost its force because of the frequency with which folks have been reminded that even when feathers are not in style the trimming of hats continues. Protests against including in the ban feathers of wild birds killed for food and of those characterized—nine times out of ten unjustly—as "pestiferous," are still feebly current, but the letter from Dr. Hornaday, printed on this page Saturday, told most convincingly just why those protests should not be heeded.

Good as a prohibitive law would be, however, better far would be a firm and general refusal by women any longer to make, by active demand or passive assent, the market which this hideous and variously destructive trade supplies. Theirs is the ultimate responsibility, and in their hands, if they choose to use it, is the easy and instant remedy.

CART BEFORE THE HORSE.

Editor Betts Reduces Direct Nominating to an Absurdity.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I am glad to see The Times take a strong position in favor of preserving the State Convention. Direct nominations and direct government are not progressive, but reactionary. They were the form of government which was in vogue in the days of political barbarism, in the very childhood of the race. Those who are advocating a pure democracy are advocating, as the Hon. Andrew D. White has well said, mobocracy, and they are masquerading as reformers in the soiled and bloodstained garments that barbarians wore. But there is one point in regard to their contention which should be answered, which is plausible, but which is untrue.

One of the stock arguments of our modern office-seeking progressives who are practicing the arts of the demagogues is the one to the effect that those who believe in a representative democracy distrust the people. They take the position that only those who believe in a pure or direct democracy trust the people. This is exactly the opposite of truth. Those who believe in a representative democracy believe that the people are intelligent, honest and capable, and that therefore they can be trusted to select, as a rule, honest, intelligent, capable and worthy representatives to act for them. They believe that the people in their own community can select from their friends, neighbors, and prominent citizens honest, worthy, and capable delegates, just as well as they can select local village and town officers. But they contend that the people cannot select officers hundreds of miles away under direct nominations, whom they have not seen and about whom they know nothing.

On the other hand, those who believe in a pure democracy take the position that the people are so ignorant, so feeble and so incompetent that they cannot intelligently and wisely select local representatives in their own community from their friends and neighbors and prominent citizens where they are aided by the light of personal acquaintance and first-hand accurate information. Therefore, the advocates of a pure democracy declare that our representative system has broken down. They say that it must be abolished, and that public officers must now be chosen all over the State by the people directly. They take the position that the people cannot intelligently select delegates from their own friends and neighbors in their own community, but that they can wisely guess at the qualifications of public officers all over the State without having any personal knowledge or accurate information in regard to their qualifications.

Could anything be more ridiculous and absurd?

LEGISLATION BY "RIDERS."

Early Discouraged by House of Lords in England.

Referring to the embarrassment which President Wilson is now having in dealing with the "rider" attached to the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill, it is interesting to read the criticism passed at an early date upon the practice of tacking bad pieces of legislation on money bills in the English Parliament, commented on by De Lolme in his "Constitution of England," (published by John Murray, London, 1789:)

> Without looking further back for examples than the reign of Charles II., we see that the House of Commons had, in that reign, begun to adopt the method of adding (or "tacking," as it is commonly expressed) such bills as they wanted more particularly to have passed to their money bills. This forcible use they made of their undoubted privilege of granting money, if suffered to have grown into common practice, would have totally destroyed the equilibrium that ought to subsist between them and the Crown. But the Lords took upon themselves the task of maintaining that equilibrium; they complained with great warmth of the several precedents that were made by the Commons of the practice we mention; they insisted that bills should be framed "in the old and decent way of Parliament"; and at last have made it a standing order of their House to reject upon the sight of them all bills that are tacked to money bills.

It would seem that the value of the equilibrium to be attained between the executive and legislative branches of the Government by the adoption of such a rule would be sufficiently impressive to warrant an adoption of the English practice.

Are Somnambulists Responsible?

Permit me to say a word for Judge Gemmill. The young man knowing his somnambulistic frailties had no right to be in public, no right to inflict them on the public, or make himself a nuisance. If he is fined every time, he will take precautionary measures to keep himself awake.

WHAT WOMEN CAN DO.

Everett P. Wheeler Sees Lines of Action Outside the Polls.

Your correspondent, Mrs. Bamford, asks "in all humility, how a woman can do anything, politically or otherwise, if she does not vote." That is a fair question. Let me answer it.

Politically, she can study political questions, consult with experienced and wise persons, write letters for the newspapers or articles in the magazines, appear before committees, and even, if she has a gift that way, make speeches at public meetings. That is what a man does, and the woman has the same right. He can do that without voting. If the newspapers are to be believed, neither Woodrow Wilson nor Theodore Roosevelt voted at the last election. John Hay was a resident of the District of Columbia, and had no right to vote. But he was an influential Secretary of State.

What your fair correspondent does not see is that men do not exercise political influence by voting, but by inducing others to vote. And that, women under our present laws are free to do.

What the suffragists want is to impose upon women the burden of the suffrage, which the great majority of women do not want. They would call wives and mothers, who outnumber the unmarried women of voting age eight to one, from the duty and privilege which they alone can perform, to engage in the strife of politics. Every one who has been active in politics knows it is a strife, and that if women voted every Democratic district leader would take pride in inducing the wife or sister of a Republican to vote the Democratic ticket, and vice versa. If your friend thinks that would make for family peace she knows little of human nature.

She twits the women who oppose political suffrage for women with going outside their homes. They do it in self-defense, and in defense of the noble women in every walk of life who are absorbed in the care of their husbands and families and who do not want the responsibility of the ballot thrust upon them. Men cannot do their work, and we do not ask them to do ours. Again your correspondent seems to take pride in the suffrage procession. I happen to know that the suffragists used the most strenuous efforts to induce both men and women to march. Personal urgency at every meeting and in countless factories and shops was employed. What was the result? There are in New York City over a million and a half persons, men and women, of 21 years of age and upward. Of these less than eleven thousand, by actual count, marched in the procession. If there is comfort in this for the suffragists, they are welcome.

The best description of that party was given by Theodore Roosevelt in his book on "American Ideals:"

> Then there are the believers in "isms," of whom the women suffragists stand in the first rank. Now I have always been a believer in woman's rights, but I must confess I have never seen such a hopelessly impracticable set of persons as the woman suffragists who came up to Albany to get legislation. They simply would not draw up their measures in proper form; when I pointed out to one of them that their proposed bill was drawn up in direct defiance of certain of the sections of the Constitution of the State he blandly replied that he did not care at all for that, because the measure had been drawn up so as to be in accord with the Constitution of Heaven. There was no answer to this beyond the very obvious one that Albany was in no way akin to Heaven.

I do not see that the suffragists pay any more attention to facts than they did when Mr. Roosevelt was in the Legislature.

SPRINKLING WELL DONE.

Fifth Avenue Merchants Willing to Pay Private Company.

Merchants and property owners on Fifth Avenue do not pay for any street sprinkling because no sprinkling is done by the Street Cleaning Department. The streets certainly are alternately dry and wet, otherwise they would not be sprinkled at all, and that the sprinkling is unsatisfactorily done can hardly be the case, because hundreds of property owners subscribe to this service yearly.

Taxpayers are not compelled to pay a tribute to any concern for this work, because there is no appropriation for the purpose, and the Street Cleaning Department lays no burden on the taxpayers, as there is no departmental provision made for it.

As to the work being done in a haphazard, faulty manner, to use Mr. Friedman's words, "anybody with eyes can see" that the streets are sprinkled regularly every day, most of them being gone over at least three times daily, and this service is far from being unsatisfactory or haphazard.

Sir Edward Grey's Suffrage Views.

If the British woman suffragist will cease from riotous warfare the chances for woman's right to vote will be vastly improved. They have an immense asset in the friendliness to their cause of Sir Edward Grey, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, as he is a gentleman of great good sense, great good heart, and of powerful influence. Though his office does not deal with such questions as woman suffrage, his opinion on any subject must sooner or later have weight in the deciding of Ministerial measures and preventing measures that he advocates from losing life or spirit.

Woman's plea for the removal of political disabilities is far from being hopeless when championed by such a gifted, influential, and just man, who seems to be always on the right side of a question.

AN EXCEPTION.

Now old and young emit the cry,
"The cost of living is so high!"
Perhaps—
And yet this very day
See what I buy
And what must pay!
What's going on at home, abroad,
The books, plays, pictures men applaud,
Achievements new in Science, Art,
The doings of each busy mart,
Who's dead or married, born or killed,
Heroic deeds which men have thrilled,
Where goods are bought, the cheapest, best,
Resorts for recreation, rest,
How money may be made to grow,
A thousand facts one ought to know,
Who's who in statesmanship, and craft,
Who's penalized for guile, greed, graft,
Just what the sporting world concerns,
Investments which bring quick returns,
Crop outlooks, the religious trend,
Bright tales which wit and wisdom blend—
All this I buy and even more,
And have delivered at my door.
Good value for the cash I've spent,
I get The Times; it costs a cent!

J. P. MORGAN MEMORIAL.

George F. Parker and Others in Praise of Financier's Services.

A special memorial service for the late J. Pierpont Morgan was held last evening at the Chapel of the Intercession, Trinity Parish, at Broadway and 158th Street. In announcing the service the Vicar, the Rev. Dr. Milo H. Gates, said that the section of Manhattan in which the chapel was situated was especially indebted to Mr. Morgan, who gave to the Numismatic Society his valuable collection of American gold and silver coins. There was a special musical service by the full vested choir.

George F. Parker, who was a close friend of President Cleveland, and a former Consul at Birmingham, England, delivered the memorial address. He spoke first of the great memorial meetings held in this city and London at the time of Mr. Morgan's death, and then said:

"It is the more fitting that in this presence, and after the lapse of some time, we should emphasize the work untiringly done, in storm as in calm, by one so distinctly the product of both our faith and our institutions. In the midst of pretension and ignorance in high places, at a time when petty men seek laurels they cannot fairly win or usefully wear, and when every system of signals thus far invented is set flying to attract notice, it is comforting to turn, as a relief, to a consideration of some of the characteristics of an ingrained American to whom, whether in thought or action, conscience and a sense of duty were prompters.

"Only the ignorant or thoughtless would emphasize the fact that Mr. Morgan was the man of wealth. He was so little of that, he was so much more, that even a curious public did not set itself the task of continually appraising his possessions. He himself was satisfied if they were sufficient for the purposes and the ambitions that teemed in his busy, comprehending brain."

Speaking of Mr. Morgan's untiring efforts to obtain art treasures for America, Mr. Parker said:

"When found, he bought them with a keener interest than he ever showed in reorganizing a railroad, or conducting banks, or any ventures yielding a profit. The story of his devotion to this task is little known. When it is told there will stand revealed sleepless energy, innate knowledge nourished by study, a keen and always growing perception of needs and opportunities, and an enthusiasm that overlooked obstacles."

Then, speaking of the part Mr. Morgan took in the panics of 1893 and 1907, Mr. Parker said that in nothing did Mr. Morgan's character stand out more clearly than in dealing with one serious peril after another. He told of a conversation which he had with President Cleveland, in which Mr. Cleveland expressed his admiration for Mr. Morgan in these words:

"When I sat opposite Mr. Morgan during those anxious days and nights, discussing the perils that threatened government and industry, and concerting a way to escape, I saw that I was not dealing with a man who had some selfish plan for enriching himself or his associates, but a strong, well-poised, patriotic banker, who was using all his ability and throwing into the scale his credit, character, and authority to extricate his country from difficulties."

"Mr. Morgan," continued Mr. Parker, "was the natural successor of the great merchants who, in our countries of origin as well as in all our own history, have made society their debtors. They guard our institutions, protect them from encroachment, and are a standing rebuke to the demagogy, the unreasoning movements, the incoherent demands to which the modern politician—in temporary power or in the restless search for it—so uniformly surrender without protest or resistance. Men of this type, with moral and intellectual independence, find their mission, pleasure, and reward in private station."

"Free in speech when he had something to say, his reputed taciturnity was but the harmony between act and word," he said. "Self-reliant as he was, no man ever confided more completely in others. From porter to Bishop, when he trusted men, he took their word and followed their advice. In fairness, it must be said that he did not have that quality which, according to St. Paul, enabled the people of Corinth to 'suffer fools gladly,' a fact which might be attested by many of this ilk who have felt the weight of a sharp and deserved rebuke.

He had courtesy and charity in their highest sense, rather than that easy geniality or fellowship which deceives many men about the real relations that they bear to others. While he gave so freely of personal service as never to shirk a public duty, his mind was so absorbed with general principles, that his sympathy went out more to man than to men, thus enabling him to deal effectively with large terms and conditions. Only by seeing the greater things can we understand how wide and deep is the gulf between the destroyer and the builder."

The memorial service attracted a crowd that filled the church.

BANKERS NOW DECIDE WARS.

They Have Final Say in International Disputes, Henry Clews Says.

Charles F. Lent presided last night at a meeting in the Nostrand Avenue Methodist Church in Brooklyn, held under the auspices of the American Peace and Arbitration League. Henry Clews, President of the society, in his address announced that President Wilson had accepted the Honorary Presidency of the league, succeeding ex-President Taft. Mr. Clews said:

"I can attest to the difficulty of obtaining funds for war purposes from my own experience in 1861, when as fiscal agent of the Government I had a large share in selling bonds to finance the civil war. The great bankers of Europe and the United States have often prevented war. Before actual hostilities commence they are generally consulted by Governments, as they provide the sinews of war by the sale of bonds, and none know better than the bankers the ultimate cost and destructive effects of international strife.

"The bankers of the world will no longer allow foolish and unnecessary wars to be waged. They hold the purse strings, and in our time their decisions in grave emergencies are final. Kings and rulers are in many cases mere figureheads, and the real power rests with those who control the finances and industries of a nation."

Hudson Maxim, the inventor of high explosives, said that men of war were really the best peace men. He asserted that he stood squarely on the league's platform for the settlement of international disputes through conciliation, diplomacy, mediation, and judicial arbitration conducted in a permanent international court to be maintained at The Hague.

FUNDS FOR FOURTH COMING.

Committee Promises Joyous Day if Subscriptions Hold Out.

Although the Board of Estimate, in its determination to save money for Father Knickerbocker, was able to appropriate only $25,000 for the use of the Mayor's Safe and Sane Fourth of July Committee, New York is going to have just as fine a celebration as in any past year. It is, at any rate, if patriotic citizens continue to subscribe as generously the coming week as they have the last week.

Isaac N. Seligman, Treasurer of the committee, has thus far received $2,858 in subscriptions ranging from a dollar to a check for $500 forwarded by Mrs. Russell Sage. That, added to the balance left over from last year's celebration of $2,769, brings the total funds in the hands of the committee up to $5,627, and only leaves $25,000 or $30,000 more to be subscribed in order that New York may at least do as well in the way of an Independence Day celebration this year as it has done for three years preceding.

With the example set by loyal New Yorkers with their first week's subscriptions, the Finance Committee of the Safe and Sane Fourth Committee confidently expects to raise the additional thousands needed.

BEGIN CLOSING WEEK AT UNIVERSITIES

THE IDEALS FOR YOUNG MEN

Bishop Gailor at Columbia and the Rev. Mr. Brown at New York Point Out Needs of To-day.

The commencement exercises for Columbia and New York Universities began yesterday with baccalaureate services at both institutions. At Columbia the service was held in the gymnasium, as St. Paul's Chapel was not large enough to accommodate those wishing to attend. Bishop Thomas Frank Gailor of Tennessee, who received the degree of Doctor of Sacred Theology from Columbia in 1891, preached the sermon.

The candidates for degrees which will be awarded next Wednesday, with members of the faculty, Trustees, and representatives of other institutions, formed for the academic procession in the Low Library in the afternoon. The college seniors led the procession, followed by the Barnard seniors. Many members of the faculty were absent and the Rev. William T. Manning, rector of Trinity Church; John B. Pine, and President Butler were the only members of the Board of Trustees present.

In addressing the students, Bishop Gailor drew a contrast between the ideal of life which he said was composed in large part of service and sacrifice and the world's ideal. In his sermon he said:

> The law of Christ is the law of service, and the spirit of Christ is the spirit of sacrifice, and no man can call himself a Christian who is not doing some service and making some sacrifice. And the contrast between this ideal of life and the world's ideal is drawn more sharply today perhaps than ever before in history.
> We are still invited to the service of a world which is just big enough and kind enough and near enough to meet the desires of the natural man—to give him recognition of his talents, reward for his activity, pleasure for his appetites, and complacent satisfaction with himself as he is. To those who have the force of will and the strength of mind and body this world gives its prizes with a free hand, and its God is not so big and mysterious as to puzzle the intellect with difficult questions, and its present success lulls the conscience to sleep over the possibilities of the future. To the men and women who are worshipping the God of this world philanthropic interests are the mere afterthought of later life, or the concessions to a custom which self-love finds gratifying and expedient.

The baccalaureate exercises of New York University were held in the Auditorium on University Heights yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Charles Reynolds Brown, Dean of the Yale Divinity School, on "Greater Things Ahead." Music was furnished by a vested choir of 150 voices under the direction of Daniel R. Philippi, choirmaster and organist of All Souls' Churh. The entire Faculty of the schools at University Heights and representatives of the other Faculties of the university were present in academic costume, and were seated upon the platform.

The seventy-five candidates for degrees from the schools at University Heights were present in cap and gown and occupied reserved seats in the Auditorium. Representatives of the graduating classes of other schools of the university were also present. Dean Brown in his sermon said:

"The military command, 'Eyes front' has its counterpart in the work of the prophet. When we study the work of the Hebrew prophets we find some of them looking back; their eyes are on the past, and with the memory of Israel's failure in mind their words are words of censure and judgment. In the other group the prophets have their eyes on the future. They are looking ahead, for they have caught a vision of a coming kingdom whose builder and maker is God. They are the prophets of hope.

"It is significant that when Jesus appeared, the greatest of all prophets, he took his stand definitely with the prophets of hope. His golden age lay in the future. He never spoke of an ancient Paradise from which man had been driven out. He pictured no high estate of moral excellence from which man had fallen. He was ever looking ahead for a new heaven and a new earth wherein should dwell righteousness.

"Ye shall see greater things than these! Ye shall see heaven open! In the clearer vision of eternal reality men were to see a whole upper realm of spiritual values and forces made plain. They were to see heaven open, operative, efficient in the affairs of earth.

"'Greater works than these shall ye do!' Not greater wonders, but greater works! Greater in their scope and variety, greater in their continuity and wide utility! To lodge in the heart of Christendom a sense of responsibility for all the blind, the sick and the defective of earth resulting in such wise and human treatment of their ills as was never dreamed of in the time of Christ is a much greater work than to open the eyes of one blind man at the pool of Siloam.

"'Ye shall be perfect even as your Father in Heaven is perfect.' I quote the words as they stand in the Revised Version, for they constitute a promise rather than a command. The very assurance contained in such words carries with it the pledge of a moral opportunity adequate in being indefinitely extended and the offer of divine grace sufficient for the achievement.

"Ye shall see, ye shall do, ye shall be, that which entirely transcends all present achievement! What a magnificent expectation to march at the head of our highest and holiest desires! Follow where it leads and it will bring you out of the region of dreary sands and bitter waters into a veritable land of promise."

HONOR A BLIND STUDENT.

Glover Elected to Phi Beta Kappa at Columbia College.

Calvin S. Glover, a blind student and candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts at Columbia University at commencement next Wednesday, has achieved the distinction of having his name appear on the list of those elected to the Phi Beta Kappa Fraternity. He is the second out of five blind students who have received degrees at Columbia to win this coveted honor. The first blind man elected was Abraham Berinstein, who graduated a few years ago.

Throughout his undergraduate career Grover has been a prominent figure at Glover has been a prominent figure at popular men in his class and his humor has always attracted attention. In spite of his handicap, he has taken part in many of the student activities.

Glover excelled in all his studies, but his special forte was music. Frank E. Ward, associate director of music at Columbia, took a keen interest in Glover from the first day that he came to the university from Louisville, Ky., his home. Up to that time Glover had made most of his advance in music through his extremely sensitive ears, and he could play most compositions on the piano after hearing them once.

Twenty men in all have been elected to Phi Beta Kappa from the 130 who will be graduated from Columbia College. This year's senior class is remarkable in the large number of men of high academic standing. Altogether more than thirty-eight were eligible to Phi Beta Kappa. Following the custom of the Columbia chapter for many years, not all of those eligible were elected. One member of the class was elected last February on Alumni Day, so that the class of 1913 will have really twenty-one members in Phi Beta Kappa, the largest number so far admitted at this university.

Among those who have received the highest honors in their final oral and written examinations given according to the new honor system adopted at Columbia and who were elected were Jacob Lipschultz, Allen B. Crow, Jay Leo Rothschild, David H. Moskowitz, Albert Levitt, Elbridge Colby, George Forrest Butterworth, Jr., Nathan C. House, Frederic D. Zeman, and Abraham Kroll. The others elected, who were not candidates for honors, but whose high mark in all their work made them eligible, were Allen De Forest Smith, Pincus F. Hirshcopf, Eugene Klein, J. Malcolm Bird, James Wilford Foote, Milton Kadison, Clarence L. Lewis, Ralph Colp, Charles H. Chase, and Calvin S. Glover.

The Experience of Some Insurers

Nearly every large line of business carried on in New York is represented in our list of clients. Many of them have been secured after a painstaking examination of their property by our experts, and the adoption of improvements which have resulted in remarkable reductions in their insurance premiums

One, a paper manufacturer, says: "We find after making a final calculation, that you have brought about a saving to us of practically two-thirds of our annual cost of insurance."

A maker of pumping engines writes: "Since you took hold of our business you have revised our insurance rates and have secured a reduction of over 60%."

A large baking company reports a saving of over 34%, but adds: "It is a secondary matter when the improvement in the forms covering our fire insurance interests is considered."

It will pay you to find out more about the methods of an organization that is equipped to serve its clients in such a satisfactory manner. Let us examine your property and submit a definite proposition. We want your business, only if we can save you money.

ALPHABETIC SHOCKS AT THE GAELIC FEIS

Ua Raghallaighi, O'Conchubhairi, O'Draighneains, and the Cobhthaighs Were There.

THEY REVIVED OLD SPORTS

There Were Skirling Pipes, Dancers, and Pretty Girls Galore, but Not an Orangeman in the 5,000.

Several generations of the O'Conchubhairi, whole families of the Ua Raghallaighi, and the Mheachairi, also the MacGearailts, Ua Cobhthaighs, O'Draighneains, and one untutored Ua Malley foregathered with 5,000 members of the clans yesterday at Celtic Park to celebrate the Feis Eabhraigh Nua.

The war pipes were skir-r-rling here and there the green and yellow mantels worn by the "Blackbird" dancers glinted in the sunlight. The Irish gray eyes didn't even drop a curtain of black lashes over the mischievous glances thrown by the colleens to their boucailli partners. The notes of "Peurla an Bhrollaigh Bhain," sung with melodious sadness by a native-born balladist, sounded near at hand in plaintive appeal. Followed a patriotic address, bristling with defiance of the Saxon and with hope for the return of Erin's sovereignty.

Mind ye! this was all in Gaelic except for the petulant query of the Ua Malley, who straightway was told this:

That the Gaelic League of Ireland organized the Feis, or Parliament, in conjunction with the New York State branch of the league, for the purpose of reenacting both in speech, song, story, and pastime the customs of centuries ago in Ireland.

Celtic Park held one of its biggest crowds. It would have been dangerous for an Orangeman or a Dutchman to have approached closer than Astoria. Among the competitors in the various events were many from near-by States and several right from the auld sod.

The scene was staged so faithfully by Donal O'Connor, who came all the way from Ireland to do it, that the spectators did not have to use sight-drafts on the imagination to picture themselves back on the village green. Disillusion came only when the pipes were stilled for a moment or tired ankles rested from the jig or hornpipe.

The spirit of the occasion gripped the guests as soon as they passed through the turnstile of the park. If they listened they could hear a story-teller recounting a tale of the long ago. It was told in the home tongue with many a sigh and plenty of laughter, as the lore required. Hundreds of men and women and a few children could understand what was said. Donal O'Sullivan won this contest.

There was a similar competition in Gaelic recitation, won by Maurice Finn. His audience listened to him as attentively as if he were speaking in purest English, and the frequent applause proved that he was understood by a surprisingly large number. Finn also excelled in his singing of "Ataim in Mo Culaw," (I am asleep,) which inspired Tom Moore's famous "Erin o' Erin." As the singing progressed mothers and fathers could be heard translating the songs to their children, and even to eager grownups. It was thus that the untutored Ua Malley learned about "Kilcash" while Donal O'Sullivan was singing this song, known to all men o' Waterford.

"There was a young ecclesiast," so the whispers ran, "who was sent away to school by a rich old lady who lived in a castle on the banks of the Suir. He finished his studies and returned to give thanks to his patroness. He found her castle dismantled and the beautiful woods surrounding it burned by the Cromwellian soldiers. Weeping as he sat amid the ruins, he wrote his lament, known thereafter as 'Kilcash.'"

This was followed by another lament, "John O'Dwyer o' the Glen," sung by Miss Lizzie Smedick. It had to do with the destruction of the O'Dwyer castle in the Protestant wars of 1641. Sullen, drooping spirits were raised forthwith when the hearty words of the famous "Drinking Song of the Five Provinces" were heard.

"But there are only four provinces," the Ua Malley made bold to say.

"There was a County Meath, you know," volunteered a bystander cuttingly.

Frank O'Coffey, descendant of a family of Irish harpists, followed the balladists on the platform, bearing a war pipe which began to throb with militant measures as he strode back and forth. He wore a fifteenth century costume, and thrust in his cap was a pheasant's plume which, he confided to friends, had been stolen from a cock poached from the preserves of Lord Inchiquin.

Here and there in the park were others dressed in saffron skirts and mantels fastened with the Tara and other historic brooches. It was the real moss-dyed, peet-perfumed saffron that they wore, too.

Michael Carey, ex-Secretary of the Gaelic League of New York, told of the days in the time of Henry VIII. when an Irishman must put aside his saffron and shave his beard before entering English precincts. Also, he was required to drop his family name and adopt one suggested by a color, a trade, or a town. Hence the Browns and the Whites and the Greenes; the Barbers and the Smiths and the Taylors; the Manchesters, the Lesters, and the Townes.

The Rev. James W. Power of All Saints, 129th Street and Madison Avenue, who is credited with being one of the most learned Gaelic educators in this country, was an interested spectator. He told of the tradition which has it that King Ollenh Fodhla instituted the Feis about 2000 B. C. The King was one of the wisest of Ireland's monarchs, and on occasions called together scholars, singers, harpists, and athletes to compete in their various pursuits. This was the idea followed yesterday. Among the events and the winners were:

Gaelic Conversation—Andrew Crowley of Brooklyn, first; Annie Collins, New York, second. Gaelic Singing, (Ladies)—Miss Lizzie Smedick, New York, first; Noreen Drudy, second. Gaelic Essays, (Conan Maol")—Rockwell College Cashel, first. Gaelic Singing, (Children)—Julia Maher, New York, first; Thomas Maher, New York, second. Irish War Pipes—Frank O'Moore, New York, first; Frank O'Connor, New York, second. Jig and Reel, (Ladies)—Kitty Murray, New York, first; Beatrice Reardon, New York, second. Jig and Reel, (Men)—Dan Murphy, New York, first; Pat Holland, New York, second. Highland Pipes—William Campbell Reid, first; Robert Grieve, second. "Blackbird" Dance, (Men)—Tom Hill, New York, first; John Walsh, Jersey City, second. Hornpipe—Tom Hill, first; Dan Murphy, second. Four-Hand Reel—Irish Pipers' Club, first and second. Four-Hand Jig—Clan Ui Mheachair, Bronx, first; Brooklyn Gaelic Society, second.

The game of Gaelic football between the Cork and Kildare men was won by the latter, 8 to 2. There were no casualties.

KILLED RETURNING FROM PARK

Elevator Man at Fire Headquarters Fell from Trolley Car.

Returning from Celtic Park, where he attended the Gaelic celebration, Thomas Coyle, 55 years old, living at 714 Third Avenue, who for six years had run one of the elevators at Fire Headquarters, 157 East Sixty-seventh Street, either fell or was thrown from the running board of a crowded trolley car as it rounded the corner of Front and Third Streets, Long Island City, yesterday evening about 7 o'clock. His skull was fractured and he died while being carried in an ambulance to St. John's Hospital.

Coyle was returning to Manhattan, where he had been in the Fire Department service since 1907 and was familiarly known to the men as "Tommy."

Taxicabs Were His Cortege.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—"Much of my success I owe to taxicabs. Let them be used at my funeral instead of carriages." This was the last message of Jeremiah Fickeling, general manager of a taxicab company, who died here last week, and explained why all the vehicles that followed the horse-drawn hearse were taxicabs.

EX-SENATOR PALMER DEAD.

Detroit Lumberman Succumbs to Effects of Auto Accident.

DETROIT, June 1.—Ex-United States Senator Thomas Witherell Palmer, one of Detroit's oldest and most prominent citizens, died to-day after a long illness. He was hurt in an automobile accident two years ago and never fully recovered.

Thomas Witherell Palmer was born in Detroit on Jan. 25, 1830. He was the son of Thomas Palmer, a merchant. He attended the University of Ann Arbor for a year until eye trouble compelled him to leave it. He then made a pedestrian tour of Spain and an extended trip through South America. On his return, he settled in Wisconsin and became a merchant.

In 1853, ex-Senator Palmer went back to his native city and was engaged for two years in the real estate business, next becoming a lumber merchant and mill owner. In 1873, he was a member of the Michigan Board of Estimate, and in 1878 a member of the Michigan Senate. He served as United States Senator from 1883 to 1889, and next was Minister to Spain. He was President of the World's Columbian Commission in 1892 and President of the Waterways Convention at Sault Ste. Marie in 1887.

Ex-Senator Palmer in 1894 paid $150,000 to several insurance companies for annuities totaling $12,500. He drew $237,500.

J. H. STURDEVANT WEDS.

Deputy Superintendent of Highways Marries Miss Mary P. Holmes.

The wedding of Miss Mary P. Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Holmes of Summit, N. J., and James H. Sturdevant, Deputy Superintendent of Highways of New York, took place at the country place of the bride's parents in West Summit on Saturday evening. Miss Wright of Charlottesville, Va., was bridesmaid, and Harve J. Sturdevant of Baltimore was groomsman.

The bride was gowned in white charmeuse. The bridal bouquet was of lilies of the valley and white sweet peas. Five generations of the Holmes family, one of the oldest in Northern New Jersey, attended the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Sturdevant of Norwich, N. Y., parents of the groom, and their three other sons, attended the wedding. A buffet supper was followed by dancing. Among the guests were friends of Mr. Sturdevant from official circles in Albany.

JAMES BURKE IN CONCERT.

Irish Tenor, Recently Abroad, Makes His First Appearance Here.

James Burke, the Irish tenor, who has sung in grand opera in Italy and Austria, appeared for the first time in this country last night when he gave a concert in Aeolian Hall. Assisting him were Beatrice Fine, soprano; Miss A. MacLeonard, harpist, and Robert Louis Gannon, pianist. Burke sang, among other selections, Mendelssohn's "Be Thou Faithful Until Death," Haydn's "In Native Worth," in addition to operatic selections from Verdi, Puccini, and others from Thomas, Moore, and Trotere.

Mr. Burke came to America from Ireland when a boy, and with his earnings here went to Italy, where he studied five years. He was warmly received by his audience last night.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

The last performance of "Damaged Goods" here will be given next Saturday night. The play will go on the road next season, playing the larger cities under the patronage of local sociological societies.

Jane Cowl, who left the cast of "Within the Law" on Saturday night, sails for Europe on the Cedric on Wednesday, to be gone about two months. Helen Ware will play her role until Miss Cowl returns.

Edward Milton Royle is to furnish the book for his home-town pageant, which will take place at Darien, Conn., on Aug. 29 and 30 and Sept. 1. William Chauncey Langdon will stage the pageant.

Francine Larrimore will be seen, beginning this evening, in the role of Lucine with Edmund Breese in "The Master Mind" at the Harris.

Martin Beck, head of the Orpheum vaudeville circuit, who has been on a flying trip to Europe, sailed for home on Saturday on the Mauretania.

Edward Fales Coward has been added to the list of speakers who will address the audience at the special matinee of "Iolanthe" at the Casino Theatre Thursday afternoon to establish the Gilbert and Sullivan Fund of the New York Public Library.

NEW BAGGAGE RULES IN EFFECT TO-DAY

Also Cheaper Express Rate to Long Island and Stricter Watch on Milk.

LONG TRUNKS MUST PAY

Subscribers May Talk to Coney Island for 5 Cents—The West Will Save on Long Island Express.

A number of new rules and laws went into effect yesterday. They concern excess baggage handled by the railroads, telephone rates to suburban districts, express rates from outside points through New York to Long Island, and the sale of milk.

The new excess baggage rule, which caused no little discussion, especially among the men and women whose professions necessitated travel, went into effect at midnight on Saturday, and the result was that trunks and other baggage measuring more than forty-five inches in length had an excess charge to pay. Trunks and other containers more than seventy-two inches in length will hereafter be rejected by the railroads, and they can be handled only by the express companies or freight agents at the usual charges.

The telephone rates to Coney Island, Bath Beach, Bay Ridge, Midwood and Canarsie, which were reduced after a long fight by the residents and civic organizations in those sections, also became effective yesterday, pursuant to an order by the Public Service Commission for the Second District, issued May 22 last. A five-cent rate was accepted by the New York Telephone Company. The reduction applies only to subscribers, public pay telephone rates remaining the same.

In taking over the Long Island Express Company, which has been in operation for more than forty years, the Adams Express Company, beginning yesterday, instituted a graduate rate from outside points through New York to points in Long Island. Under the old system a ten-pound package shipped from a Western city, and having, for instance, an express charge of 75 cents to New York under the Adams Express Company's rate, would pay an additional rate to the Long Island Express Company, say of 35 cents, for shipment to some point in Long Island. Under the single rate the same package may be shipped from the same Western city for about 95 cents instead of $1.10. However, no difference will be noted in the local rates.

Likewise there went into effect yesterday an order issued by the Health Department respecting the sale of milk dipped from cans. The order is that "the sale of milk dipped from cans will be permitted only in milk stores approved by the Department of Health, and for which a permit has been issued, or in places in which foodstuffs other than milk products are sold in original packages only."

The new regulation requiring that bottles or packages bear a stamped label showing the net weight or measure of the contents was the result of the work of the Mayor's Bureau of Weights and Measures. It is designed to protect the consumer from the dishonest merchant. The regulation has already been observed by many manufacturers in anticipation of its becoming effective yesterday.

William G. Johnston Dead.

Special to The New York Times.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., June 1.—William G. Johnston, one of the wealthiest men of this city, died at his home here this afternoon at the age of 85. He had resided here since 1894. Mr. Johnston's father was one of the proprietors of the Pittsburgh Gazette, back in 1820, while Mr. Johnston himself, although living here, was the head of the W. G. Johnston Publishing Company of Pittsburgh. When he was 21 years old, Mr. Johnston formed a company of young men in Pittsburgh and led them to California. It is said that his was the first wagon train to enter California, in 1849.

Mrs. Margaret Weston McBurney.

Mrs. Margaret Weston McBurney, a daughter of Frederick and Elizabeth (Hart) Weston, and the wife of Dr. Charles McBurney, the well-known surgeon, died yesterday from pneumonia at her home, 520 Park Avenue. She was married to Dr. McBurney on Oct. 8, 1874, and had three children, Henry, Malcolm, and Alice. Dr. McBurney was one of the surgeons who sought to save the life of President McKinley. He has been connected with the New York Hospital, St. Luke's, the Presbyterian, the Lincoln, the Orthopaedic, St. Mark's, and the Hospital for the Ruptured and Crippled. He is a member of many medical associations and societies, and has contributed extensively to surgical literature.

MRS. SARASOHN'S FUNERAL.

Thousands Attend Services and March in Procession.

Between 3,000 and 4,000 persons attended the funeral yesterday of Mrs. Bashe Sarasohn, widow of the Rev. Kasryel H. Sarasohn, founder of The Jewish Daily News. Mrs. Sarasohn was widely known for her charitable work. She was a member of thirty Jewish charity organizations, and most of the marchers to the Union Fields Cemetery in Brooklyn were beneficiaries of her charity.

The funeral procession, consisting of the hearse and twelve carriages, left the Sarasohn home, at 1,677 Madison Avenue, and proceeded to the office of The Jewish Daily News, at 187 East Broadway. Here a large crowd awaited the procession, and from the stoop of the office Rabbi I. Z. Wenderowsky delivered a eulogy of the dead woman. From there the carriages and marchers went to the Hebrew Sheltering and Immigrant Aid Society, at 220 East Broadway. This organization was founded by Mr. and Mrs. Sarasohn. Another large crowd had assembled there, and Rabbi Philip Jachas spoke of the charity of Mrs. Sarasohn. From there the procession moved to the Daughters of Jacob Society, at 301 East Broadway, and the crowd was increased. Following a eulogy there, services were held at the Beth Hamedrash Hagodel Synagogue, at 64 Norfolk Street.

FREDERICK A. OBER DEAD.

Noted Ornithologist and Explorer, Who Discovered New Bird Species.

Special to The New York Times.

HACKENSACK, N. J., June 1.—Frederick Albion Ober, 65 years old, one of the best-known authorities on birds in this country, and a founder of the Explorers' Club, died last night at his home here.

Mr. Ober began hunting birds in Florida and explored the Lake Okeechobee region in 1872 and 1874. He made an ornithological investigation of the Lesser Antilles in 1876 and 1878. In 1880 he discovered twenty-two new species of birds, the largest number ever discovered by any man in North America. Two of the new species were named after him. In 1881 and again in 1883 and 1885 he made an exploration of Mexico, and then explored Spain, North Africa, South America, and again the West Indies. He wrote forty books on historical topics and natural history.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION IN AMERICA AND EUROPE

It was after our market had closed for a triple holiday that the treaty re-establishing peace in Southeastern Europe was signed. Europe's markets were open, and they were but little affected by the first news of the formal establishment of peace, but the signing of that treaty may nevertheless be regarded as the most important of the events of the past week bearing on the general financial situation. This will still be true even should the immediate course of prices fail to indicate that any large influence has been exerted for the time being on market sentiment by the closing of the Balkan war. Though it may exert its influence slowly, the termination of the struggle between Turkey and the Balkan States and of the differences which latterly threatened to break up the alliance which had been formed for the successful attack on Turkey will go far to re-establish conditions in Europe on a normal basis. The worst of the fears to which the Balkan war gave rise were, it is true, allayed some time ago, but until the belligerents in that struggle laid down their arms there was always the possibility that others might be drawn into the contest. The money markets have matters left which put them under caution, but they should now be free of fear in respect to political complications, the barest suggestion of which was enough to put finance under great restraint.

While our market was in session the matters which chiefly engaged its attention were the Frisco receivership and the formation of the plans which the Union Pacific is submitting to the United States Circuit Court in obedience to the decree ordering the separation of the Southern Pacific from the Union Pacific. Had there been any reason for regarding the affairs of the St. Louis & San Francisco as typical of the railway situation as a whole very grave and widespread concern would have been caused by the insolvency of that road. As it was the news of the Frisco receivership had most effect on the lower-priced securities, while the majority of those in stronger position were very little affected. Any one who has at any recent period bought the junior securities of the Frisco system has known, or ought to have known, that he was engaging in a speculative rather than in an investment transaction. For this reason there was less merit than would otherwise have attached to the criticisms which were directed against the American security market by the French bankers, who were aroused by the news of the Frisco receivership. The junior bonds of the company had been selling, indeed had been placed by the company itself, at prices which yielded a rate of interest which clearly carried a warning that a good deal of risk was being assumed by the purchaser. More than in the case of any other railroad the bondholders of the Frisco were partners in the enterprise rather than its mere creditors. The stockholders were the nominal rather than the real owners of the property to so great an extent had that been mortgaged to others. There was no occasion for some of the spokesmen of the Frisco interests laying the receivership at the door of Congress or of the State Legislatures because of the exactions of Governmental regulation. Some of those exactions go further than fair treatment of the railroads warrants, but the cause of the Frisco's troubles lay in an entirely different direction. It assumed obligations from which much stronger companies might well have shrunk, and while it is unfortunate that receivership has proved the price of an excess of reliance on the future it is to the interest of the situation as a whole that no false deductions be drawn from the misfortunes which have overcome this property. The general conditions which have handicapped the railroads in their operations and in their finances were, of course, contributing causes to the collapse of the weakly reared Frisco structure, but they were contributing and not primary causes of the road's insolvency. The Frisco system serves a large territory whose growth should amply care for the securities of the company if they be wisely classified and prudently sized. The opportunity is now afforded to place the Frisco system upon a sound financial basis, and this opportunity should not be lost for the sake of any temporary advantage in reorganization. In the new establishment of the company, when the present receivership has been lifted, fixed charges should be kept well within the bounds of safety. The best interest of the public as well as of the holders of the company's securities themselves will be served by such a reorganization as will afford every reasonable assurance that the present difficulties will not recur.

The Directors of the Union Pacific in the plans which they formulated last week for submission to the court did not attempt to deal with a change in the status of the Central Pacific. The Southern Pacific interests were practically under notice that unless the Central Pacific was given up a Government suit would be brought to compel the separation of those lines, but even in the face of this prospect the Union and Southern Pacific Roads could not agree on terms which would meet the approval of the California Railroad Commission so far as it exercises jurisdiction. The plans, therefore, were confined to the plain matter of disposing of the Union Pacific's holdings of Southern Pacific. As the matter now stands it is a question of the company's obtaining the consent of the court for one or the other of the proposals which it is submitting, or for some modified proposal to be formulated after consultation with the court, or of allowing the Union Pacific's Southern Pacific holdings to pass into the hands of a receiver to be named by the court. If the company is successful in obtaining a considerable period of time within which to carry through the liquidation of its Southern Pacific holdings, the separation of the two systems may yet be carried out without serious financial hardship. An immediate sale under existing market conditions would force the acceptance of a relatively low price for Southern Pacific stock, but even if the final outcome be the appointment of a receiver for this stock it is not at all probable that it would be sold hastily. That is not the custom with receiverships generally, and in any event it is to be assumed that every effort will be made to obtain as good a price as possible for the stock, which in the event of a receivership would be liquidated under the immediate direction of the court. The disadvantages of the execution of one or the other of the alternate plans which the Directors have drawn up, or even of a receivership for the stock, may in the long run prove much less than Wall Street has been inclined to expect. It does not necessarily follow that after their separation either system will earn less than it has in the past, and that would seem to be the ultimate test of the advantage or disadvantage accruing from the decree which separates the two roads. It seems unfortunate that further litigation should grow out of the case in the shape of the expected suit to test the legality of the Southern Pacific's ownership of the Central Pacific, but the ultimate outcome of that litigation is a matter for future rather than for present consideration.

In view of the direct bearing which the efforts of the European markets to strengthen their holdings have had on our own situation through the French demand for gold here, more than passing interest attaches to the fact that of late it has seemed very plain that Germany was following in the footsteps of France in making unusual efforts to increase its gold holdings. The French efforts, first to retain its gold and then to attract gold from abroad, had their origin in political apprehensions, but those efforts were continued even after political fears had greatly subsided. The German demand for gold the last few weeks has nowhere been attributed to fears such as those which unsettled Europe further back. It has lately been assumed that in drawing gold from this country France was preparing for the financing which will follow the peace which has now happily been declared. May it not prove finally that Germany in its recent efforts to draw gold has been actuated by a desire to share in that financing? Much political advantage may go along with the financing of the rehabilitation of Turkey and of the Balkan States after the costly war in which they have been engaged. It may be that politics, fortunately peace politics instead of war politics, has much to do with the German as well as with the French demands for gold.

It is worthy of note that New York bank reserves were considerably enlarged during the latest gold outflow from this market. The bank statement last week showed a decrease in surplus, but only to a nominal amount, and the excess over reserve requirements, amounting now to $27,200,000, is $12,000,000 larger than it was five weeks ago. The rise in the surplus reserve of the New York banks indicates that the demand for money in the interior has undergone some reduction. That fits in with other indications of a slowing down of trade, and at the same time suggests that the disposition to prepare for later-in-the-year requirements is bearing practical fruit. An easing of the credit situation has been much needed, and it would seem that influences are at work which are correcting some of the money-market features which have been of cautionary import. The more preparation there is for a strain this Fall when money-market demands will be largest the less will be the chance of a strain actually occurring.

It was noteworthy in last week's more or less unsettled stock market that some of the major issues showed a good deal of resistance throughout. That was one of the favorable phases of the week's trading, and it bore out other indications which the market had lately afforded that in the larger stocks liquidation had ceased to exert much pressure upon prices.

DEPRESSION IN BERLIN.

Announcement of New Loan the Last Straw to a Sagging Market.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BERLIN, June 1.—The conclusion of peace between Turkey and the Balkan League failed grievously to bring about the expected radical improvement in the market. The week ended amid marked depression and a heavy decline in prices.

There were several discouraging factors of local origin throughout the week, but the climax was capped by yesterday's sudden announcement of fresh Imperial and Prussian loans aggregating $56,250,000, which will be devoted to the extension of the State railway system. A syndicate headed by the Imperial and Prussian Government Banks has underwritten the loans, which will be issued on June 12 at 97.9.

The market was taken entirely by surprise at the announcement of the loans, which follow Government issues aggregating $135,000,000. Last February the latter were heavily undersubscribed, and there is much anxiety as to the fate of the new issue.

Among other disturbing factors which the week brought forth was the collapse of an important private bank in Dantsic.

Money continues extraordinarily dear. The monthly settlement, it is feared, will not pass over without serious consequences to many houses.

PARIS INTEREST DEAD.

Frisco Receivership Tends Still Further to Alienate the Public.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, June 1.—The signing of the peace treaty failed to strengthen the Bourse, which retained an irregular bearish tone till the last. Operators are inclined to view skeptically the possibility of an early settlement of the dispute between the Balkan allies. The total absence of interest on the part of the public discourages them from making commitments at present. The petition of the members to have the Bourse close at 2 P. M. instead of at 3, which has been presented considerably in advance of the usual date for the adoption of the Summer schedule, is the best illustration of the scarcity of business.

The exceedingly bad impression created by the news of the Frisco receivership was one of the factors which contributed to the depression of the market, especially as it is thought that it will discourage the public from re-entering the field for some time.

Rios, generally the leading feature of the Bourse, reacted early in the week, and remained irregular till the last.

TOO MANY LOANS IN LONDON.

Underwriters Said to Have Decided to Call a Halt in New Issues.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, June 1.—With the signature of the treaty of peace the cloud of apprehension which has overhung the markets for months was removed, but the City received the news almost with unconcern, gloom prevailing throughout the week. Quotations became more or less nominal, with a tendency to break away on relatively small sales.

One factor in the depression is money. In the ordinary sense the monetary outlook is healthy. As a matter of fact, the reduction of the Bank rate to 4 was practically decided upon this week, but the unexpected German gold demand made postponement necessary. It is pointed out, however, that this gold demand is not entirely unfavorable, since it will ease conditions in Germany and indirectly help England's position.

The present trouble in the City is not the ordinary fear of dear money, but of a strike by the investor who finds the demand for capital too insistent and beyond his power to satisfy. Alarmed by the reckless flooding of the market with recent loans, it is understood that the underwriting interests have decided to call a halt with regard to underwriting new issues until the undigested stock is absorbed. This policy is expected to lead to a general revival of business.

The Value of Money and The Values of Bonds.

It is self-evident that a scarcity of liquid capital will depress the prices which capital in its fixed forms, such as Stocks and Bonds, can command. For some time money has been "tight" the world over. Consequently there has occurred a severe decline in the prices of investment issues, including even those affording the highest security. Periods of money stringency are usually of limited duration. Hence the investor who buys short-time issues returning a high rate of interest reaps but a temporary advantage. A more permanent advantage can often be gained by investing in long-time securities at the low prices which the world-market's need for money tends to produce. We shall be glad to make suggestions along these lines, either by personal interview or by letter, to investors who are interested.

Offers some very unusual advantages to investors. It is redeemable at par by sinking fund in definite amounts annually which provide for retirement in full by 1927. Its dividend rate is 7% and audited reports show applicable earnings exceeding FOUR times the dividend requirements and nearly twice the largest yearly sinking fund and dividend requirements combined.

TO HOLDERS OF

4% Refunding Mortgage Gold Bonds

OF

St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad Company

The undersigned have constituted themselves a committee for the protection of their own bonds and of those of others represented by them. Together, these amount to many millions.

The next coupon will fall due July 1, 1913. So long as no default takes place in the regular payment of interest on the bonds and so long as no attempt is made to issue receivers' certificates having a prior lien to that of the Refunding Bonds, a deposit of bonds will probably be unnecessary. The committee will keep in touch with the progress of the receivership and if for any reason it should deem it advisable to ask for a deposit of the Refunding Bonds, due announcement will be made.

Large holdings of the bonds in Germany will be represented by this committee through the Berliner Handelsgesellschaft, which issued the bonds in Berlin and is acting in conjunction with the committee.

Bondholders are asked to send to the secretary of the committee their names and addresses, and the amount of their holdings.

Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad Company and Affiliated Companies:

In view of the appointment of Receivers for the Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad Company and for the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad Company, and at the request of holders of large amounts of the bonds, the undersigned have consented to act as a committee for the protection of the interests of the holders of mortgage debt and equipment obligations of the CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS RAILROAD COMPANY AND ITS AFFILIATED COMPANIES.

The committee will act for the holders of the Purchase Money First Lien Coal Properties Gold 5% Bonds, the Refunding and Improvement Gold 4% Bonds and the General Consolidated and First 5% Bonds, and all other bonds and equipment obligations of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad Company, the First Mortgage Bonds of the Chicago & Indiana Coal Company Railway, and for the holders of all mortgage bonds and equipment obligations of the

DANSVILLE & GRAPE CREEK RAILROAD COMPANY,
EVANSVILLE, TERRE HAUTE & CHICAGO RAILROAD COMPANY,
EVANSVILLE & TERRE HAUTE RAILROAD COMPANY
EVANSVILLE & INDIANAPOLIS RAILROAD COMPANY.

The committee does not deem it necessary to ask for the deposit of securities at this time, but will keep in touch with the situation in order to protect the interests of holders of the above bonds and equipment obligations, and will ask for deposits in due course if it be deemed desirable.

To the Holders of

First Mortgage Bonds

New York, Lake Erie and Western Docks and Improvement Company

The undersigned, the New York, Lake Erie and Western Docks and Improvement Company, offers to extend the above mentioned bonds so that they shall mature July 1, 1943, (unless sooner redeemed as provided for in the Extension Supplement), with interest at the rate of 5% per annum, payable at the office or agency of the Erie Railroad Company in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, semi-annually, on the first days of January and July in each year, the present First Mortgage lien of said bonds to remain unimpaired, both principal and interest to be payable in gold coin. The undersigned, the Erie Railroad Company, successor of the New York, Lake Erie and Western Railroad Company, lessee of the mortgaged property, hereby consents to such extension.

Dated May 15, 1913.

ERIE RAILROAD COMPANY.
By F. D. UNDERWOOD, President.

New York, May 15, 1913.

Referring to the above notice, the extension privilege applies only to the holders of such bonds who shall deposit the same with us, at our temporary office, Mills Building, No. 15 Broad Street, New York, on or before June 2, 1913.

The July 1, 1913, coupons, if presented, will be cashed at the time of such deposit.

Upon such deposit temporary receipts will be issued, exchangeable for bonds of an equal principal amount with the Extension Supplement and new coupon sheet attached, when prepared.

On July 1, 1913, or at any time prior thereto, at our office, we will buy at par and accrued interest the bonds of holders who do not desire to avail themselves of the above privilege of extension.

We are advised by George F. Brownell, Vice President and General Solicitor of the Erie Railroad Company, that in his opinion the extended bonds are and will be tax exempt in New Jersey.

TO THE HOLDERS OF THE UNION TRUST COMPANY'S RECEIPTS FOR 5% CERTIFICATES OF INDEBTEDNESS OF THE DRY DOCK, EAST BROADWAY AND BATTERY RAILROAD COMPANY AND TO CERTIFICATE HOLDERS WHO HAVE NOT YET DEPOSITED:

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, pursuant to the agreement of March 7th, 1908, have adopted a plan for the refunding of the above certificates, and have made a call upon all holders of deposit receipts of the Union Trust Company issued for such certificates, for the payment forthwith to the Trust Company of a sum equal to one per cent. of the par value of the certificates deposited. At the time of payment the certificates should be presented to the Trust Company in order that a receipt for the amount paid may be stamped thereon. This call is made in any event irrespective of the adoption or consummation of the plan.

Copies of the plan may be obtained on application to the Union Trust Company, 80 Broadway, New York City, by any holder of a deposit receipt or by any holder of a certificate who may not have deposited. Under the terms of the agreement of March 7th, 1908, all holders of deposit receipts are bound by this plan without action on their part unless more than one-third in amount of the holders shall file with the said Trust Company written notice of their dissent therefrom.

The holders of certificates who have not yet deposited are invited to secure the benefits of this refunding plan upon the same terms as those who have already deposited and paid their first assessment of one per cent. by signing the agreement and depositing their certificates with the Union Trust Company and paying to the Trust Company a sum equal to two per cent. of the par value of their certificates so deposited.

All payments must be made and certificates deposited on or before July 1st, 1913.

Dated May 16th, 1913.

CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS RAILROAD COMPANY SIX PER CENT. PREFERRED STOCK AND STOCK TRUST CERTIFICATES

To the Holders of the Above-mentioned PREFERRED STOCK TRUST CERTIFICATES AND SHARES OF PREFERRED STOCK OF CHICAGO AND EASTERN ILLINOIS RAILROAD COMPANY:

The placing of the property of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad Company and of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad Company in the hands of receivers renders it essential that you combine for the protection of your interests in the preferred stock of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad Company. For this purpose the undersigned, at the request of holders of large amounts of the above-mentioned preferred stock trust certificates and of shares of the preferred stock of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad Company, have consented to act as a committee to protect your interests in respect of said certificates and of the preferred stock of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad Company.

A protective agreement is now in course of preparation and copies thereof may be obtained from The New York Trust Company, No. 26 Broad Street, New York. You are accordingly invited to deposit your preferred stock trust certificates and shares of preferred stock of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad Company with THE NEW YORK TRUST COMPANY, which has consented to act as Depositary for the Committee. Certificates so deposited should be assigned in blank or be accompanied by properly executed transfers, and against such deposits receipts will be issued under the above-mentioned protective agreement. Application will be made in due course to list the certificates of deposit on the New York Stock Exchange.

As the interests of the preferred and common stock of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad Company may not be identical, it has been deemed advisable to appoint this Committee to represent the preferred stock trust certificates and the preferred stock of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad Company only.

W. S. CRANDELL, Secretary.

Astor Trust Company

As a Financial Secretary

this company takes care of its clients' stocks, bonds and mortgages, collects dividends and coupons, mails advice of each collection and sends a monthly statement of account. The income is subject to the owner's cheque immediately on collection.

Our monthly reports, filed in connection with the owner's cheque book, provide a continuous record of all receipts and disbursements, usually rendering personal bookkeeping unnecessary. The comparatively small cost of this service makes it available for many who do not wish to employ a private secretary.

Our officers will be glad to furnish specimens of the forms used and to explain our service in detail.

Trust receipts for guaranteed 4% preferred stock of Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis.

In view of the appointment of Receivers on May 27th for the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad Co., the undersigned Committee, representing large amounts of the above described securities, believes it expedient that the holders of these securities should unite for the common protection of their properties, and for the conservation of their mutual interests.

In regard to that part of the St. Louis & San Francisco system represented by the above-described securities, it is unquestionably a fact that they represent one of the most important divisions, if not the most important, of the entire system. The properties are operated under leases, which require the payment of interest on all outstanding bonds, and a dividend of 4% per annum upon the preferred stock of the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis Railway. The statements of earnings indicate that the earnings of this division have for years considerably exceeded the guaranteed payments, and that the leases have been and are now profitable for the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad. While it seems therefore probable that the obligations of the lease will remain undisturbed, the situation is one which makes immediate co-operation among the security-holders expedient, and the holders of any of the above-described securities are urged to make immediate deposit of the same with either the Old Colony Trust Company, 17 Court Street, Boston, or the Bankers Trust Company, 16 Wall Street, New York, Depositaries for the Committee, which depositaries will issue the usual form of Certificate of Deposit therefor. Copies of the protective agreement may be obtained from either of the depositaries, and from the members of the Committee.

IN THE BUSINESS WORLD

Saturday Closing Movement on Foot

It is reported that a movement will shortly be started here to procure all-day closing of the prominent retail stores on Saturdays between July 4 and Labor Day. It is not expected that all the big stores will be persuaded to close, but it is believed that if a sufficient number would take the lead this Summer Saturday closing would soon become a fixed custom. A recent report from Boston said that a similar proposition would be made to the principal stores of that city in the near future.

April Tobacco Taxes High.

According to Government statistics, an internal revenue tax was levied on 59,749,443 more cigars in April, 1913, than in the same month last year. The total number of cigars figuring in this tax this year was 635,746,916. The gain shown in cigarettes was still greater, there being 79,548,552 more taxed in April, 1913, than in April, 1912. There were 1,047,637,452 cigarettes taxed that month. Little cigars showed a gain of nearly 15,000,000 in numbers. Smoking tobacco gained more than 1,500,000 pounds, and snuff showed an increase of 319,433 pounds.

Drug Prices Show Upward Trend.

The local drug market recovered somewhat last week from its lack of strength of the week before, and at the close there were more prices showing advances than there were showing declines. The principal advance of the week was in lemon oil, which amounted to $3.75 a pound. A year ago at this time it was quoted at $1.45. Chicle gum, in jobbing lots, was higher at 50 cents a pound, and nitrate silver crystals advanced to 38 cents an ounce. Shellac gum, D. C., was firm and higher at 27 cents a pound. Mastic gum was lower at 59 cents a pound, while white arsenic dropped to 3⅜ cents. The chemical market was generally steady, and was productive of little that was new.

Anti-Piracy Convention Suggested.

In order to get the necessary backing for legislation detrimental to the practices of design pirates, certain members of the trade press are endeavoring to stimulate a movement toward the holding of a trade convention in this city some time in the early Fall. According to present plans, it is intended that representatives of the principal houses of the trades most affected by this evil shall congregate here for a few days, in which time they can tell of their various needs and give and listen to suggestions. It is also planned to have legal experts speak on the points involved, as well as officials or representatives of the Government Patent Office.

Apple Exports Heavy.

Exports of apples to Europe for the season just closed showed that the box movement made more headway, proportionately, than that of barrels. The total quantity of this fruit sent abroad was, according to The Fruit Trade Journal, 2,960,997 barrels, in which were included 1,453,577 boxes. Last year's exports amounted to 2,768,027 barrels. This year's shipments of box apples was nearly three times that of last year; the movement of barrel stock showed a gain of slightly less than 200,000 barrels. Compared with other seasons since 1880-81, the present year's movement of box apples broke all records.

PUBLIC NOTICES.

CITY OF NEW YORK.
BOARD OF ESTIMATE AND APPORTIONMENT.

Public notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, held May 8, 1913, the following petition was received:

To the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of the City of New York:

The Bronx Traction Company, a street surface railroad corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of New York, hereby petitions for a franchise to construct, maintain, and operate an extension of its existing railroad in the Borough of the Bronx, City of New York, with a double track in, upon, along, and over the following described route:

Beginning at and connecting with the existing tracks of the Company in Morris Park Avenue at or near its intersection with the southwesterly side of Bronxdale Avenue, (formerly Bear Swamp Road,) thence northeasterly across said Bronxdale Avenue to the intersection of the northeasterly side thereof with a new road on private property to be known as Morris Park Avenue and to be ceded to the City of New York as a public street, and thence northeasterly upon and along the said new road to its intersection with Williamsbridge Road.

Dated New York, May 5th, 1913.

THE BRONX TRACTION COMPANY,
By EDWARD A. MAHER,
[Corporate Seal.] Vice President.
Attest: FREDERIC J. FULLER, Secretary.

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

EDWARD A. MAHER, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the Vice President of The Bronx Traction Company, the petitioner herein, that he has read the foregoing petition and knows the contents thereof, and that the same is true of his own knowledge.

EDWARD A. MAHER.

Sworn to before me this 5th day of May, 1913.

JAS. S. WILLIAMS,
New York County.

Whereas, The foregoing petition from The Bronx Traction Company, dated May 5, 1913, was presented to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment at a meeting held May 8, 1913.

Resolved, That in pursuance of law this board sets Thursday, the fifth day of June, 1913, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon, and Room 16 in the City Hall, Borough of Manhattan, as the time and place when and where such petition shall be first considered, and a public hearing be had thereon, at which citizens shall be entitled to appear and be heard; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary is directed to cause such petition and these resolutions to be published for at least fourteen (14) days in two daily newspapers in the City of New York, to be designated by the Mayor, and for at least ten (10) days in the "City Record" immediately prior to such date of public hearing. The expense of such publication to be borne by the petitioner.

(The Herald and THE TIMES designated.)

LEGAL NOTICES.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT for the Southern District of New York.—GUARANTY TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, as Trustee under the Mortgage dated April 1, 1909, and the Supplemental Mortgage dated July 1, 1909, made by Fifth Avenue Investing & Improvement Company to The Standard Trust Company of New York, as Trustee, Complainant, against FIFTH AVENUE INVESTING & IMPROVEMENT COMPANY; IMPROVED PROPERTY HOLDING COMPANY OF NEW YORK; EMPIRE TRUST COMPANY, as Trustee under the Mortgage made by Improved Property Holding Company of New York, Fifth Avenue Investing & Improvement Company and Merchants Exchange Building Company, dated May 24, 1909; NEW YORK TRUST COMPANY, as Trustee under the Mortgage made by Improved Property Holding Company of New York, dated October 1, 1911; ALWYN BALL, JR., SILAS W. HOWLAND, as Receiver of Improved Property Holding Company of New York; T. SHERWOOD BOYD, JULIUS COHN, and MAX COHN, Defendants.—In Equity.—Docke 9-282.

Pursuant to a decree of foreclosure and sale made in the above-entitled cause by the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, dated May 9, 1913, and filed in the office of the Clerk of said Court on May 10, 1913, the undersigned, as Special Master appointed by said decree, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at Nos. 303 and 305 Fifth Avenue, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on June 10, 1913, at half past ten o'clock in the forenoon, in conformity with the directions in that behalf more particularly set forth in said decree, all right, title, interest, leases, contracts, privileges, property and right or equity of redemption of the defendant Fifth Avenue Investing and Improvement Company and all right or equity of redemption of the defendants in this cause, or any of them, and of all persons claiming by, through or under them, or any of them, in and to

ALL that certain plot, piece or parcel of land, with the buildings and improvements thereon erected, situate, lying and being in the Borough of Manhattan of the City of New York, in the County and State of New York, bounded and described as follows: BEGINNING at the corner formed by the intersection of the northerly side of 31st Street with the easterly side of Fifth Avenue; running thence easterly along the northerly side of 31st Street one hundred and fifty (150) feet; thence northerly parallel with Fifth Avenue, fifty-six (56) feet nine (9) inches; thence westerly parallel with 31st Street and part of the distance through a party wall one hundred and fifty (150) feet to the easterly side of Fifth Avenue, and thence southerly along the easterly side of Fifth Avenue, fifty-six (56) feet nine (9) inches to the point or place of beginning; AND ALSO ALL buildings and improvements erected on said premises and all fixtures and equipment appurtenant thereto; TOGETHER with all and singular the rents, incomes and profits thereof, and the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging, subject to covenants and restrictions in deed recorded in Liber 537 of Conveyances, Page 431, and also to restrictions contained in deed recorded in Liber 607 of Conveyances, Page 390, also to restrictions contained in deed recorded in Liber 632 of Conveyances, Page 373, as far as any of such restrictions remain effective; subject also to a certain agreement made by Improved Property Holding Company of New York with American Real Estate Company, dated April 26, 1912, recorded in the office of the Register of the County of New York in Section 3, Liber 178 of Conveyances, Page 26; subject also to the mortgage made by Fifth Avenue Thirty-first Street Company to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, dated January 11, 1909, and the indebtedness thereby secured, namely, $1,300,000 with interest accrued and unpaid thereon to the date of sale; subject also to the mortgage made by Fifth Avenue Thirty-first Street Company to the City Investing Company, dated May 27, 1907, and the indebtedness thereby secured, namely, $150,000 with interest accrued and unpaid thereon to the date of sale; subject also to any and all leases existing in favor of any person or persons, corporation or corporations not parties to said cause and to any and all leases or liens prior to the lien of the mortgage made by Fifth Avenue Investing & Improvement Company to The Standard Trust Company of New York, as Trustee, dated April 1, 1909, and the mortgage supplemental thereto, dated July 1, 1909, and to all valid taxes, assessments and public charges against the mortgaged premises unpaid at the date of sale.

The Special Master will receive no bid for any one offering to bid who, prior to said sale, shall not have deposited with him or delivered to him, as a pledge that such bidder will make good his bid in the event of its acceptance, in money, or certified check therefor on some bank or trust company in the City of New York approved by him, the sum of $10,000, or $20,000 in face amount of the bonds issued under and secured by the mortgage of Fifth Avenue Investing & Improvement Company to The Standard Trust Company of New York, as Trustee, dated April 1, 1909. The deposit made by any unsuccessful bidder will be returned to him when the property shall have been struck off. The deposit made by the successful bidder will be applied on account of the purchase price of the property, and, on the provisional acceptance of any bid, the purchaser will be required forthwith to pay or deliver to the Special Master such further amount in money or certified check or bonds as aforesaid as will make the total amount deposited by such purchaser in cash or checks equal to ten per cent. of the amount of such bid, or in face amount of said bonds equal to twenty per cent. of such bid.

The Special Master will make only a provisional acceptance of a bid, and will report the same to the court with all convenient speed. If the sale shall not be confirmed by the court, such deposit will be returned to the bidder. The purchaser, on the confirmation of the sale by the court, will be required to make such payment or payments in cash on account of the purchase price as the court may, at the time of the confirmation of such sale, or from time to time thereafter direct, and within thirty days after such confirmation shall pay the entire balance of the purchase price so bid. Current taxes, water rates, insurance, interest on prior mortgages, and rentals will be apportioned between the receiver appointed in said cause and the purchaser as of the date of the delivery of the deed, and credits will be allowed to, or debits charged against, the purchaser on his bid accordingly. The purchaser may satisfy and make good the balance of his bid above the amount required to be paid in cash by the terms of said decree or by any decree or order of the court hereafter entered in said cause, by delivering to the Special Master bonds issued under and secured by said mortgage made by the Fifth Avenue Investing & Improvement Company to The Standard Trust Company of New York, as Trustee, with all unpaid coupons for interest thereto belonging, including any of said bonds delivered by the purchaser to the Special Master at said sale, and such bonds will be received at such price or value as will be equivalent to the sum which would be distributable on said bonds out of the net proceeds of said sale if the whole purchase price were paid in cash. Any bidder or purchaser, in lieu of the actual delivery of bonds to the Special Master, either for the purpose of qualifying as a bidder, or on account of the purchase price, may deliver to the Special Master a certificate or certificates of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York that it holds said bonds to the amounts aforesaid, subject to the order of the Special Master. In case any bidder shall fail to make good his bid on its acceptance by the Special Master, or shall fail, after such acceptance, to comply with any order of the court relating to the payment of the purchase price, then the money or bonds deposited by such purchaser will be forfeited as a penalty for such failure and will be applied to the payment of the expenses of the resale and toward making good any deficiency or loss in case the property purchased by him shall be sold at a less price on such resale, or will be applied to the payment of any deficiency remaining on account of the amount adjudged by said decree to be due and payable by the defendant Fifth Avenue Investing & Improvement Company to the complainant as trustee, in the event that the sum realized on any resale had under the terms of said decree shall not pay in full the amount therein adjudged to be due and payable, together with all costs and expenses of this suit, and the court has reserved full jurisdiction to enter any order, judgment or decree necessary to enforce the provisions of said decree against any such defaulting purchaser or purchasers. The court, on the coming in of the Special Master's report of sale, may reject any bid and retake and resell the property purchased if the court shall deem such bid inadequate, or upon the failure of any bidder, the provisional acceptance of whose bid by the Special Master shall have been confirmed and ratified by the court, to comply with the terms of sale or with any order of the court regarding payment of the purchase price.

For a more detailed statement of the terms and conditions of the sale reference is hereby made to said decree dated May 9, 1913, on file in the office of the Clerk of the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, in the Post Office Building, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, copies of which may be obtained at the office of Guthrie, Bangs & Van Sinderen, the Solicitors for the complainant, 44 Wall Street, New York City.

Dated New York, May 12, 1913.

SAMUEL PARK, Special Master.

CITY BANK SAYS M'ADOO WAS UNFAIR

Feels Injustice Has Been Done It in Secretary's Comment on Its Washington Employe.

GOT NO INSIDE INFORMATION

Its Representative an Authority Who Reported Statistics Compiled for Banks by the Controller.

On the ground that Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo's recent charge that the National City Bank had been maintaining an employe in the Controller's office at Washington in an irregular and improper manner furnishes a demonstration that industrial and financial institutions of this country must abandon their old policy of remaining silent under unjust assaults, the National City Bank is to-day making public a full explanation of the situation which brought forth the Secretary's expression of disapproval.

The bank calls Mr. McAdoo's account of the incident "in its purport misleading and in its effect unjust," while crediting him with having acted in good faith in publishing it. It is held that if the Secretary had personally investigated the matter "it is inconceivable that he could have made this wholly gratuitous attack upon one of the leading banks of the country." The bank's explanation follows:

"The office of the Controller of the Currency is not, like that of the Secret Service, a place of secrecy. It is primarily a great and efficient bureau of publicity. Next to its supervisory work one of its chief purposes is to give to the public the current operations and condition of the National banks. For many years this information has been placed at the disposal of any who sought it, and many banks obtained this information through resident agents in Washington.

"For this and other purposes made necessary by law the National City Bank has for many years maintained a bureau in Washington. At its head is a man who is a recognized authority on all matters pertaining to Government finance, and his honorable record for more than twenty-five years in Washington has won for him a reputation which fortunately is beyond destruction by unfair accusation. A representative of this bureau has for many years, pursuant to a statutory duty, visited the Controller's office to represent this bank in counting and examining the redeemed National bank notes presented for redemption.

"The presence of this representative in the Controller's office is not even a voluntary act on the part of this bank. He is there by the mandate of a statute. Section 5,184 of the Revised Statutes requires that both the bank which presents mutilated notes for redemption and the Treasury Department shall have representatives to count and destroy the notes thus redeemed.

"The statistical information with reference to the surplus, deposits, and loans of National banks, of which our representative, as the representative of any other bank, availed himself is in no sense confidential, or 'inside information,' for again under the positive mandate of the law these reports have been printed in the localities of the various banks in the public press days before they reach the Controller's office. Under this statute these reports are designedly public property and since the beginning of the National banking system they have been open to the inspection of any one, whether that person was the representative of a bank, commercial agency, newspaper, or other agency of publicity. Of course, these reports contain only the aggregate statistical information and do not set forth the private relations of a bank with its customers.

"This bank, for its own use and information and that of its many correspondents, has for many years kept a card index showing from time to time the aggregate surplus, deposits, loans, and overdrafts of all National banks. Originally this was obtained in more or less incomplete form by securing the information directly from individual banks. This method was not wholly satisfactory, and as the compilation of these aggregates was of great use to the banks of the country and the public generally, the Controller of the Currency has for many years provided facilities which enabled our representative, as well as others who cared to incur the expense, to obtain this statistical information for prompt and accurate compilation. This was done with the knowledge of every one connected with the office of the Controller, with his full permission and approval, and without the least effort at concealment. No regular desk was ever assigned to our representative, who was simply permitted, as a matter of common courtesy, to use temporarily any vacant desk during the brief periods, of say ten days or two weeks, after each of the five calls made in a year, and the same courtesy was, or would have been, freely extended to any one else who desired it.

"When has it ever been regarded as an offense against either law or morals for any legislative, judicial, or executive department to afford facilities to the student of public records? It has been the custom of the departments to make such data available, and in the Treasury to encourage the use of this particular material which is designed by law not to be confidential in character.

"The Congress of the United States has its press gallery and affords unlimited opportunity for research and compilation work. Every executive department has made it a practice to furnish similar facilities to students or to the agencies of publicity, the White House itself and even our highest tribunal, the Supreme Court, unequaled in its dignity and fine sense of decorum, assigns desks for the use of the representatives of press associations immediately under the bench, in order that the decisions can be quickly transcribed for public information. In some of the departments full conveniences are maintained for the use of attorneys whose clients have business dealings with the Government. Our correspondent banks which in turn had access to this information number more than 2,000.

"The occasional use of a desk by our representative is the sole basis for the charge, which, coming from such high authority as the Secretary of the Treasury, was calculated to still further inflame the minds of those who have been wrongly led to believe that undue preference was given by the Treasury Department to the National City Bank.

"The information secured from public records was at all times available for the use of banks throughout the country, and was availed of by many; any bank making inquiry along these lines promptly received the desired information.

"Under ordinary circumstances, the National City Bank would refuse to concern itself with such an attack. The long and honorable career of this bank in its operations of more than 100 years should be in itself a complete refutation, but this statement we feel is imperatively demanded by that self-respect which an institution can have as well as an individual."

PLANS TO AID FARMERS.

New Government Organization Service Starts Operation To-day.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The "rural organization service," a new branch of the Department of Agriculture, which includes a division of markets as one of its principal activities, will begin actual operation to-morrow with the arrival of Dr. Thomas N. Carver of Harvard University, selected some time ago to head the service.

The department announced to-day that there would be surveys to get at the basic facts regarding the failure or success of various kinds of organized rural agencies already tried, and investigations to discover the reasons for isting rural conditions. Then certain ritory will be selected to experiment schemes designed to improve the er's financial, physical, and social ion.

LATEST CUSTOMS RULINGS.

Protest Over Silk-Covered Hairpins Overruled—Holland & Co. Win.

The Board of United States General Appraisers has overruled a protest filed by Peirier & Lindemann regarding the duty on hairpins made of metal covered with silk. Collector Loeb assessed the pins at the rate of 50 per cent. ad valorem, under Paragraph 403, Tariff act of 1909, which provides for manufactures in chief value of silk. The importers contended for 45 per cent. under Paragraph 199, as manufactures in chief value of metal.

Lower duty was granted by the board on so-called union hollands imported by C. W. R. Holland & Co. of San Francisco. The goods were assessed by the Collector at the rate of 45 per cent. ad valorem, under Paragraph 332, Act of 1909, as manufactures of cotton. The importers held its chief value was flax, and therefore dutiable at the rate of 30 or 35 per cent. ad valorem.

The board sustained a protest by the Scruggs, Vandervoort & Barney Dry Goods Company of St. Louis, relating to untrimmed hats composed of grass and cotton sewing thread. They were assessed at the rate of 50 per cent. ad valorem under the provision in the Act of 1909 for vegetable fibre wearing apparel.

SEVEN BANKS REFUSE TREASURY DEMAND

All but National City Bank and Six Others Agree to Pay Government Deposits.

VANDERLIP GIVES REASONS

Says Such a Requirement Is Bad Banking—Deposits Withdrawn —$10,000,000 Distributed.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—All but seven of the 550 active depository National banks that held Government funds on May 1, the date of the Secretary of the Treasury's order requiring such banks to pay interest at the rate of 2 per cent. per annum on Government deposits after June 1, have accepted this new requirement, according to a Treasury statement issued to-day.

Three of the seven banks are in New York City, and one each in Connecticut, Georgia, Wyoming, and California. Secretary McAdoo has withdrawn Government deposits from these banks, and is distributing the amount thus returned to the Treasury to other banks throughout the country. In addition to the sum thus obtained $10,000,000 recently allotted to National bank depositaries has been distributed.

The three New York banks which declined to pay the 2 per cent. interest are the Chemical National Bank, the National Bank of Commerce, and the National City Bank. All three at one time were among the largest holders of Government funds. As far as can be ascertained neither the National City Bank nor the National Bank of Commerce made any explanation to the Treasury Department as to its reason for declining to continue as a National depositary under the new arrangements. The Chemical National informed Secretary McAdoo that having never paid interest on deposits at any time since the organization of its bank, eighty years ago, the Directors were not prepared to change the policy. Twenty other National bank depositaries in New York City notified the Treasury that they desired to retain the deposit and would pay the 2 per cent. interest.

The four other banks which declined are the National Bank of Commerce of New London, Conn.; the Merchants' National Bank of Savannah, Ga.; the First National Bank of Buffalo, Wyo., and the Seaboard National Bank of San Francisco, Cal.

Besides withdrawing the Government deposits from the seven banks retiring as depositaries, the Secretary has also reduced the deposits in a number of other banks, which at the close of the last Administration held amounts which seemed to be excessive or unjustified, the reductions in most cases being made against the protests of the bank, which desired to retain the funds, notwithstanding the interest charge.

Secretary McAdoo said that the allotment among the banks of the $10,000,000 of new money has been apportioned among 607 National banks in 475 cities and towns in 48 States and in the District of Columbia. The following were the principal apportionments:

| State. | Apportionment. | No. of Banks. | No. of Cities. |
|---|---|---|---|
| California | $449,000 | 15 | 12 |
| Illinois | 689,000 | 31 | 21 |
| Indiana | 474,000 | 30 | 22 |
| Maryland | 397,000 | 18 | 9 |
| Massachusetts | 515,000 | 25 | 19 |
| Missouri | 409,000 | 8 | 4 |
| New Jersey | 193,000 | 13 | 11 |
| New York | 962,000 | 27 | 17 |
| North Carolina | 328,000 | 16 | 13 |
| Ohio | 490,000 | 25 | 23 |
| Pennsylvania | 1,146,000 | 56 | 44 |
| Texas | 456,000 | 22 | 20 |
| Virginia | 397,000 | 23 | 18 |

The amount of money distributed to the six New England States was $945,000, placed in fifty-three banks in forty-two cities and towns.

The five Eastern States received $2,798,000, placed in 117 banks in eighty-three cities and towns.

The amount given to the nine Western States was $950,000, placed in seventy-two banks in sixty cities and towns, and the seven Pacific States received $1,054,500, placed in forty-two banks in thirty cities and towns.

The Secretary states that various banks in different sections of the country, in expressing their willingness to pay the interest charge, strongly commended in their communications the wisdom and fairness of the Administration's new policy in imposing the charge, although it necessarily reduced their profit.

Of the 607 banks in which the $10,000,000 fund is being deposited 174 were already Government depositaries; the remaining 433 banks are now designated for the first time as active depositaries. Some of these 433 banks, however, had been previously known as "inactive" depositaries, holding only a nominal balance.

The apportionments made were all based upon population, capital and surplus of the banks, and needs of the respective sections of the country as indicated by the Controller's reports, and the circulation status of the banks.

"I do not consider it sound banking to pay such interest," said Frank A. Vanderlip, President of the National City Bank, last night, regarding the bank's refusal to accept the Treasury's requirements. "If our customers demanded terms under such conditions the banks would have to go out of business, and then the expense of keeping such an account would be too great."

OPEN BETH DAVID HOSPITAL.

Ceremonies at New Building to be Continued All Week.

The building which has just been completed for Beth David Hospital, 113th Street and Lexington Avenue, was opened yesterday afternoon. A temporary stand had been erected in front of the building in Lexington Avenue, and 3,000 persons gathered to listen to the addresses and music. The President, Samuel Kanrich, presided. A letter of regret was read from ex-President Taft, and a note from the Secretary of President Wilson expressing the President's regret at not being able to attend.

President Kanrich gave the history of the hospital from the time of the purchase of the old Yorkville Hospital on Eighty-second Street. Dr. Abraham Jacobi, speaking for the medical profession, said that he was not enthusiastic over the idea of a ten-story hospital, and that if there was $10,000,000 to spend it would be much better to build twenty small hospitals than to put the whole $10,000,000 into one large building. He said he would like to see a chain of small hospitals, one to about every fifteen or twenty blocks, throughout the city. He thought the small hospital was better for the patient and for the doctors.

Edward Lauterbach said there were 30,000 Russian and Polish Jews who had come to America since 1882. The hospital, he said, had been built by these people themselves, and was a fitting monument. He said Mount Sinai Hospital had just as small a beginning, and predicted a great future for the Beth David Hospital.

Vice President Abraham Rosenberg made an address in Yiddish.

Samuel Zuckerman, Chairman of the House Committee, presented the key of the front door of the new building to Adolph Lewisohn, who, with a few words of congratulation and encouragement, threw the door open, and the crowd was invited to enter and inspect the building.

The new building has three stories and a basement, but the three stories reach to the height of the two four-story buildings which have been used by the hospital since last year and which join it on the south.

$850,000 TARIFF REFUNDS.

Assistant Attorney General Says Lawyers Get That Much Annually.

William L. Wemple, Assistant Attorney General of the Department of Justice, in charge of the Government's tariff litigation before the Board of United States General Appraisers and the Court of Customs Appeals, gave out yesterday a statement defending the amendments to the administrative section of the Underwood bill looking to the elimination of frivolous and unnecessary protests on the part of importers, and their brokers and attorneys. The statement is in the nature of a reply to brokers and attorneys, who are opposing the provisions in the new tariff bill calling for a deposit of $1 for each protest filed, together with the prohibition of so-called contingent fees. Mr. Wemple says that at present the Government is making customs refunds aggregating $1,700,000 a year one-half of which under the contingent fee system finds its way into the pockets of lawyers. The statement says:

> And what reason is given against the proposed amendment? Only this: That since hundreds of thousands of protests are sometimes filed upon one point, the burden upon this species of litigation will tend to diminish it. That is exactly what the advocates of the law intend shall be the result. But in accomplishing that end it is denied absolutely that any proper contract against excessive exactions will be in any way discouraged. Can anyone show any injustice in requiring persons who have occasion to resort to courts to bear a little more than the average taxpayer of the expense of maintaining those courts. It is entirely true that a financial incentive to bring protests to prompt decision will greatly decrease the extravagant and unearned profits of customs brokers and customs attorneys. That is the real complaint which the critics of the amendment are making.

Mr. Wemple goes on to say that those opposing the protest and contingent fee amendments to the administrative act, have no concern with the duties importers pay. Their interest, according to the Assistant Attorney General, is wholly in the amount which is refunded. Mr. Wemple cites an instance in which one firm of New York lawyers received $30,000 as its fee for handling a protest on a cargo of Porto Rican sugar. The service for which the firm received this fee was to file a short statement of claims in the Collector's office and then wait until the law in the case had been settled by the Supreme Court of the United States. The statement continues:

> Five or six firms in New York have most of the protest business. The Government refunds annually as the result of protests about $1,700,000, and as about 85 per cent. of the imports come through this port at least that percentage of the refunds come here.
> I understand I have been credited by some whose trade in protests is endangered by these amendments with starting the agitation. I regret that I cannot take the whole credit for the movement. Candor compels me to admit that others realized the evils of the system quite as soon as I did. It so happened, however, that I was placed where I could urge upon those able to give it a remedy for these long-standing abuses. So far no importer has appeared in opposition to the amendments I have discussed. That in itself is significant. It is not strange, however, when you remember that members of the New York bar advertise for this protest business, and in thousands of cases file protests for importers from whom they have no retainer or authority. Very many times the same payment of duties is protested upon by two or more firms of lawyers.

Mr. Wemple says the customs litigation which is stirred up by attorneys does not differ from negligence litigation which originates in the same way.

NEW CANADIAN R. R. LOAN.

Government Will Advance $15,000,000 to Grand Trunk Pacific.

Special to The New York Times.

OTTAWA, June 1.—The Dominion Government, which recently authorized heavy subsidies for the Canadian Northern Railway, has decided to assist the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway with a loan of $15,000,000, payable in ten years, at 4 per cent. The loan will be secured by Grand Trunk Pacific debentures, constituting a charge on the Winnipeg-Prince Rupert Division next after all existing charges. The old Grand Trunk system guarantees the loan as to principal and interest.

The Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk Pacific had to come to the Government because of hard money conditions in London.

WIDER SUPERVISION OF PRIVATE BANKERS

New Revision to Put Large as Well as Small Concerns Under State Regulation.

VAN TUYL ON SCOPE OF LAW

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, June 1.—The supervision of private bankers, from J. P. Morgan & Co. to the steamship agents of the east side, is one of the reforms contemplated in the act just signed by Gov. Sulzer providing for the appointment of a commission to revise the banking statutes. The Sullivan law, enacted about two years ago, established supervision of private banks by the State Controller, but gave exemption to those of sufficient resources to file bonds or deposit securities with him in a moderate amount. That legislation was intended to reach only the small fry.

One of the points most strongly emphasized by Samuel Untermyer in the investigation of the "Money Trust" was that such firms as J. P. Morgan & Co., with enormous deposits and alleged control of banks and trust companies, were subject to no supervision either by the Controller of the Currency, the State Superintendent of Banks, or the State Controller. Supt. Van Tuyl of the Banking Department commented on this situation to-day in discussing the work before the commission.

"The great firms of private bankers connected with the Stock Exchange in New York," he said, "not only receive deposits largely exceeding those received by our largest banks and trust companies, but actually control the greatest and most powerful of the State institutions and of the National banks."

"There are several great problems," said Mr. Van Tuyl, "that should be solved by this commission, one relative to the supervision of private bankers and another the protection of the general public from the depredations of fake investment companies. The great majority of the private bankers of the State are receiving the deposits of the general public while under no supervision and no restrictions whatever. Not only are poor and ignorant depositors deceived by irresponsible private bankers, but small investors with a somewhat greater knowledge of affairs are being fleeced by spurious 'investment companies' which have not been organized under the banking law and are not subject to the supervision of the Superintendent of Banks."

Must Report Next Year.

The commission, which is to consist of five or more members, appointed by the Superintendent of Banks and serving without pay, is to make a general revision of the banking laws in the State. The members will probably not be named before September; the Legislature to which they will report will be that which meets in January, 1914. Changes in the National banking law may be made at the extra session of Congress, and it is the disposition of the Banking Department to have the State law conform as nearly as may be to the Federal statutes, so the work of revision by the commission probably will await action in Washington.

In Supt. Van Tuyl's first annual report to the Legislature he called attention to the conditions which he declared made a revision of the banking law necessary. In the report submitted last January, after greater experience in the administration of the present statute, he called attention to the manner in which it had been compiled and amended from time to time, and said:

"As a result, the banking law of the State to-day is full of incongruities and ambiguities. In fact, the language used is in many instances both crude and prolix. So many of its provisions are capable of different interpretations that in order to know what the law with reference to any particular subject is it is necessary to have a comprehensive knowledge of the opinions of the Attorney General interpreting it rather than to be familiar with the law itself."

Besides the law for the appointment of the commission, three other bills were passed after receiving the indorsement of the Committee of Inquiry, and have been signed by the Governor. These, Supt. Van Tuyl said to-day, would assist in making the department's supervision more effective. They grew out of the experience of the department in connection with the Union Bank of Brooklyn.

Supt. Van Tuyl intends to detach his Second Deputy, George I. Skinner, from his office force to superintend the codification of the banking laws. Mr. Skinner has been connected with the State Banking Department for sixteen years and is considered one of the best authorities on banking law in the country. He is a lawyer.

Bankruptcy Notices

NO. 15,012.—IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF the United States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of JOSEPH B. REICHMANN, Bankrupt.

To the creditors of Joseph B. Reichmann of the City and County of New York and district aforesaid, a bankrupt:

Notice is hereby given that on the 27th day of January, A. D., 1913, the said Joseph B. Reichmann was duly adjudicated bankrupt, and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at the office of Macgrane Coxe, Referee in bankruptcy, Room No. 1,305, Woolworth Building, No. 233 Broadway, City and County of New York, on the 12th day of June, A. D. 1913, at 12 o'clock noon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

MACGRANE COXE,
May 31, 1913. Referee in Bankruptcy.

NO. 18,119.—U. S. DISTRICT COURT FOR the Southern District of New York.—MORTON BISHOP, Bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that Morton Bishop, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated May 29th, 1913, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before United States District Judges in the United States Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Monday, July 7, 1913, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

STANLEY W. DEXTER,
Referee in Bankruptcy.
New York, May 29, 1913.

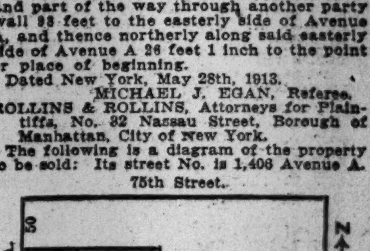
The following is a diagram of the property to be sold: Its street No. is 1,406 Avenue A.



The approximate amount of the lien or charge, to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold, is $21,147.04, with interest thereon from the 16th day of October, 1912, together with the costs and allowance amounting to $419.08, with interest from the 20th day of May 1913, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of the taxes, assessments and water rates, or other liens, which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money, or paid by the Referee, is $2,884.19 and interest.

Dated New York, May 28th, 1913.
MICHAEL J. EGAN, Referee.

SURROGATE CITATION.

LEWISOHN, ALBERT.—THE PEOPLE OF the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to Sarah Hinrichsen, Alfred Louis Bernays, Walter Bernays, and to all persons interested in the estate of Albert Lewisohn, late of the County of New York, deceased, as creditors, next of kin or otherwise, send greeting:

You and each of you are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of New York, at the Surrogates' Court of said county, held at the Hall of Records, in the County of New York, on the 27th day of June, 1913, at half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend a judicial settlement of the account of proceedings of Lillie L. Lewisohn, as administratrix of the goods, chattels, and credits of said deceased; and such of you as are hereby cited as are under the age of twenty-one years are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of the Surrogates' Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Hon. Robert Ludlow Fowler, a Surrogate of our said county, at the County of New York, the 7th day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and thirteen.

[L. S.] DANIEL J. DOWDNEY,

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—An area of low barometric pressure that has passed along the north border to the St. Lawrence Valley caused local showers and thunderstorms during the last twenty-four hours in the region of the Great Lakes, the Ohio, Upper Mississippi and Lower Missouri Valleys, and the mountain districts of the Middle Atlantic States. In all other parts of the country the weather remains generally fair.

Temperatures are somewhat lower over the Middle West and have risen considerably over the North Rocky Mountain region and the Pacific Slope. The weather continues warm in the Southern States. There will be local thundershowers Monday in the Middle Atlantic States and generally fair weather elsewhere throughout the country Monday and Tuesday.

No decided temperature changes are indicated for any part of the country during the next forty-eight hours.

Steamships departing to-day for European ports will have brisk west winds and fair weather to the Grand Banks.

FORECAST FOR TO-DAY AND TUESDAY.

Eastern New York, New Jersey, Eastern Pennsylvania, and Southern New England—Cloudy and somewhat cooler, preceded by local rains Monday. Tuesday fair; moderate to brisk southwest, shifting to northwest, winds.

| | 1912. | 1913. | | 1912. | 1913. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 3 A. M. | 57 | 63 | 4 P. M. | 79 | 75 |
| 6 A. M. | 60 | 63 | 6 P. M. | 79 | 79 |
| 9 A. M. | 70 | 71 | 9 P. M. | 74 | 70 |
| 12 M. | 75 | 74 | 11 P. M. | 70 | 67 |

This thermometer is 414 feet above the street level. The average temperature yesterday was 70; for the corresponding date last year it was 68; average on the corresponding date for the last thirty-three years, 64.

The temperature at 8 A. M. yesterday was 68; at 8 P. M. it was 73. Maximum temperature, 79 degrees at 6 P. M.; minimum, 60 degrees at 3:40 A. M. Humidity, 60 per cent. at 8 A. M.; 50 per cent at 8 P. M.

The barometer at 8 A. M. yesterday registered 30.01 inches; at 8 P. M. it stood at 29.82 inches.

CURRAN COMMITTEE SPLIT OVER WALDO

Democratic Members Firm in Refusal to Indorse Report Censuring Him.

TO MEET THIS AFTERNOON

Chairman Curran Forced by Minority to Abandon Plan to Hold Proceedings in Counsel's Office.

The Curran Committee of the Board of Aldermen will meet at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the City Hall to discuss the first part of the report drawn by its counsel, Emory R. Buckner, on the committee's investigation of vice conditions in this city. The most important feature of the report is said to be the recommendation to the Governor to remove Police Commissioner Waldo. The six Fusion Aldermen, who constitute the majority of the committee, will insist, it is asserted, on having this recommendation retained in the report. The three Democratic members, it is said, will not indorse a report attacking Waldo, and it is believed that the session this afternoon will result in a split between the two branches of the organization.

The meeting was to have been held at the office of Mr. Buckner at 32 Liberty Street. Chairman Curran of the committee announced last night that the place of meeting had been changed to suit the wishes of the minority members of the committee, who held that it would give an air of undue secrecy to the proceedings to hold them in a private office.

In the preliminary report of the Curran Committee it was said that 90 per cent. of the ills of the Police Department were due to faulty administration, and 10 per cent. to bad laws. Inasmuch as they hold that most of the trouble with the Police Department is caused by mismanagement, most of the members of the committee felt, it was said, that logic compelled them to ask for the removal of Commissioner Waldo. Alderman Frank L. Dowling, leader of the Democratic minority on the committee, said last night:

"The evidence brought before the Aldermanic committee has failed to justify a demand for the removal of the Police Commissioner, and I will not acquiesce in any report against him. I have not consulted with the other two Democratic members of the committee, and do not know how they feel about it."

In addition to holding the Police Commissioner responsible for nearly all that is wrong with the police the report of the Curran Committee makes a specific charge of improper conduct against him in connection with the removal of Lieut. John Stanton, it is said. Stanton was dismissed from the force after giving testimony adverse to Waldo before the Curran Committee. It was charged that, when he conducted the bureau which investigated the character of applicants for the force, he solicited a bribe to make a favorable report in the case of Detective Oliver.

CHAPLAIN DEFENDS POLICE.

Father Sullivan Decries Lack of Faith in the Force.

So large of late has loomed the question of dishonor within the ranks of the police force that it overshadowed even the memorial service held yesterday afternoon in St. Patrick's Cathedral, the annual observance of the death roll of the bluecoats, some of whom died splendidly. A large part of the sermon by Father Sullivan, the Police Chaplain, was devoted to a stout defense of the force, an excoriation of its critics, and a reproach to the citizens of New York for their condemnation of the "noble fellows for the faults of the few."

Sitting in the first pew, Commissioner Waldo heard himself described from the pulpit as a true soldier, "a leader among men," and all this within twenty-four hours of the meeting of the Aldermanic committee that is to determine if his immediate removal shall be recommended.

Fully 4,000 members of the force went to the Cathedral for the services, preceded by the police band. Inspector Schmittberger led the way, followed by the file of Inspectors. All the Deputy Commissioners were there, and Mr. Waldo walked up the aisle under escort of his Chief Inspector and Father Sullivan.

After the vesper services Mgr. Lavelle, rector of the Cathedral, spoke the words of welcome, a general laudation of the force that evaded all the more difficult questions raised in the turmoil of the last few months. Father Sullivan was different. He went straight to the question, leading up to it by a description of the trials and tribulations of the persecuted Messiah.

"You will have your trials and tribulations," he said. "He had His Good Friday, but He also had His Easter Sunday. We, too, have our dark days of persecution and trouble, but the sun will shine again and the glory thereof will revive us.

"Look at the 7,200 men that marched bravery of our police force during the past year! Four weeks ago last night two of our brave fellows, one on fixed post and the other patrolling his beat, hear a pistol shot. Without a moment's hesitation they rush to the scene, and, although his shining revolver flashes in their face, they make an effort to catch the murderer, and one after the other is mowed down—thus did brave Heaney and Teare give up their lives at the call of duty.

"Take, too, the others who died in the discharge of their duty: Fitzsimmons and Burns. Take the acts of Thornton, Fay, McMillen, Lawlor, and Sheehan; look at the members of the Honor Legion who led the procession, men, all marked for their bravery, who risked their lives for others.

"You have passed through a stormy year," he said. "You have been criticised, plotted against, and lied about, but you have done your duty well, very well, lived up to your oath of office, and given our city its best protection against an almost unheard of wave of crime, and when the clouds pass away, our citizens will realize your true worth and give the credit which is the right of heroes."

POISONED PEN NOTES USUAL IN ELIZABETH

Since Mrs. Pollard's Arrest It Develops Many Society Women Have Been Attacked by Mail.

ALL LETTERS OF ONE TENOR

Mrs. Jones Won't Make Hers Public Because It Is Said to Involve Others Socially Prominent.

Special to The New York Times.

ELIZABETH, N. J., June 1.—Further publicity of the "Poisoned Pen" letter case, in which Mrs. Charles F. Jones of 110 Madison Avenue, wife of a leading dentist here, brought charges against Mrs. Nelson L. Pollard of 114 Jefferson Avenue yesterday afternoon, is being discouraged by those directly involved. Abe J. David, who has been engaged as counsel by Mrs. Jones, was like his client silent, and Thomas Carey, the constable, who is said to have assisted in working up the evidence and who served the warrant on Mrs. Pollard yesterday, would say nothing.

Mrs. Jones will not reveal the contents of the letters, not only to save herself trouble, but to prevent other women prominent socially in Elizabeth from becoming involved. It is known positively that besides Mrs. Jones at least a dozen women of the social life of the city have received scurrilous missives.

The arrest of Mrs. Pollard, who is about 40 years old and the mother of two children, came as the result of weeks of work on the part of a detective agency. Mrs. Jones long suspected Mrs. Pollard, whose social position, it is said, made it difficult for the detective to gather sufficient evidence to cause her arrest.

Mrs. Pollard's husband holds a responsible position with the Public Service Corporation in Newark. The Pollards own considerable property here, and when Mrs. Pollard was arraigned before Judge Owen P. Mahon yesterday, she pledged property valued at $7,000 for her appearance at a hearing in the police court on June 9. Mrs. Pollard denied her guilt and was held in $5,000 bail. It is expected that at the hearing she will waive examination and that the case will go to the October Grand Jury for investigation.

Dinner à Prix Fixé

That delightful little dinner for two or more. Better than the table d'hote because it affords a wider choice of foods, each dish being especially prepared for your party, and served without delay. Better than the a la carte because you may fix the price to suit yourself.

Leave the selection to us or include your favorite dishes from among our specialties. Phone or arrange with the head waiter on your arrival.

The Hungarian Band and the Cabaret continue to give their unique entertainment, imparting an "Atmosphere of Two Continents."
